Britain Keeps Troops Under Cover; Force Is Heavy.

FEINERS ARRIVE AT JAIL

Mourners Wear New Republic's Colors: Deputy Lord Mayor Allowed to See Body.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The police guard at Brixton prison was again increased today. The total number of the guard there is unknown, as most of the troops are kept under cover, but there is a considerable garrison inside the gates.

Sinn Fein who arrived from Cork and other parts of Ireland for the obsequies went to Brixton prison in little parties throughout the day to see where the lord mayor had died. They were all wearing Sinn Fein colors draped with mourning.

Deputy Lord Mayor O'Callaghan and other members of the Cork corporation visited the prison this afternoon and were granted permission to view MacSwiney's body.

Articles on the death of MacSwiney occupied much space in newspapers, regardless of their political views. Some refrained from commenting editorially on the situation which has arisen, while others have written in accordance with their customary attitudes on the Irish question.

Effect of Death Feared.—The Times, which is hostile to the government's Irish policy and the Irish bill prepared by the cabinet, severely attacks the government, especially in the matter of reprisals. Referring specifically to MacSwiney, the newspaper expresses the fear that the effects of his death will not be confined to the British Isles.

The Daily News says the government imprisoned MacSwiney as a criminal and converted him into a martyr, and must bear responsibility for his death.

The Telegraph defends the government and pleads in behalf of the "victims of the campaign of assassination in Ireland."

3 Killed in Dublin.—DUBLIN, Oct. 25.—Three men were shot and killed here today by masked men, alleged to be Sinn Fein, in the Thurlow district, one of the victims being the registrar of the local arboreal department, Richard Ryan, who was shot while lying in bed where he had been suffering from pneumonia a week.

Soldiers Shot Wild.—CORK, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Crowds along the Grand Parade, one of the principal thoroughfares of this city, were thrown into a panic tonight when several shots were fired from a military lorry and an accompanying car, which were as far as known there were no casualties.

HARDING PROMISES AID.—(Continued From First Page.) demand not only for aid but for a great number of other products whose production had been removed immediately fell off. With demand reduced and with foreign competition steadily seeking our unprotected markets, we have suddenly found ourselves at the head of a long line of which, unless the American policy of protection is resumed, we are bound to become more and more the dumping ground for the products of all the world.

Labor Declared Cheaper.—"Produced by cheaper labor, they must inevitably drive our own products out of our own markets, compel the suspension of production at home and bring idleness and poverty to tens of thousands of workers in a particular industry but to the millions of workers in hundreds of industries."

"Along with this disaster to the mining and industrial interests has come a similar disaster to American agriculture. The recent slump in prices of agricultural products has brought great hardship to American agriculture. Vast crops were raised under conditions that made them extremely costly, and now that the farmers have them in hand they find that prices have fallen so suddenly and rapidly that enormous losses must be sustained."

"When the republican party is restored to control of the government after March 4 next, there will be a prompt return to the American system of protection for American industry."

Equalization Policy Urged.—"That policy has been to equalize the cost of production at home and abroad. As to zinc, it is my recollection that the republican members of the senate sub-committee on finance, Senators Watson and Curtis, voted to report favorably the tariff bill desired by the American zinc producers, providing for a tariff of 3 cents per pound on the metallic contents of imported zinc ores. But the democratic members voted against it. "When I am president, if such a measure is again urged, and if it is found to comply with the republican formula of imposing sufficient tariff to measure the difference between cost of production at home and abroad, I shall certainly give my support to it."

COLBY CRITICIZES BOURGEOIS.—Right to Speak for Signatories of League Is Doubtful. WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Secretary Colby said today that Leon Bourgeois, president of the council of the league of nations, had no right to speak for the signatories of the league.

Mr. Colby referred to Bourgeois' denunciation yesterday that while it was not in fact "anything more than the moral foundation of the covenant," it was in fact "a document without impairing the efficiency of the league."

CO-OPERATION OF PHYSICIANS URGED TO AID PATIENTS.—Portland Society Adopts Resolution Against Anti-Vaccination Bill and Will Give Reasons. Free discussion of a paper presented by Dr. Albert A. Witham advocating closer co-operation between the dental and medical professions as a means of aiding human welfare, occupied a prominent place at the monthly meeting of the Portland Dental society held last night at the Hotel Portland. Dr. Witham cited cases illustrating the point that heart and other diseases traceable to infections from the teeth were most successfully treated from the standpoint of the welfare of the patient when dental and medical specialists worked together.

A resolution opposing the anti-vaccination bill was passed, with an amendment authorizing a committee to set forth reasons for the same. An effort will be made to have Dr. Boyd S. Gardner, Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn. visit Portland as guest of the society on the next meeting in January, when he is scheduled to be in Spokane.

Members of the senior class of North Pacific Dental college attended the meeting and were extended an invitation to return to all other meetings of the society on the next meeting in January. Five new members, Drs. Irl Knight, William R. Vetter, J. H. Powell and L. L. Perkins of Portland, and Dr. L. L. Perkins of Oregon City were added to the society.

$121,263 IS DISTRIBUTED.—Forest Business Augments State Road and School Funds. Road and school funds of 31 Oregon counties have been augmented by the distribution of $121,263.51, derived from the timber business of the state during the fiscal year 1920, according to figures furnished by forest service officials here. The sum constitutes the largest amount of receipts of the national forests in Oregon for the fiscal year.

The announcement issued by the state department follows: "Regarding the published report from London that Washington D. Vanderlip had concluded an arrangement with the Russian soviet government for a large concession in northeastern Siberia, the only dispatch bearing directly on the subject received by the state department on October 26 from the Russian commissioner for the Baltic provinces at Riga.

Colby Makes Comment.—"It states that Lenine had informed H. G. Wells that the American, then at Moscow, claimed to represent Senator Harding and had made certain proposals regarding the recognition of the bolshevik government. The dispatch further stated that the American is presently endeavoring to obtain coal concessions in Kamchatka."

In making public the statement Secretary Colby said: "The Wells referred to in the dispatch undoubtedly Mr. H. G. Wells, British writer who has lately returned to England from Russia, which I understand he visited to obtain information regarding conditions in Russia. The Vanderlip referred to in the dispatch is presumably Mr. Vanderlip, to whom reference is made in the press dispatches of today from London and Los Angeles."

Confirmation Is Reported.—"These press reports lend confirmation to the object of Mr. Vanderlip's activities as revealed in the departmental dispatch and speak in length of important and extensive concessions which he claims to have received from the soviet government. The department has information beyond that contained in the dispatch. I might say, however, that it comes without quibbling terms from an official of the department, in whom we place much dependence. He is still further confirmed by the report of reporting to the department significant facts that come to his knowledge. The report that Mr. Vanderlip has made proposals looking to the recognition of the soviet government and that he is endeavoring to obtain for valuable concessions makes it proper for me to state, by way of warning, that as the government of the United States has never recognized the bolshevik regime, American business men and investors should bear in mind that any concessions from the bolshevik authorities would have no certainty of recognition by the Russian government."

Confusion Warning Issued.—"It furthermore would be most regrettable if any confusion should arise in the minds of the soviet authorities as to the attitude of this government on the question of political recognition. This attitude has been stated in unmistakable terms. The receipt, however, of an official dispatch conveying the intelligence that the proposal for recognition has been made, even if irresponsible, makes it important that an oppositely worded statement be published to the numerous body of men reported from Los Angeles to be associated with Mr. Vanderlip, and that the recognition not be published, to define their relations to him, if any exist."

U. S. Commissioner at Riga Is Declared to Have Approached Lenine, Seeking Concessions.

HARDING DENIES REPORT OF VANDERLIP BEING AGENT.—MARION, O., Oct. 26.—Direct denial was made by Senator Harding today of reports reaching the state department that Washington Vanderlip was acting as his agent in Russia. "I have never heard of Mr. Vanderlip," said the senator. "He is not my agent, and I have no agent. I know absolutely nothing about any such matter as is discussed in these dispatches and have no interest in it whatever."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Secretary Colby announced today that Commodore Young at Riga had informed the state department that Washington Vanderlip, who recently obtained concessions in Siberia, was reported to have told Nikolai Lenine, Russian bolshevik premier, that he represented Senator Harding, the republican presidential candidate.

The commissioner's dispatch, dated October 20, said Lenine had informed H. G. Wells, a British writer, that Mr. Vanderlip had made proposals toward soviet government at Moscow looking to the recognition of the bolshevik government by the United States.

Arrangement Is Reported.—Dispatches from London yesterday said that Mr. Vanderlip had concluded an extensive arrangement with the Russian soviet authorities by which an organization of western American financiers acquired a 50-year lease on a vast tract in northern Siberia, opposite Alaska, with exclusive rights to develop coal, oil and fisheries.

Commissioner Young's dispatch stated that the arrangement was negotiated for concessions about Kamchatka, Siberia. Earlier in the day state department officials on the basis of the London dispatches said that since the United States had not recognized the bolshevik government, no contract entered into by its officers would be regarded by this government as binding.

Warning Is Repeated.—It was pointed out that the department's attitude toward the concessions granted by the bolshevik authorities was first signed on April 12, 1919. The same attitude toward American business men, and repeated on July 27, 1920.

The announcement issued by the state department follows: "Regarding the published report from London that Washington D. Vanderlip had concluded an arrangement with the Russian soviet government for a large concession in northeastern Siberia, the only dispatch bearing directly on the subject received by the state department on October 26 from the Russian commissioner for the Baltic provinces at Riga.

Anticipatory Advertising.—To have a "distribution" means among salesmen that a commodity is in stock, ready for sale in a sufficient number of stores to be convenient for the public.

An automobile might have thorough distribution with one thousand dealers.

A breakfast food, to be equally well distributed, might require forty thousand retail sales outlets.

Should a new product be advertised before securing distribution, or after?

Obviously, advertising is most effective and economical when every sale it can induce may be easily consummated in some nearby store.

On the other hand, the average store does not wish to put in stock new, unknown and unasked-for goods.

"Advertise and create a demand," says the merchant, "and then we will stock your lines."

Anticipatory advertising loses some retail sales but facilitates the getting of a thorough distribution economically.

You remember the old question of the priority of the chicken or the egg.

THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY MADE DETROIT (Population 1910, 465,766; 1920, 993,678).

The people of Detroit invested their savings in their new industry. THE RUBBER INDUSTRY MADE AKRON (Population 1910, 85,625; 1920, 208,435).

The people of Akron invested their savings in their new industry.

The Vegetable Oil Industry Can Make Portland

If the people of Portland will now invest a part of their savings in the new offering of $200,000.00 of the $1,000,000.00 capital stock of the Portland Vegetable Oil Mills Company, making a total subscription of $700,000.00 to be followed by immediate plant construction, this company will grow and its plant can become to Portland what the Ford plant is to Detroit and what the Goodyear plant is to Akron.

Portland is the strategic place for this new and rapidly growing industry. Portland needs return cargoes for her home-bound lumber ships now frequently returning in ballast. Copra cargoes will help. Portland needs a better balanced port as to Exports and Imports (first eight months 1920 exports, $36,000,000; imports, $6,000,000). Portland Vegetable Oil Mills Company should import $4,000,000 worth of raw materials the first year and should use these returning lumber ships at a reduced freight rate. San Francisco and Seattle as a rule have larger imports than exports, the incoming ships carrying more cargo than the out-bound ships. The reverse is true of Portland and to Portland's advantage for the importation of copra.

Now is the psychological time. Palmolive is advertised all over this city. Its product is for sale in practically every drug store, department store and grocery store in Portland. This is also true of every other city in America. Palmolive is a successful enterprise of national scope. It has made good. It is "making Milwaukee famous."

Do You, Mr. Portlander, realize that Palmolive's Pacific Coast plant for crushing copra and for refining vegetable oil was located in Portland; that it burned last December; that that company is centering its Pacific Coast interests in another city, and that the Portland Vegetable Oil Mills Company has been organized to continue and enlarge this industry in Portland, by Portland and for Portland, with some of the very men who have made Palmolive famous, including Mr. C. A. Painton, former Manager of the Palmolive Company's Portland plant and now President of the Portland Vegetable Oil Mills Company? Mr. Painton made 42% last year for Palmolive in Portland.

Portland is at the turning point of her career. With new ships and new harbor improvements Portland may easily become the center for diversified manufacturing in the Pacific Northwest. Portland is the logical place for the vegetable oil industry. The imports in 1919 of raw materials for vegetable oils into the United States exceeded $12,000,000.00 value, ten times greater than in 1914. There is a shortage of animal fats throughout the world since the beginning of the European War. Cattle, sheep and hogs average a shortage of 40% since 1914. Coconut Oil (Vegetable Oil) is the best known substitute for animal fats. It is used in making table butter (margarine), also hard and soft butter for confectioners and bakers; also in the manufacture of soap. There are over 300 constant users of vegetable oils in the United States.

Let Portland be to this industry what Detroit is to the automobile industry and what Akron is to the rubber industry. Invest Now in this stock offering of the Portland Vegetable Oil Mills Company and you are so doing invest in the future of your own home city, Portland. Many are investing in small sums. We must close this offering by November to save this industry to Portland.

We still have for sale the unsold balance of this offering of $200,000.00, which when sold, will make a total of $700,000.00 capital stock subscribed.

Twenty-eight Portland business men subscribed for the first $500,000.00 at par. We now offer the unsold portion of the $200,000.00 to the public on the same terms. We do this to encourage small subscribers. It is desirable to have this stock ownership well distributed. If we sell this offering of $200,000.00 to 500 subscribers we would then have 528 local individuals and firms interested in a tangible way in the development of Portland's manufacturing and shipping, as well as in the prosperity of this company.
