Haggerty, according to Deputy United States Attorney Hall E. Lusk, is now held at Kansas City.

Four Autos Indicted.

ASKA FLIGHT IS ENDED

FOUR ARMY PLANES FINISH
9000-MILE VOYAGE.

General Pershing Is Among High
Military Officers Who Welcome
Aviators at Bolling Field.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The four army planes that made the flight to Alaska and back, here, completing a 9000-mile trip since July 15, General Pershing and General March, accompanied by other high military officers, were met at Bolling field, where they arrived under escort of 75 airplanes and the dirigible, Zedone, which accompanied them on the last few miles from Mincola, N. Y.

General Mencher, chief of the air service, was one of the military officers who met the returning flyers. Captain Street and the other members of the Alaskan expedition were presented with certificates of appreciation. They were entertained informally at the Army and Navy club later by General Mencher and his officers.

JENKINS TAKES AIR TRIP
Police Chief Says Plane Doesn't Offer Many Thrills.

"No traffic violations discovered," reported Police Chief Jenkins after an afternoon inspection of the city yesterday, but this time the chief did not indulge in tall spins or fancy capers.

The real sensation of speed came, however, said Chief Jenkins, when the plane darted low down toward the buildings and followed the course of the Union road. Even the spectators on the pavement seemed to be standing still, while the plane flying low over trees and houses seemed to be tearing through the air at a terrific rate.

Chief Jenkins was invited to make the trip as a demonstration of the future possibilities of airplanes in city fire and police work, according to Victor Vernon, manager of the Oregon, Washington and Idaho Airplane company, who conducted the trip.

TRADE SERVICE INDORSED
Chamber of Commerce Favors Commercial Attache at Shanghai.

The managing board of the foreign trade department of the Chamber of Commerce has endorsed a movement for the establishment of a branch of-the commercial attache service in Shanghai, China.

This action was taken after the attention of the Chamber of Commerce had been called to the need by firms engaged in the China trade.
The American chamber of commerce of China at Shanghai has advised that because of the distance between that important commercial port and Pekin, with slow mail connections, delay is occasioned in obtaining information from the commercial attache service office at Pekin.
The managing board of the foreign trade department expressed the belief that in view of the fact that the British government maintains the head office of its commercial attache service at Shanghai, it would appear that the interests of American business in China must be greatly benefited by having a branch office of the American service located there with a competent man in charge.

BOY, 11, KILLED AT PLAY

PETER KUHN, PLAYING TAG, CRUSHED UNDER TRUCK.

Driver Exonerated: Lad Runs in Path of Vehicle at Albina Homestead School.

Peter Kuhn, aged 11, a student of the Albina Homestead public school, was almost instantly killed at 10:40 o'clock yesterday morning when he was struck down by an automobile owned by the Portland school district and driven by Dan Shays. The fatal accident occurred on Mallory street, in front of the school, just as the pupils were being called back to the classroom from the morning recess. The truck driver was exonerated after an investigation by Traffic Captain Lewis and Deputy Coroner Goetz.

The Kuhn boy had been playing tag with his classmates, and as the line was forming for the children to march back into the building, the truck driver, who was passing over the school grounds, saw the boy in the path of the vehicle and tried to stop. He was dead before medical assistance could be given.

The truck driver was held temporarily until the investigation was completed, but later was released. Witnesses said the truck was not traveling more than 10 miles an hour, and the boy had dashed from the sidewalk directly in front of the moving vehicle before the driver had any warning.

The victim of the accident was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kuhn, 848 East Eighth street North. The body was removed to the morgue pending an autopsy to determine whether or not an inquest will be held.

MOVIE RECEIVER NAMED

BUTTE PICTURE PLAY THEATRE IN TROUBLE.

Counsel for Jensen & Von Herberg
Part Owners of Property.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 21.—Following hearing of the case of two stockholders against the Butte Picture Play Theatre, the court named a receiver for the property. Judge Jackson of the district court today announced the appointment of George D. Lounsbury as receiver. Lounsbury is a senior member of a local brokerage firm.

Counsel for Jensen & Von Herberg filed notice of appeal to the supreme court from the order granting application for receivership. The plaintiffs alleged during the hearing that Jensen & Von Herberg, as managers of the theatre, were conducting the business in a manner detrimental to the interests of the other owners. Jensen & Von Herberg own a string of theatres in Butte and these theatres, including the Rialto, are involved in a boycott declared by union musicians and other picture operators. This boycott grew out of a controversy between the unions and a Tacoma theater in which the defendants had an interest.

REPRIEVE PLAN DEFEATED

Labor Council Tables Motion on Taylor Murderers.

A written request from F. C. Pyle, Lents station, for the support of the Central Labor Council in seeking a 90-day reprieve for the murderers of Taylor, was tabled after a hot discussion in Central Labor council last night. Pyle sought, in his letter, to obtain the support of the council on the argument that the action of the murderers was unpredetermined and that the council favored letting the law take its course. An amendment to lay the matter on the table was adopted and several speakers took a strong stand against affirming the sentence passed on the murderers.

Reports from the building committee on the fund for the erection of the labor temple at Fourth and Jefferson showed an immediate need of more money if the work is to be continued. Efforts of W. C. Aylsworth and J. E. Metcalf to reopen investigation by the council of alleged influencing of grand jurors by the district attorney and members of the original committee, who declared no grounds for the charge existed on the first investigation.

FOE TO TAXIS HELD FOE TO CITY SAFE

Mayorality Candidate Is Attacked by Council.

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

No Names Mentioned, but Herbert
Gordon Is Believed to Be Object of Charges of Commissioners.

A candidate who comes out against the 3-mill tax measure is placing his own political aspirations above the safety and welfare of the city, said the city council in a statement issued yesterday and signed by all the members. The statement was issued as a result of the announcement of a candidate for mayor that the 3-mill tax as voted a year ago to cover increased expenses this year should not be voted again for 1921.

The statement mentions no names, but is said to be aimed at Herbert Gordon, who made an anti-3-mill announcement several days ago. The council, in its statement, says that the candidate in making such a statement is demonstrating complete unfamiliarity with the city's financial requirements.

The statement in full is as follows: "We, the commissioners of the city of Portland, who are charged with the responsibility of maintaining an adequate service in the various departments operated by the city, wish to take exception to a statement issued by a candidate for mayor in which he says the 3-mill special tax which was allowed by the voters for the present year to enable the city to meet the increases in the cost of all things entering into city service should not be again voted for next year."

Protection to City Sought.
"Our basis for making this statement is that of protecting the city against misrepresentation of facts by persons whom many may believe are in a position to know whereof they speak. This candidate in making the statement he does demonstrates conclusively that he is not familiar with either the facts or the figures. To make the 3-mill tax measure a political issue is wrong, because this issue involves more than personal aspirations. It involves the safety and welfare of the city and of its people."

"The imperative need of the three-mill tax for next year has been seen and the measure is endorsed and backed by every newspaper in Portland; by the Portland Clearing House, representing all the banking institutions; by business institutions, and by the civic clubs of the city and by every person who has gone into the subject either deeply or casually. There can be absolutely no doubt of the need of this measure for Portland to be placed next year in a perilous position."

Tax Maintenance Service.
The three-mill tax represents nearly one-third of all the service the city now has. To eliminate the three mill means to eliminate therefore nearly one-third of all present service. There is absolutely no other way out and no other way can be devised by the council regardless of its personnel. The increased cost of city service now is not due to an increase in the cost of the service, but to the fact that in the past year there has been an increase in size at all. It is due to the fact that the city has had to use in giving service. Who will say that men will or can work now for what they did in 1918? Or who will say that material can be purchased now for the same as in 1918? These are elements beyond the control of the council or the city or any individual, regardless of his business or other ability and any statement to the contrary is absolute misrepresentation.

"The council has the responsibility of giving the service required by the people. It naturally is our endeavor to hold the tax levy to the lowest possible point because that bespeaks efficiency and good management of our part. It would bespeak the opposite for us to sit idly by and allow the city to be mismanaged. The statement of a person or persons that the problem is a false alarm. Matters of vital importance to the welfare of the public are too often jeopardized in such a manner."

Tax Civic Problem.
"The 3-mill tax is a civic problem and not a political one. It is the duty of the public to consider it in that light. Persons may promise the impossible for political gain, but the voters are still to be faced. The problem that will confront the city council is a 3-mill measure falls will be nothing more or less than that of making an arbitrary and unwarranted reduction in the service of the city, already inadequate city service. There will be no other way out, promises and statements notwithstanding."

"GEORGE L. BAKER.
Mayor and Commissioner of the City of Portland.
"CHARLES A. BIGELOW,
Commissioner of Public Affairs.
"JOHN M. MANN,
Commissioner of Public Works."

WAR COSTLY FOR STATE

Each Person Pays $50. Figures
Quoted in Debate.

The people of Oregon are paying more than $50 per capita for their share in the war with Germany, according to figures quoted yesterday by H. P. Irvine in debate with H. P. Mulkey at the Portland Press club luncheon. Mr. Irvine presented this as one of his arguments for trying to do away with war by means of the league of nations.

Mr. Mulkey, in upholding republican contentions, pointed out three flaws in the league and said in his opinion "War had refused to make suggested changes because of 'his professional pride in the wording of the document.'"

The declaration of independence was amended until its author, Thomas Jefferson, was red in the face, but it was not hurt," he said.
Mr. Mulkey summed up his objections as resting with articles 1, 10 and 13, fixing the boundaries of the earth, or as he said, "putting a straight jacket on the world," describing the way in which a nation could withdraw from the league and being too difficult to apply to our own problems of territorial aggression.

POWER HOUSE HAS FIRE

Estacada Plunged Into Darkness for Few Minutes.

Estacada was plunged into darkness for a few minutes Wednesday night at 9:15, when the power-house at Cazadero burned, causing a loss of about $6000. The fire started from a number of causes, the principal one being the burning of the coils of one of the generators. Cazadero is about 60 miles east of Portland at the end of the Oregon Water Power railway. Two generators were burned and the principal damage was to these and to the switchgear. Part of the power-house was burned also. A crew from Portland had the switchgear in shape by 1:15 yesterday afternoon.

Congressman Hawley made a wonderful talk at a meeting here on the 18th. We are carrying on the campaign largely through local men and have speakers out every night in the week. ## KNIGHTS' BAZAAR OPEN

New Building Being Informally
Visited by Friends.

Friends of members of Portland council, Knights of Columbus, are taking advantage of the grand bazaar, inaugurated last night in the club house. The bazaar is being held in the new building which has not yet been formally opened to the public. Some of the building yesterday afternoon, before the bazaar opened, in order to better see the building and the grounds. The building is a fine structure and the grounds are well kept. Last night the clubhouse was crowded.

Chairman Donlon of the entertainment feature, "Pioneer Days in Oregon," pleaded the guests last night with the array of talent he had provided for the evening. There were real enough, in appearance, games of chance, a "bar" that had original bottles, but no "hard" contests there was the brass rail, anyway.

A sheep skin on your back?

Are you willing to walk down Broadway with a sheep's pelt thrown around you? Sheep's wool is without value in its raw state. It must be converted—transformed into something wearable; it must be given style, fit and character. Even after wool is woven into cloth it is not yet a suit of clothes. It takes thread, lining, silk, buttons, trimming and dozens of other things. And, in addition to that, it takes LABOR—human energy. It takes more than that—it takes genius and imagination—the ability to create, design and assemble.

Do you know that sheep's wool is clothing for sheep and NOT for men?

Yes, cheap clothes will be cheaper, but who wants cheap clothes? Might as well wear the sheep's pelt and be consistent if you are looking for cheap clothing.

Wear Good Clothes

If you want clothes with fit, style and character, and get them even below the prices of the "clearance sale stocks" now being offered by the high-rent clothiers—then there is only one thing for you to do—
