

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT, SAYS MR. McARTHUR

Representative Is Satisfied With Progress of Campaign.

FOES' PLANS HELD FUTILE

Effort to Round Up Ministers Against Lawmaker Declared to Have Proved Total Failure.

Owing to an attack of tonsillitis Representative McArthur was forced to cancel a speaking engagement in South Portland last night, but he will speak at the Brooklyn school to-night at Linton tomorrow night and at the Falling Waters school Sunday.

Efforts of the opposition to make prohibition the principal issue of the campaign have failed, said Mr. McArthur last night. He stated that last Sunday was to be set aside as "Prohibition Sunday" by all the churches represented in the Portland Ministerial association and that congregations were to be advised to vote against me on election day.

"Prohibition is not an issue in the congressional election in this district, for the reason that I have already voted against repealing the Volstead law and will continue so to vote, unless the people of the district order me to do otherwise. A few prohibition fanatics are endeavoring to punish me for keeping my pledge on the liquor question, but fair-minded people appreciate my position and approve of my conduct.

"Several of the directors of the anti-saloon league of Oregon are openly supporting my candidacy. These gentlemen are republicans and they are not allowing themselves to be misled by the prohibition camouflage of the opposition."

STUDENTS TAKE STRAW VOTE

Duty of Citizenship Impressed on Pupils at Oregon.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 26.—(Special).—Today, the last day of the campaign, politics at both the Harding club and the Cox-Roosevelt organizations are holding big rallies to see that their side is well represented and that the results point their way.

The republicans have secured Senator J. J. Crockett as their candidate for the Pacific coast, as the speaker of the evening. The democrats are yet unable to announce their definite name of their speaker.

Straw voting will begin in the morning, and the student and faculty ballots will be cast in the afternoon. Each student will be required to sign his vote so no person will be counted twice.

Those who have been responsible for the organization of the campus clubs have taken it upon themselves that their chief endeavor is not to present the arguments of the party, but to impress upon the individual student his duty as a citizen to present his ballot on election day. Today's straw ballot is the result of concerted action of the Oregon Daily Emerald, the student newspaper, and the two campaign clubs for this purpose.

RESIDENT OF OHIO VOTES

Ballot Is Cast in State of Washington for Senator Harding.

PROSSER, Wash., Oct. 26.—(Special).—So far as is known, the first Harding ballot cast in Benton county was that of George A. Jones, a railway executive living with the Benson party Monday. This was a non-resident ballot and was cast before County Clerk E. E. Stewart. Mr. Jones, who lives in Greenville, O., voted in order that his ballot might get back to Ohio in time to be counted on election day.

In casting a non-resident ballot it is necessary to go before the county clerk and have it certified. The county clerk then mails the ballot to the county auditor of the county in which the non-resident lives and he in turn must see that it goes to the judge of the precinct in which the person is registered and the judge casts it on election day.

County Clerk Stewart states that the Ohio ballot is much smaller than the Washington ballot, being approximately 12x18 inches.

SENATORIAL FIGHT IS BITTER

Bruce Dennis and W. M. Pierce Develop Hot Campaign for Seat.

LA GRANDE, Or., Oct. 26.—(Special).—Closing days of Union county's campaign show marked activity and republicans and democrats are working vigorously to get the last impressive word to ears of the voters.

One of the most energetic fights which developed during the past week is for the office of senator from Union and Wallowa counties. Walter M. Pierce, against the advice of democrats, filed his name in the primaries, and republicans wrote in the name of Bruce Dennis, editor of the Observer.

For a while little was done by either candidate. The "fireworks" started when Mr. Dennis, in his paper, began reviewing the record of Mr. Pierce in the state senate, calling attention to bills introduced by the Union county man and giving a record of his votes on the measures.

PASCO REPUBLICANS BUSY

Labor Leader and Attorney Speak at G. O. P. Rallies.

PASCO, Wash., Oct. 26.—(Special).—One of the most convincing public addresses yet given in this city was delivered Saturday night by E. B. Fish at the Empire theater. Mr. Fish is a machinist and a member of organized labor, and he had a way of appealing to the laboring men that few possess. He said that the rank and file of laboring men were as patriotic, unselfish Americans as could be found in the land.

Port Consolidation

Do You Want

Sloughs and Swamps or Ships and Smokestacks?

Two measures of vital importance to the people of Oregon are to be voted upon at the November 2d election. All the voters in Oregon are entitled to vote upon one measure; only Portland citizens vote upon the other. To accomplish their purpose BOTH must pass. Think what the passage of these measures will mean to Portland and Oregon and urge your friends to vote for them. Here are some of the things their passage will mean:

It will mean that for the first time in her history Portland can say to the world that she has a DEEP CHANNEL TO THE SEA.

It will mean that INDUSTRIES will locate in Portland which would otherwise go to Seattle, Tacoma or some California port.

It will mean that PAYROLLS—big ones—will be added to Portland through public and private enterprise.

It will mean that $10,000,000 will be spent—not all at once, but in the course of several years—in dredging and filling, so that SHIPS and FACTORIES will be induced to come and take the place of SWAMPS and FROG PONDS.

It will mean that Oregon will have a WORLD MARKET for her lumber, wheat, wool and fruit regardless of rail rates.

The land required for the channel improvement will cost about 60 cents a year for each $1000 of assessed property during the life of the bonds.

Is It Worth the Price? You Know It Is!

MANY MEETINGS HELD TODAY

Republican Clubs Busy in City and Throughout State.

This will be a busy day for local republican clubs, many of which are celebrating it as the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt.

John B. Easter will speak at the Men's Resort, Fourth and Burnside streets, at 7:45 P. M. A musical programme will be rendered under the direction of Mrs. Ella Hobart Tripp.

The voters of Rose City Park district will meet at the Rose City Park clubhouse, East Fifty-seventh street and Sandy boulevard, at 8 o'clock. Judge Kavanaugh will be the speaker of the evening.

Representative McArthur will be the principal speaker at the Brooklyn school, on Milwaukee street. Mrs. Anna J. Watson will lead in the singing of campaign songs.

The political issues of the day will be presented to residents of Montavilla in the auditorium of the Montavilla schoolhouse, by E. M. Tomlinson and C. M. Ideman.

The Alberta-Highland Republican club will hold a meeting in the auditorium of the Highland schoolhouse at which George W. Caldwell will speak on the League of Nations.

There will be a noon meeting at the Peninsula mills, addressed by J. B. Easter and a noon meeting at the here are Colonel Charles W. Whittlesey of the "lost battalion"; Herbert Parsons, former republican national committeeman for New York, and Mrs. Nancy M. Schoonmaker, suffragist leader and author.

Under the original plan Secretary of War Baker was to be on the train, but somehow, somewhere along the line, it was decided that Mr. Baker should not appear in Oregon. It is not even known at democratic headquarters where Mr. Baker left the train. He may have left at Salt Lake city and gone into California, or he may have gone into Washington, the special having been split at Salt Lake city.

Democratic leaders apparently are quite satisfied with the absence of the secretary of war. There has been a personal feud between Mr. Baker and Senator Chamberlain since the Oregon senator attacked the administration of the war department by Mr. Baker, and it was over Mr. Baker's celebrated speech in New York which set him apart from the administration and which caused President Wilson to attempt Chamberlain's defeat in the democratic primaries.

The anti-Chamberlain democrats are disappointed at the non-arrival of Mr. Baker, for they are with him.

Tonight's rally will be the last big democratic gathering in Portland during the campaign, although Senator Shepard of Texas will speak at the Auditorium next Monday night.

The management of the democratic campaign is expecting great things from the meeting tonight because of the prominence of the speakers of the pro-league special.

BRIDGES' STRENGTH WANING

Defection in Ranks of Third Party in Grays Harbor District Seen.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Oct. 26.—(Special).—The lead which Robert Bridges, third-party candidate for governor, was supposed to hold in the agricultural districts of the state is rapidly waning, according to Robert Hodge of Seattle, who has made a tour of the Grays Harbor district during the past week.

With five days more of campaigning before election day, republican speakers are covering every county of the state with national and state speakers.

Last night the republican state central committee held eight rallies. E. G. Skulason, Conrad P. Olson spoke at Carlton; Walter L. Toose Sr., spoke at Prineville; James J. Crossley and Montavilla Flowers at Eugene; S. E. Huston at Cornelius; Cassius R. Peck at Turner; ex-Representative Scott at Ashland and Representative Hawley at Albany. Representative Sinnott and Robert N. Stantfield, republican nominee for Union States senator, are campaigning in Umatilla county.

Speakers of the republican state central committee are scheduled as follows for the remainder of the campaign:

October 27—Medford, James J. Crossley; Dundee, T. J. Cleston; Newport, Representative Hawley; Medford, M. O. A. v. L. Flowers; Wilsonville, Charles J. Schnabel; Scappoose, W. L. Harrison.

October 28—Clatskanie, Conrad P. Olson; Hood River, Walter L. Toose Sr.; Corvallis, James J. Crossley; Dallas, Representative Hawley; Silverton, C. M. Ideman and H. M. Tomlinson; Gaston, Joseph L. Atkins.

October 29—Enterprise, Wallace McCamant; Hillsboro, Representative Hawley; Amity, Walter H. Evans; Hopewell, E. G. Skulason.

October 30—Joseph, Wallace McCamant; Sherwood, T. J. Cleston.

November 1—Pendleton, James J. Crossley; The Dalles, Representative Sinnott; Corvallis, Representative Hawley.

"The Third District in Congress"

Five Reel Comedy Featuring

MAWSH McARTHUR

Reel V—Climax: "The Real Mawsh"

THE story of Pat would not be complete without a word on his Congressional inactivities. All Congress is divided into three groups. A small group which does the managing, the tried and true machine members. A small group of independents, who try to break through. And the vast mass of members who merely fox-trot when the orchestra starts to play. Just votes to be counted—the necessary units that go to make up a majority. A few years ago someone coined a name for such members, taking the initial letters of "might as well stay home." They were called MAWSH members. And that's the class they put Pat in. He has a desk, and an office; he has a seat and a vote. And that's all. Otherwise MAWSH. A group of men as long ago as 1915 turned a scrutiny on Congress and its members. They gave a characterization to each one. Some were written as "Machine mem-

FIRE!!

The THREE-MILL TAX measure is NOT A NEW TAX and means NO INCREASE IN TAXES next year.

Unless it is voted this year the same as it was a year ago, one-third of the fire stations must be closed because of lack of funds. Police protection, playgrounds, street cleaning and every other city service must be reduced nearly one-third. There is no way to prevent it. After election will be too late.

Reduced fire protection means higher insurance rates and greater fire loss.
