

ANDERSON'S VICTORY IN SLAM-BANG GO

Ebon Battler Wallops Keller All Over the Ring.

VETERAN ABSORBS MUCH

Battling Zu Zu Wins on Foul From Frankie Murphy, While Filipino Slugger Loses to Fiske.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHT RESULTS.

Lee Anderson won ten-round decision over Terry Keller, heavyweights. Battling Zu Zu won on foul over Frankie Murphy, eighth round, welterweights. Johnny Fiske received six-round decision over Macario Flores, 133 pounds. Eddie Moore and Ray Rose fought six-round draw, bantamweights. Chick Rocco won four-round decision over Al Nelson, 130 pounds.

BY DICK SHARP.

The batteries for last night at the Milwaukee arena were Lee Anderson, pitcher, and Terry Keller, catcher. The San Francisco negro light-heavyweight handed Keller a soaking and won the decision at the end of ten rounds of fair to middling milling.

Keller was on the receiving end of enough rock-blasting wallops to have put a dozen ordinary men to sleep, but Terry never weakened for a minute. When the going rang at the end of the tenth round he was going stronger than ever.

Anderson did not lay back, as he did last week against Sam Langford. The dusky warrior stepped right in and swung them from all angles. Backhand blows to the stomach and face were in his bag of tricks, along with left and right swings and straight punches.

The dark battler took the first round by a wide margin, and the stagehands were preparing to lower the curtains on Keller. Terry was not to be downed, however, and by the end of the second round was making a valiant rally.

Keller Some Absorber.

From the third on to the finish the two mixed it up, with Keller absorbing everything Anderson was giving out. Keller must have thought it was a tag day. He slumped up a little in the third and fourth but took a little more on life again in the fifth canto, when he sent in some lefts and a right uppercut that caught Anderson solidly.

Keller again took plenty in the seventh and eighth. The eighth round was the most spectacular of the fight. Keller made a kangaroo rush after Lee and for three minutes the two waded in toe to toe and dealt out punishment. Keller's arms were giving storm in that stanza. Anderson tried to put over a finishing punch in the sixth and tenth, but either lacked the steam or Keller was too tough. The latter looked to be the case, judging from what Keller took throughout the fight.

A lot of Anderson's punches were delivered with the open hand and made more noise than they did damage. It looks as if as good a boxer and hitter as Anderson would close his hands more, but any a yearling smacker was recorded by the landing of an open glove or backhand wallop in last night's ten-round tangle. Keller, on the other hand, was in effect on the shifty negro. The only way he could get in any punishment at all was fairly to fly into the air and let his hands get like a fiend.

Zu Zu Gets Lov One.

Frankie Murphy, rugged Denver welterweight, entered the ring a sick man against Battling Zu Zu of Manila and lost on a foul in the eighth round after taking a shakedown to the finish. The eighth, which was the final of the bout, was about half over when Referee Tom Loutitt stepped in and raised Zu Zu's hand, proclaiming him a winner on a low punch. Tip to the sudden ending the bout was a head-to-head slugging bee. Zu Zu would wait until he got in real close and then begin swinging both hands to the body and head.

Murphy landed at will from long range and did well in the clinches, but Zu Zu was strong and always ready to scrap.

Macario Flores, Joe Waterman's 16-year-old Filipino 133-pounder, won two and took the shade in one round of his six-round fracas with Johnny Fiske only to lose the verdict. The first two rounds Flores jabbed away with a left that never missed. It must be admitted that Fiske was forcing the issue from start to finish, but Flores was doing most of the landing and outboxing Fiske to a finish. The third was the only one in which Fiske won a shade. He slipped over a stiff punch in the last of the fourth on Flores, but it did not stop the Filipino's boxing ability.

The brown-skinned invader looked mighty good in his first start here. Fiske put up an aggressive battle, but the fana couldn't see where he won. A draw would have sent every body home satisfied.

Ray Rose, Denver boxer, was to have made a 116-pounder for Ed Moore, Seattle 116-pounder, and failed to do it. He weighed 118 at 6 o'clock. It was agreed that if the two were on their feet at the end of the six rounds the match was to be a draw. This did not prevent both boys from fighting from going to going. Moore took a facing but came back strong in the final round and earned many a friend. Rose proved a stocky little boxer with a hefty wallop. He tore into his lighter opponent and several times it looked as if he would put the game Seattle boy away, but Eddie rallied each time and stuck the round.

He sent Rose to the mat twice, but the former did not take any count on either occasion, but bounced right up.

"Chick" Rocco of Portland, 130 pounds, was awarded a four-round decision over Al Nelson, Boise, Idaho, lightweight. The bout was about even up. The fans never guessed how near last night's main event came to having to be called off. Keller sustained a stone bruise on his left foot and was hardly able to limp around yesterday. Matchmaker Frank Kendall took him to Dr. Earl Smith, who gave the foot a treatment and bandaged it. It was necessary to "freeze" the bit of the foot last night so that Keller could go in the ring. He said before the fight that the fact of his personal friendship for Kendall caused him to go through under the circumstances.

DeBeau is Outpointed.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Oct. 27.—Bud Christianso of Chicago outpointed Eddie Debeau of St. Paul in a fast 10-round bout at Camp Grant tonight, in the opinion of newspaper men. They are lightweights.

DUNDEE OUTFIGHTS NORTH

Frankie Malone Gets Undeserved Verdict Over Peisinger.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Bobby North, New York lightweight, could not fight a lick at Oakland tonight, and Jimmy Dundee jabbed and slammed him at will, winning the decision. The other bouts resulted as follows: Frankie Malone received an undeserved verdict over Harry Peisinger; Joe Azavedo and Willie Robinson, draw; Joe Ketchell stopped Ralph Rivers in the third; Benny Myers beat Bobby Ertle; Bill Shafer stopped Nathan Thomas, negro, in the fourth; Harry Scott and Dynamite Murphy, draw; Eddie Macey beat Frankie Quick.

Lewis Defeats Zbyszko.

MONTREAL, Oct. 27.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis won tonight from Wladek Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, in one hour 11 minutes at the Mount Royal arena here. Lewis won on a toehold.

OREGON TEAM ENTRAINS

SIXTEEN PLAYERS START FOR CALIFORNIA GRIDIRON.

Coaches Silent as to Prospects. Students Escort Squad to Station in Rain.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—In spite of the pouring rain the Oregon students marched in a body to the train in a big rally tonight when the varsity football men left for Palo Alto, Cal. The Oregon team is to mix with Stanford at that place Saturday.

Sixteen men were taken on the trip. Coach Rhy Huntington, Assistant Coach Bart Spellman and Trainer Bill Hayward accompanied the men. The coaches were silent as to the prospects for the game. Many of the Oregon men were injured in the game with Idaho last week and are in poor shape. Bill Reinhart, who hurt his ankle badly and will be slowed by this injury, besides Reinhart, Captain Bill Shields hurt his knee, and Frank Hill has a bad wrist. Mart Howard injured his shoulder in practice, and Carl Mauriz, a badly bruised back. Shields also has a bad charley horse. Stanford had an easy game Saturday and should be in better shape than Oregon.

The men to be taken on the trip are: Mart Howard, "Budd" Brown, "Spike" Leslie, "Tiny" Shields, "Brick" Leslie, "Bart" Laughlin, Ed. Ward, Carl Mauriz, Captain Bill Shields, Frank Hill, Pierrri Mead, Francis Jacobberger, "Nish" Chapman, Bill Reinhart, "Scotty" Strachan, George King and Ward McKee. Coach Huntington did not announce his lineup, but the team will probably be made up of the following: Idaho, Howard and Brown will take the ends, "Spike" Leslie and Shields the tackles, Carl Mauriz and Ward the guards, with "Brick" Leslie at center. The backfield probably will be made up of King, Steers, Hill and Reinhart. Some of these men may not be able to stand the strain of a full game and may be taken out early. The substitutes are in good cases nearly as good as the regulars, however, and should be able to make a good showing. The Oregon team will return to Eugene Monday morning.

FROSH TO MEET INDIANS

Several of Team Hurt and Will Not Be Able to Make Trip.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The University of Oregon freshmen will play the Chemawa Indians at Chemawa next Saturday. Ken Bartlett's coach, says that he will take about 18 men with him on the trip. They will leave Eugene on the 7:25 Oregon Electric Saturday morning and return the same evening after the game. Coach Williams will not be able to make the trip. Several injuries resulted from the game at Eugene last Saturday with Pacific university, which will change the frosh lineup somewhat. Bill Johnson, the center of the frosh aggregation, will not be able to participate. "Slim" Johnson, a guard, also was hurt and probably will not be in shape to start the game. Coach Bartlett also plans to shift halfback Jordan to end.

Sport News and Comment.

By Cobb, the Detroit American league star, was the guest of honor at a luncheon at the Free club during his stay in San Francisco. In an informal talk to the newspaper men there he said: "The boys have been writing so many things about me for so many years that sometimes I almost get to thinking they are right. But I know they have my measure. I know my limitations and have been good enough to play up to the best on me and lay off the other side. It is refreshing to meet some of those hat reds comfortably on my head."

During the entire hour that actual play was going on in the recent game of football between the University of California and the University of Utah, the latter team was the first to participate. The game was on the Utah side of mid-field, generally on its way for a touchdown. It was fairly hot when the game was started but gradually cooled as it progressed.

Next Saturday's football game will be of absorbing interest to all followers of football up and down the coast, for the two principal games to be played may be the first of the elimination contests for a choice of the western eleven which will face the eastern eleven on New Year's day at Pasadena. The University of Oregon will meet Stanford at the latter's grounds, while the University of California will match strength with Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis.

MCCARTHY ON STAND TEARS INTO BORTON

League President Denies Maggert's Charges.

STROUD TELLS OF $300

Salt Lake Pitcher Informs Grand Jury of Details of Alleged Bribe Attempt.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Another broadside was fired into Ebbie Borton's camp today when William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast league, appeared before the grand jury investigating the alleged baseball scandal and answered the charge made by Earl Maggert in his testimony before the inquisitorial body last week that the popular league chief was cognizant of the scandal during August of this year and that he failed to take action.

McCarthy denied that he failed to act upon learning of certain irregularities in the league, but, on the contrary, did act by first suspending Borton temporarily and after his trial making the suspension permanent. Spencer's Affidavit Filed. President McCarthy also gave testimony that will probably throw more light on Borton's activities in bribing the members of special committee of club owners to co-operate with the district attorney's office in cleaning up the alleged crooked baseball deal. Stroud Tells of $300 Bribe Deal. Ralph Stroud, pitcher of the Salt Lake club, was the first witness called this morning. He told of the $300 offer made to him by Borton to throw a game in which he was to pitch in Los Angeles against the Vernon club. Stroud declared before the jurists that he started to pitch in a game here and the Tigers made four runs off him in the first inning and he was taken out and that Borton, believing that he had delivered the goods, tried to put $300 in his pocket, but Stroud refused the money. Stroud said that he made a statement of Borton's plan to Ernie Johnson, manager, and no suspicion attached to the Bee athlete. Johnny Powers, president of the Los Angeles baseball club, also testified, but he informed the jury that the only knowledge he had of the alleged scandal was merely founded on hearsay.

Probe On Till Next Week.

Eddie Milligan, implicated in the alleged deal in Salt Lake by Earl Maggert, will arrive here tonight and may be examined tomorrow, although Frank Stafford, deputy district attorney, stated that the probe would continue over until some time next week. President McCarthy announced that he was in receipt of a telegram to the effect that Gene Dale is on route to Los Angeles to clear himself of the charge made by Maggert. It was also learned yesterday that President Ernie Johnson and Bill Rumler are snowbound in Colorado.

Charlie Graham, president of the Seals, and J. Cal Ewing, head of the Gekland club, accompanied McCarthy on his trip from the north. Edward E. Wehrle, attorney of the Vernon club, in a statement made yesterday quotes Deputy District Attorney Stafford as denying that Al Devormer, Tiger player, made a written statement that he (Devormer), had protested to President McCarthy concerning the smallness of his check from the fans' fund and that he understood the check had been reduced because a certain amount of the fund had been set aside to bribe players on the opposing teams.

Attorney Wehrle quoting Mr. Stafford, says that Devormer had a talk with Mr. Stafford, in which Devormer said that he objected to the amount paid him at the time he received it, but afterwards learned that some of the promised contributions were not paid and he was then satisfied.

Borton's Attorney Answered. Attorney Wehrle answered Borton's attorney, Griffith Jones, by stating that the fans' fund was distributed after the St. Paul series closed and Borton, having been injured during the closing weeks of the series with Los Angeles, was, as he said, unable to play any further during the 1919 series and was appointed by the Vernon players to look after their interest in checking up the gate receipts with the secretaries of the Vernon and St. Paul clubs.

The funds were handled by Bill Essick, manager, and as most of the fans' fund was received on the last day in checks, they were cashed out of the gate receipts and Mr. Essick gave the player's shares to Borton, who was representing the players.

Fan Fund Not Short. Manager Bill Essick stated tonight that the fans' fund was not short $2300, nor any amount if, by the fund is meant the amount actually received. There were a lot of unlisted contributions made at the banquet where the fund was started but up to the time of the first distribution only $3470 had been collected and this amount was paid in full to the athletes, he declared.

admitted that it will take an attractive salary to entice him away from his business, and it is possible that he will leave to handle the game again. Klepper has no other man in mind at present, but if Ware's answer is in the negative he will immediately begin a hunt for a successor.

WARES MUST DECIDE NOW

1921 MANAGEMENT OF SEATTLE CLUB AT ISSUE.

President Klepper Telegraphs Captain Pilot He Is Wanted, but Must Give Answer by Today.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Clyde Wares will either be manager of the 1921 Seattle club by tomorrow night, or he will be no longer connected with the position. President Klepper has telegraphed the former pilot to give him an answer to the proposition that he should be manager of the club again. The local president expects him to go east with him.

Seattle directors have made Clyde their best offer, giving him a large boost in salary over last season. Wares, however, has not yet given an answer, but he is expected to accept the offer. Wares would take the job, because the peppery little skipper's work was entirely satisfactory. But if Clyde cannot make up his mind now, then he must withdraw from the field.

The fact that Wares is in business in Hanford, Cal., may keep him from accepting the berth again. He frankly recently organized soccer team are rapidly taking shape, according to William Koerber, newly elected manager of association and soccer football, who issued a call for all men interested in the English game to turn out.

The first few weeks of training will take place on Kincaid field. The field will be in good shape, as sawdust has been spread and the field leveled.

An effort will be made to get the Oregon team in shape for a game with Oregon Agricultural college. No game has been scheduled as yet, but one will be arranged for soon.

MINE COURSE PREPARED

University of Washington School to Open January 5.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—The 25th annual short course in mines given by the college of mines of the University of Washington, will open January 5 and continue until March 24.

The course will include quartz and placer mining, coal mining and ceramics and the only requirements for entrance are ability to read and write English. Former service men are exempted from payment of the $10 tuition fee.

BERRY JUICE IS DUMPED

Drys in Tacoma Reported Going to Absurd Extremes.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Even unfermented blackberry juice, it is said, offends some of the stern prohibition advocates here. It was reported that wine was being hidden in the cellar of the home maintained for widows of Grand Army veterans at Fuyallup. D. J. Williams, collector of internal revenue, at first paid no attention to the report, but later ordered an investigation.

Prohibition officers found the fruit juice, they said, and so reported. This did not satisfy some of the bone-dry neighbors, and upon their repeated complaints Williams ordered the juice dumped out. He denied that wine was being kept there.

HOQUIAM Postal Savings Drop. HOQUIAM, Wash., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Speculation in foreign exchange and sending money back to their native countries, is partly responsible for the falling off in the postal savings department at the local postoffice. Postmaster Morgan said Tuesday. The fact that local banks have raised their interest rates to 4 per cent for savings depositors is also believed to have had some effect.

Apple Shipments Fall Off. YAKIMA, Wash., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The Yakima apple movement last week was $24 cars, according to railroad figures. This is below the movement for the corresponding period last year and the difference is taken to indicate that there is a heavier storage of apples here this year than last.
