PLOTS ENMESH ILL KING

Grim Struggle Is Going on for Succession to Throne. ROME, Oct. 24 .- (Special Cable.)-Intrigues and conflicts thicken round the sickbed of Greece's king for the crown which he has not left yet, though the threads of his life grow thinner as the poison holds his sys-tem. While his condition is scientif-ically hopeless, his fight for life is hardly grimmer than the struggles of the remainder of the royal family for succession to the throne.

Republicans' influence with the government and the country is waning. Opinion that Greece is unfit yet for a republic gains ground. But while Prince Andrew, uncle of the king, is restlessly pacing a room in the Roman hotel, where he is kept by Venizelos' thoughtful care in the matter of passports, two more candidates in the numerous royal family are pushing their claims in Athens with all the force possible from distant exile. Both are ex-King Constantine's sons. One, Prince George,

"The plan is to canvass for pledges only those who have failed, probably through misunderstanding, to carry through the pledges they made a year ago," said Rev. Thomas Jenkins, rector "and at the same time canvass for pledges those who were missed in the hurry of the campaign is national in its scope and will include some of the great eastern dioceses which failed through lack of preparation to make any campaign a year ago.

The nation-wide campaign is the title of the great forward movement of the Episcopal church and will end in a final canvass for those who will pledge themselves to take up active work in the church, either as missionaries, educators, social workers or other lines.

Mr. Smith stated that they had circulated thousands of the dodgers yesterday and judging from the number seen on the streets as playful winds toyed with them his statement was correct. Louis Cohen, one of the lads who handed the pamphiets to the congregation of the First Presbyterian church, stated that they received 50 cents for their day's labor and after the church services were over he had an armful of the sheets left which he placed in security behind the bill-board in the rear of the Baker theater.

"Finances are all that are holding us now," said Mr. Smith last night." We have used all the circulars we have on hand, but hope to be able to print thousands more this week."

John W. Miller Declares Timber Workers of All Political Faith See Hope in Harding.

"One of the unusual features of Miller, lumberman, at the Imperial hotel yesterday, "is the interest workers in the logging camps and at the sawmills are taking in the election. It is unprecedented in my ex-Miller, lumberman, at the Imperial hotel yesterday, "is the interest the sawmills are taking in the elecdown the line for Harding for president, Stanfield for United States sen ator and the whole republican ticket. but are getting out and working for the republican sucesss.

"This applies to men of all political faiths, democrats, socialists and the rest of them. The fact seems to have come home in the past two or three weeks that if present high wages are to prevail in the lumber industry. Oregon lumber must be protected by tariff from ruinous competit Canadian lumber and shingles.

Tariff Blamed for "Dumping."

"A lot has been said about the umping into this country made pos-'dumping' into this country made possible by the democratic Underwood tariff law of wool and hides from Australia, meat from South America, eggs from China, butter from New Zealand and wheat from Canada. But I have not seen emphasis placed on the similar 'dumping' of lumber and shingles from Canada, which is just as serious a danger to the people of Oregon. In fact, lumber is this state's greatest single industry and whatever the lumber industry is plached. ever the lumber industry is pinched, the northwestern territory feels it.

"To the lumber industry, and this includes lumberjacks in the woods and mill hands in towns as well as men who own the timber and the mills, a protective tariff on lumber and its by-products is an absolute necessity. One cause for the slump in humber now is the competition from lumber now is the competition fro British Columbia markets. The north-west simply must have a protective tariff for its lumber. "For salvation we can look only to the republicans, for the democra-tic policy now, as it always has been, ig no protection for American prod-ucts—except in the solid south. No

SCARCITY OF TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT

As new subscribers a number of individuals have recently placed orders with us for telephones. Old subscribers have asked for service at new locations. They have been told by our representatives that immediate compliance with their desires was impossible owing to lack of "telephone facilities" in a particular locality. "Why," one will say, "The poles and wires are on the street and the house is already wired."

We wish that the problem were as simple as it sounds. There may be poles and wires, but every wire may be in use in giving service to others. There may be a cable, but every circuit in it may be assigned to telephones already installed. There may be spare wires and circuits but no switchboard apparatus at the central office to which they can be connected. There may even be sections of switchboard but not available for operation on account of the lack of necessary accessories such as ringing keys, relays, etc.

The reason for the shortage of telephone equipment is simple. During the war period we were unable to maintain our reserve or stock plant as the same materials we use were required and taken for Government purposes and for industries properly favored by the Government. Since the war, with the unexpect-edly prolonged problems of reconstruction, production and delivery of materials needed to meet even current demands have been delayed. Every business concern is having similar experiences. The manufacturers of telephone equipment have been bending every effort to fill our orders, but they in turn are meeting the same difficulties in securing rubber, paper, silk, glass, porcelain, tin, thread, shellac, metal parts and other articles not generally associated in the public mind with telephone service.

At the same time with this abnormal situation with reference to materials there exists an unprecedented demand for telephone service, and even under these circumstances our record is one of fulfillment of demand. In the first eight months of this year we have added 6863 telephones in the State of Oregon. In the eight months prior to our declaration of war we gained 2655 telephones.

We desire to give service as much as a patron wishes to receive it. We desire to promptly comply with the suggestions of public authorities who have taken a proper interest in the situation. We are facing abnormal conditions but we will—of necessity gradually-overcome our difficulties.
