

BREEDERS PLAN SHOW

GUERNSEY CATTLE WILL BE EXHIBITED HERE.

E. L. Westover Says Stockmen Are Taking Keen Interest in Portland Exposition.

E. L. Westover, field manager for the western Guernsey breeders, returned to Portland last week after a trip through all the western states, and a visit to the national dairy show at Chicago. He says Oregon, California, Washington and Idaho will have fine Guernsey exhibits at the Pacific-International livestock exposition in Portland November 12-20.

Mr. Westover took especial interest in the work of the California dairy council in organizing Guernsey cattle clubs and in the stock shows that are being planned for Colorado and other states.

In Denver Mr. Westover made plans for a meeting of Guernsey breeders from the Rocky mountain states and for a Guernsey show in Denver, January 22. He organized the Idaho Guernsey cattle club and arranged for the importation of 39 cows from the island of Guernsey for the Idaho Breeder's association.

In Madison, Wis., he spoke at the meeting of the western Guernsey breeders. His subject was "What Guernsey Breeders Have Done and Are Doing on the Pacific Coast."

Among the prominent Guernsey men who probably will be in Portland in November for the Pacific-International livestock exposition will be J. L. Hope of Madison, N. J., who will judge Guernseys; Gordon Hall of Cranford, N. J.; W. M. Caldwell, secretary of the American Guernsey cattle club, and Clark Bender, president of the Colorado Guernsey cattle club.

There will be a Guernsey breeders' banquet on November 17 and a big sale of Guernsey at the exposition on November 18. The sale committee includes John T. Whalley of Portland, Leslie G. Perry of Wendell, Idaho; J. E. Wraga of Arlington, Wash., and William H. Saylor of San Francisco, all of whom are presidents of Guernsey cattle clubs of their respective states.

LUMBER INCREASE LOW

OREGON PRODUCTION SHOWS ACTUAL DECREASE.

Preliminary Comparative Report on Cut Lumber Compiled by Government.

Lumber production throughout the country did not materially increase during the year 1919 and the cut in Oregon for the year actually shows a decreased production according to a preliminary comparative report on the cut of lumber for 1919, compiled by the United States department of commerce.

The statement shows the production of lumber for the years 1918 and 1919 by 78 large identical mills which reported a total cut of 5,900,000 feet or more annually in either one or both of these years. These mills are located in 34 states and show the production conditions in practically all lumber regions of importance, according to the report.

The total amount of lumber cut in 1919 by these mills was 12,328,414,000 feet, as compared to 12,853,429,000 in 1918, according to the report. The figures for Oregon in 1918 are: 723,296,000 and in 1919, 721,599,000 feet.

"Notwithstanding the termination of hostilities and the unprecedented advance of prices which began in 1919 and which normally might have been expected to stimulate production," says the report, "it is apparent that other factors, such as labor troubles, transportation difficulties, unfavorable weather and financial stresses were sufficient to restrict the output to the approximate level of the preceding year."

HEARING DATES ARE SET

Marion County Grade Application to Be Considered Oct. 28.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special).—The public service commission today set the hearing of the application of Marion county for grade raising over the tracks of the Southern Pacific company for October 28. On the same date the commission will consider the request of the farmers of the Talbot vicinity for improved shipping facilities on the line of the Oregon Electric railway.

On October 30 application of the Calapooia Telephone company for an increase in rates will be heard at Sutherlin, while on November 4 establishment of a grade crossing at Baker will be considered. Increased rates for service furnished by the Bradford telephone lines, with headquarters at Prairie City, will be the topic of a hearing there on November 5.

FOREIGN STUDENTS FARM

Cosmopolitan Club Organized at University of Oregon.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 27.—(Special).—A club for students of foreign birth is being organized at the University of Oregon, which will be called the Cosmopolitan club. William J. Russell, a native Greek, who is getting things started, stated there are between 50 and 70 foreign-born students in the university and the club will be organized mainly for social purposes. It has been felt there was need for such an organization to help students from other countries who are strangers to our customs.

Both campus Christian associations, Professor Eschau, who has tried for a year to have such a club organized, and Elizabeth Fox, dean of women, have promised their support of this movement.

Albany to Send Boys on Trip.

ALBANY, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special).—The boys' stock judging team of the Stead Jersey Cattle club, who won the state championship at the state fair for Linn county, will be sent to the western robe show at Spokane to represent Oregon in a contest with the boys' champions of Washington and Idaho. The Albany chamber of commerce will finance the trip. The boys are Harvey McConnell, Ralph Malson and Kenneth Arnold.

Apples to Go to Sweden.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special).—The Oregon Growers' Co-operative association today packed for shipment to Sweden a carload of fancy Oregon apples. Several other cars of Oregon apples are en route to England, Scotland and Canada. The association reported today that in line with a new arrangement growers would save from 25 to 5 cents a box on the sale cost of apples offered for the export trade.

Glass Mixing Bowls Set of 3 for 89c

One seven, one eight and one nine-inch bowl are included in each set at 89c. They are of extra thick glass so that there is no more danger of their breaking than usual kitchen bowls—and these glass ones are pleasantly sanitary and good looking. They harmonize with aluminum ware, for instance, much better than does the old-fashioned yellow ware. Quite unusual to be able to get three such bowls at 89c.

The Big Doll Show Opens Today

If you have one of your very own dolls entered in the Doll Show then, of course, you'll want to come sure to see how very fine dolly looks, and if you haven't you should come anyway to see what wonderful dolls your little Portland friends have sent to the big Doll Show. For it looks as though all the dolls had come to this grand dolls' carnival to make holiday. Dolls of every complexion, of every race, from every clime. Dolls, dolls, dolls—more than you could count. But anyway, they'll all be here waiting for you to come and see them and admire them today and the other days of the Doll Show.

This Is Your Personal Invitation to Visit the Doll Show

Of course kiddies come first where dolls are concerned, but grownups, too, can have an enjoyable time at the Doll Show and there's room for everybody. Judging will be completed as quickly as possible and formal announcement of the winners in the $275 prize contest will be made in our advertisements of next Sunday.

The Doll Show will be held in the Store Auditorium today, tomorrow and Saturday, and will be open to the public daily from 9:15 to 5:45 P. M. Judges are: Mrs. G. E. Reed, Mrs. D. C. Eccles, Mrs. William Cutlers, Mrs. George Nevins and Mrs. R. B. Caswell.

Boys' All-Wool Mackinaws at $11.95

"Best value in town," says the Boys' Clothing Buyer. Certainly it is out of the ordinary to get such mackinaws as these at $11.95. Fact is we could sell these all wool mackinaws for $15 and are taking almost a fourth off this price, to sell a lot in short order. All weather coats in full belted double breasted models with large roll collars, patch pockets. Hand-some plaids and plain shades. Size 8 to 18 years.

Boys' Suits $22.50

For suits like these $22.50 is not nearly as expensive as is half this price for some of the things we've seen masquerading in the guise of boys' suit "values." These are Sampeck suits—Standard of America in boys' clothing—or of other makes second only to Sampeck and then made extra attractive with an additional pair of knickers—all at this same price of $22.50. Earlier $30 and $35 values for boys 7 to 18 years now priced at average ten dollars less.
