

WILSON CALLS FOR LEAGUE ADOPTION

Address to Delegation First Since Collapse.

WHEEL CHAIR IS OCCUPIED

President Shows Emotion While Reading From Manuscript. Task's Completion Urged.

(Continued From First Page.)

question: Shall we or shall we not re- deem the great moral obligation of the United States?"

"The whole moral force of right in the world," said the president, "de- pends upon the United States rather than upon any other nation. If we would be pitiful indeed if, after so many great free peoples had entered the great league, we should hold aloof."

Remarks Addressed to Nation. While Mr. Wilson spoke directly to the delegation, which had called upon him to obtain a further expression with regard to the league issue, his remarks were addressed to the whole country, under the inscription, "My fellow countrymen."

Declaring that it was "nothing less than tragic" in the great president of the United States should have been brought to such a stricken physical condition as the result of his indefatigable labor for the country and for humanity, the delegation said they felt that this might be the president's "final appeal to the conscience of his countrymen in the supreme moral decision they are called upon to make."

Nothing Else Held Proposed. The president asserted that no one who opposed the adoption of the league of nations had proposed any other "adequate means" of bringing about settled peace, and argued that there was no other available and possible means, "and this means is ready to hand."

Asserting that opponents of the league had tried to persuade the people that the pledge contained in article 10, "the cardinal principle of the assurance of the consent of all the free peoples of the world in the future to see justice done and humanity protected and vindicated."

Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, who acted as spokesman; Theodore Marburg of Baltimore, Edwin F. Gay, president of the New York Evening Post; John F. Morse, chairman of the League of Nations club of Massachusetts; Mrs. Schuyler N. Warren of New York, director of the League for Political Education; Dr. John E. Bark, professor of economics, Columbia university; Dr. John Spencer Bassett, professor of history, Smith college; Colonel Samuel P. Wadsworth, head of the pro- league republican movement of Philadelphia, and Rev. Arthur J. Brown, New York, honorary vice-president of the League to Enforce Peace.

Issue Held Growing Obscure. President Wilson in his address to the delegation said: "My Fellow-Countrymen—It is to be feared that the supreme issue presented for your consideration in the present campaign is growing more obscure rather than clearer by reason of the many arbitrary turns the discussion of this issue has taken. The editors and publishers of the country would render a great service if they would publish the full text of the covenant of the league of nations, because, having read that text, you would be able to judge for yourselves a great many things in which you are now in danger of being misled."

"I hope sincerely that it will be very widely and generally published entirely. It is with a desire to clarify the issue and to assist your judgment that I take the liberty of stating again the case submitted to you, in as simple terms as possible."

Task of War is Recalled. "Three years ago it was my duty to summon you to the concert of war to join the free nations of the world in meeting and ending the most sinister peril that had ever threatened the world in the irresponsible politics of the old world. Your response to the call really settled the fortunes of war."

"You will remember that the morale of the German people broke down long before the strength of the German army was broken. That was obviously because they felt that a great moral force which they could not look in the face had come into the contest and that therefore all their professions of right were discarded and they were unable to pretend that their continuation of the war was not the support of a government that had violated every principle of right and every consideration of humanity."

"It is my privilege to summon you now to the concert of peace and the completion of the great moral achievement on your part which the war represented and in the presence of which the world found a reassurance and a hope for the future that it could have experienced in no other way. We entered the war, as you remember, not merely to beat Germany, but to end the possibility of the renewal of such iniquitous schemes as Germany entered upon."

Peace Assurance Asked. "The war will have been fought in vain and our immense sacrifices thrown away unless we complete the work we then began, and I ask you to consider that there is only one way to assure the world of peace: that is by making it so dangerous to break the peace that no other nation will have the audacity to attempt it. We should not be deceived in supposing that imperialistic schemes ended with the defeat of Germany, or that Germany is the only nation that entertained such schemes or was moved by sinister ambitions and long-standing jealousies to attack the very structure of civilization."

"There are other nations which are likely to be powerfully moved by already moved by commercial jealousy, by the desire to dominate and to have their own way in politics and in enterprise, and it is necessary to check them and to apprise them that the world will be united against them as it was against Germany if they attempt any similar thing."

War's Sacrifices Mentioned. "The mothers and sisters and wives of the country know the sacrifice of war. They feel that we have misled them and compelled them to make an entirely unnecessary sacrifice of their beloved ones if we do not make it as certain as it can be made that no similar sacrifice will be demanded of mothers and sisters and wives in the future. This duty is so plain that it seems to me to constitute a primary demand upon the conscience of every one of us."

that the women of the country would again have to suffer the intolerable burden of a world of war. The league of nations was adopted. The league of nations is the well-considered and deliberate choice of the nations who were opposed to Germany to secure themselves and the rest of the world against the possibility of the war. It will have back of it the watchfulness and material force of all these nations and in such a guarantee of a peaceful future as no well-informed man can question who does not doubt the whole spirit with which the war was conducted against Germany. The great moral influence of the United States will be absolutely thrown away if we do not completely the task which our soldiers and sailors so heroically undertook to execute."

Article Ten Is Held Pledge.

"One thing ought to be said, and said very clearly, about article 10 of the covenant of the league of nations. It is the specific pledge of the members of the league that they will unite to resist exactly the things which Germany attempted, no matter who attempts them in the future. It is as exact a definition as could be given in general terms of the outrage which Germany would have committed if it could."

"Germany violated the territorial integrity of her neighbors and flouted their political independence in order to aggrandize herself and almost every war of history has originated in such designs. It is significant that the nations of the world should have at last combined to defeat the great cause of the world to exercise such concert as may be necessary to prevent such methods. Article 10 is a pledge to the world that the governments of the world gave to their people when they entered the war. They promised their people not only that Germany would be prevented from carrying out her designs, but that the world would be safeguarded in the future from similar designs."

Declared Time to Choose. "We now have to choose whether we will make good or quit. We have joined issue and the issue is between the spirit and purpose of the United States and the spirit of imperialism, no matter where it shows itself. The spirit of imperialism is absolutely opposed to free government, to the safe life of free nations, to the development of peaceful industry, to the completion of the righteous processes of civilization. It seems to me, and I think it will seem to you, that it is our duty to show the indomitable will and irresistible majesty of the high purpose of the United States, so that the part we played in the war as soldiers and sailors may be crowned with the achievement of lasting peace."

"No one who opposes the ratification of the treaty of Versailles and the league of nations has proposed any other adequate means of bringing about settled peace. There are no other available or possible means and this means is ready to hand. They have, on the contrary, tried to persuade you that the league of nations contained in article 10, which is the essential pledge of the whole plan of security in the future, as in the recent past, to see justice done and humanity protected and vindicated."

Real Americanism Pointed Out. "This is the true, the real Americanism. This is the role of leadership and championship of the right which the leaders of the republic included in its original plan. We are so called prating about now is spurious and is a party purpose only. This choice is the supreme choice of the present campaign. It is regrettable that this choice should be associated with a party contest. As compared with the choice of a course of action that now underlies every other choice, the fate of parties is a matter of indifference. Parties are significant now in this contest only because the voters must make up their minds which of the two parties is most likely to secure the indispensable results, which is a matter of great importance to make a more solemn determination than it must now make. The whole future moral force of right in the world depends upon the United States rather than upon any other nation, and it would be pitiful indeed if, after so many great free peoples had entered the great league, we should hold aloof. I suggest that the candidacy of every candidate for whatever office be tested by this question, shall we, or shall we not redeem the great obligations of the United States?"

Delegation Head Speaks. "The president's address was delivered after Hamilton Holt, who headed the delegation, had made the following address: "Mr. President, we are a group of men and women who, although we usually count ourselves republicans, hold steadfastly to the conviction that the league of nations transcends party politics and is the greatest moral issue that has confronted the American people in this generation."

"We have reason to know that we represent a vast number of other republicans throughout the United States, who are ready to put patriotic hold steadfastly to the conviction that the league of nations transcends party politics and is the greatest moral issue that has confronted the American people in this generation."

"As your term of office is drawing to its close and as the people are about to express themselves on the league of nations, which your statesmanship has largely made possible, we feel it our duty to call upon you at this time in order to assure you that there are many republicans who are proud to acknowledge your great services in the realm of international justice and who fully and deeply appreciate the personal sacrifices you have been forced to make for the cause nearest your heart."

Democracy Declared Ideal. "It was you who first focused the heterogeneous and often diverse interests of the war on the ideal of Americanism, which is democracy. It was you who suggested the basis of the war was negotiated. It was you, more than any man, who translated into practical statesmanship the age-old dreams of the poets, the prophets and the philosophers by setting up a league of nations to the end that it could be substituted for competition in international affairs. The acts of statesmanship were undoubtedly the chief factor which brought about the victorious peace which has shorn Germany of her power to subdue her neighbors, has compelled her to make restitution for her crimes, has freed oppressed peoples and has restored ravaged territories, has created new democracies in the likeness of the United States, and above all, has set up the league of nations."

"When our forefathers met at Independence hall, Philadelphia, over 160 years ago and signed the Declaration of Independence, they took no counsel of cowardice, but manfully pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to the principles enunciated in that immortal document. The United States of America resulted."

Final Pledge Is Urged. "If now all the citizens of America who claim to be true friends of the covenant (take no counsel) of cowardice but mutually pledge themselves to the great declaration of interdependence so nobly championed by you and the host of other good men in this and other lands, then the United States will enter the league, united nations of the world will result and our boys whose blood hallow the fields of France will not have died in vain."

MRS. PEETE IN JAIL; MURDER IS CHARGED

Indictment Alleges Slaying of J. C. Denton.

"NOT GUILTY" IS PLEADED

Woman Keeps Head Covered Even in Court as Judge Reads Accusation to Her.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Louise L. Peete of Denver, Colo., charged with the murder of Jacob Charles Denton, wealthy mining promoter, in an indictment returned today by the Los Angeles county grand jury, tonight is in the county jail awaiting trial in the superior court, beginning November 23.

Mrs. Peete appeared before the grand jury for two minutes. She had used those two minutes, it was stated, to tell the grand jurors she had no intention of going to court. She had five minutes later, it was reported, the jury had voted to indict her for the murder of Jacob Charles Denton on or about June 27.

Head Kept Covered. She kept her head covered even after she had entered the courtroom of Judge Willis, where she looked straight before her while the judge read the indictment and while proceedings for the state were conducted by Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney, and Deputies Doran and Turney.

"You have heard the indictment," said the court. "How do you plead, guilty or not guilty?" "Without a second's delay and in a voice loud and clear and firm the accused woman answered: "Not guilty!"

Judge Willis said November 24 was the part we played in the war as soldiers and prosecution and defense agreed on that date.

Shooting Version Alleged Given. The evidence upon which the indictment was based was said to include these alleged facts: There was a trial and prosecution and defense agreed on that date.

She disposed of his automobile. She gave away part of his clothing. She cashed checks bearing the signature of J. C. Denton, it is believed, he had been murdered.

She gave to Deputy District Attorney Doran and Turney an alleged version of what led to the shooting of Denton.

Mrs. Peete's attorney said he might make application for bail for Mrs. Peete after he had familiarized himself with the testimony heard by the grand jury.

NEW YORK TO SEND MISS BRAINERD BACK

Governor Promises to Sign Extradition Papers.

DAY'S DELAY IS GRANTED

Attorney for Alleged Kidnaper Is to Have Time to Prepare Additional Papers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Governor Smith announced today he would grant application by the state of Washington for extradition of Miss Betty Brainerd, Tacoma newspaper woman charged with having kidnaped the 3-year-old son of George T. Slagg from his mother's home in that city. The governor said he would sign the papers tomorrow.

The governor granted the day's delay to give Miss Brainerd's counsel an opportunity to prepare further papers in the case. Miss Brainerd's attorney attempted to show that the kidnaping was done by the boy's father and that she had committed no crime.

Mrs. Ada Cunningham, grandmother of the child, who came from Tacoma and Captain John H. Strickland of the Tacoma police, attended the hearing.

MRS. STAGG IS GRATEFUL Mother of Kidnaped Child Thanks Officers for Assistance.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. Edith Cunningham Stagg, mother of the kidnaped baby Bobby Stagg, was successful in showing the Sheriff Beebe here today expressed her thanks to local authorities who aided her in tracing her child, and added:

"I have little doubt, had it not been for your assistance, we should still be searching. I surely hope your efforts to extradite Miss Brainerd will be successful to show that I found my baby this, ill and so un- natural, I am all the more bitter against the adoption of the law. I may be of any service in the way of assisting the prosecution you will let me hear from you."

Beebe said he had learned that Miss Brainerd had written Seattle friends, asking them to send her $2500 for her lawyer. The deputy said he had been informed the money had not been sent.

COUNCIL GOING CONCERN

League Body Making Good, Says Belgian Representative.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Satisfaction with the version of the covenant of the league of nations had functioned in the period from the formation of the league to the present time, the eve of the first meeting of the league's assembly at Geneva, was expressed to the Belgian representative, minister of Belgium and representative of that nation in the league's council.

At the end of the first chapter of the history of the league with this tenth session, said M. Hymans in his statement, "I think it may be said that the council has performed the duties assigned to it by the covenant."

CONTRACTOR HIGHLY ELATED AT RESULTS Portland Man Says He Can't Say Half Enough Good for Tanlac.

Still another who has cause to be glad that he was induced to take Tanlac is E. F. Prentress, of 316 Russell street here (the kidnaped boy's contractor in house moving and raising. Here is what Mr. Prentress had to say in telling of the benefits he had derived from the use of the medicine:

"What I needed was just an all around building up, and Tanlac has done that very thing for me. Although I was not an invalid, I wasn't a well man by any means, and hadn't been for four years. I had no appetite, and even what I did manage to eat seemed to do me little good. I was continually having very severe headaches, and although I managed to stay on the job, I was losing in strength right along and had little energy for my work. I got where I couldn't sleep well, either, and was in a badly run-down condition."

"A number of my friends had taken Tanlac with such splendid results and spoke so highly of it that I began taking it myself. Well, things have entirely changed for me since taking the medicine, for I have an excellent appetite now, and eat a good square meal every time I sit down to the table. The headaches have all disappeared, my sleep is sound and refreshing, and I've regained all my strength and energy. I just can't say half enough good for Tanlac, and will always give it my highest endorsement."

Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Company, Adv.

"DANDERINE" Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty.

At All Grocers This is the Package—ask for it!

SALEM COACH LET OUT

Improper Conduct Around School Charged to Virgil Egbert.

REVOLUTION IS REPORTED

Bolivian Legation, However, Declares Rumors False.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Because of a general complaint that his conduct was improper about the school, Virgil Egbert, principal of athletics in the Salem high school, today received notice that his services were no longer wanted.

It is said some of the boys of the school complained against Egbert. The complaint was investigated by J. C. Nelson, principal. It is not believed Egbert will carry his case to the school board.

He has a wife and child and has lived in Walla Walla and The Dalles. For a time he attended Washington State college, but was not graduated from the institution.

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 26.—Reports in circulation here of the revolution in Bolivia were officially denied by the Bolivian legation today, officials asserting that the rumors were caused by a street demonstration promoted by an army officer, Major Quintanilla, who was arrested and will be court-martialed, the officials said.

BOYCOTT HELD WAR PREVENTION

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Oct. 27.—The economic boycott feature of the league of nations will prevent future wars, William G. McAadoo declared in a five-minute speech here this afternoon which having very severe headaches, and although I managed to stay on the job, I was losing in strength right along and had little energy for my work. I got where I couldn't sleep well, either, and was in a badly run-down condition."

"A number of my friends had taken Tanlac with such splendid results and spoke so highly of it that I began taking it myself. Well, things have entirely changed for me since taking the medicine, for I have an excellent appetite now, and eat a good square meal every time I sit down to the table. The headaches have all disappeared, my sleep is sound and refreshing, and I've regained all my strength and energy. I just can't say half enough good for Tanlac, and will always give it my highest endorsement."

Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Company, Adv.

CONTRACTOR HIGHLY ELATED AT RESULTS Portland Man Says He Can't Say Half Enough Good for Tanlac.

Still another who has cause to be glad that he was induced to take Tanlac is E. F. Prentress, of 316 Russell street here (the kidnaped boy's contractor in house moving and raising. Here is what Mr. Prentress had to say in telling of the benefits he had derived from the use of the medicine:

"What I needed was just an all around building up, and Tanlac has done that very thing for me. Although I was not an invalid, I wasn't a well man by any means, and hadn't been for four years. I had no appetite, and even what I did manage to eat seemed to do me little good. I was continually having very severe headaches, and although I managed to stay on the job, I was losing in strength right along and had little energy for my work. I got where I couldn't sleep well, either, and was in a badly run-down condition."

"A number of my friends had taken Tanlac with such splendid results and spoke so highly of it that I began taking it myself. Well, things have entirely changed for me since taking the medicine, for I have an excellent appetite now, and eat a good square meal every time I sit down to the table. The headaches have all disappeared, my sleep is sound and refreshing, and I've regained all my strength and energy. I just can't say half enough good for Tanlac, and will always give it my highest endorsement."

Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Company, Adv.

"DANDERINE" Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty.

At All Grocers This is the Package—ask for it!

A few cents buys "Danderine." After an application of "Danderine" you can not find a fallen hair or any dandruff besides every hair shows new life, vigor, brightness, more color and thickness.

DALRYMPLE NOT QUITTING

RESIGNATION AS PROHIBITION DIRECTOR IS DENIED.

Agent for Central States Contradicts Announcement at Chicago Federal Building.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—After it had been announced at the federal building today that Major A. W. Dalrymple, federal prohibition director for the central states, had resigned, telegrams were received from Major Dalrymple in Washington saying he had not resigned and did not intend to quit.

Chief of Police John J. Garrity tonight was served with a subpoena to appear before the federal grand jury tomorrow in connection with the investigation of illegal whisky traffic.

The subpoena was issued after "Mike de Piko," Heller, ex-saloon keeper and convict, had been questioned by federal officials, who were credited him with making a confession which implicated government officers and officials of several middle western towns in alleged illegal liquor traffic.

WILLIAM SMITH IN RACE

Voters Asked to Write in Name for Supreme Court Office.

BAKER, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—William Smith, who was mentioned editorially last week by the Morning Democrat for the position of justice of state supreme court, now is being considered throughout this district as a possible successor to A. S. Bennett, resigned. Judge Smith has practiced law in Baker for 31 years and served as a state senator from Baker county from 1898 to 1902; was a member of the University of Oregon law school from 1898 to 1917, and was circuit judge of the Eighth judicial district from 1904 to 1912. He now is making campaign tours in eastern Oregon in behalf of Governor Cox.

Judge Smith having pledged himself to devote his entire time in the present campaign to support Cox, it was to make any campaign for his position on the supreme bench. However, he has requested all voters to write in his name on the ballot.

POET REPLIES TO CRITICS

APPEAL TO GERMAN PROFESSORS IS DEFENDED.

People in England Held to Talk of Forgiving if There Were Nothing to Fear.

SALEM COACH LET OUT

Improper Conduct Around School Charged to Virgil Egbert.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Because of a general complaint that his conduct was improper about the school, Virgil Egbert, principal of athletics in the Salem high school, today received notice that his services were no longer wanted.

It is said some of the boys of the school complained against Egbert. The complaint was investigated by J. C. Nelson, principal. It is not believed Egbert will carry his case to the school board.

He has a wife and child and has lived in Walla Walla and The Dalles. For a time he attended Washington State college, but was not graduated from the institution.

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 26.—Reports in circulation here of the revolution in Bolivia were officially denied by the Bolivian legation today, officials asserting that the rumors were caused by a street demonstration promoted by an army officer, Major Quintanilla, who was arrested and will be court-martialed, the officials said.

BOYCOTT HELD WAR PREVENTION

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Oct. 27.—The economic boycott feature of the league of nations will prevent future wars, William G. McAadoo declared in a five-minute speech here this afternoon which having very severe headaches, and although I managed to stay on the job, I was losing in strength right along and had little energy for my work. I got where I couldn't sleep well, either, and was in a badly run-down condition."

"A number of my friends had taken Tanlac with such splendid results and spoke so highly of it that I began taking it myself. Well, things have entirely changed for me since taking the medicine, for I have an excellent appetite now, and eat a good square meal every time I sit down to the table. The headaches have all disappeared, my sleep is sound and refreshing, and I've regained all my strength and energy. I just can't say half enough good for Tanlac, and will always give it my highest endorsement."

Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Company, Adv.

"DANDERINE" Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty.

At All Grocers This is the Package—ask for it!

NEW YORK TO SEND MISS BRAINERD BACK

Governor Promises to Sign Extradition Papers.

DAY'S DELAY IS GRANTED

Attorney for Alleged Kidnaper Is to Have Time to Prepare Additional Papers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Governor Smith announced today he would grant application by the state of Washington for extradition of Miss Betty Brainerd, Tacoma newspaper woman charged with having kidnaped the 3-year-old son of George T. Slagg from his mother's home in that city. The governor said he would sign the papers tomorrow.

The governor granted the day's delay to give Miss Brainerd's counsel an opportunity to prepare further papers in the case. Miss Brainerd's attorney attempted to show that the kidnaping was done by the boy's father and that she had committed no crime.

Mrs. Ada Cunningham, grandmother of the child, who came from Tacoma and Captain John H. Strickland of the Tacoma police, attended the hearing.

MRS. STAGG IS GRATEFUL Mother of Kidnaped Child Thanks Officers for Assistance.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. Edith Cunningham Stagg, mother of the kidnaped baby Bobby Stagg, was successful in showing the Sheriff Beebe here today expressed her thanks to local authorities who aided her in tracing her child, and added:

"I have little doubt, had it not been for your assistance, we should still be searching. I surely hope your efforts to extradite Miss Brainerd will be successful to show that I found my baby this, ill and so un- natural, I am all the more bitter against the adoption of the law. I may be of any service in the way of assisting the prosecution you will let me hear from you."

Beebe said he had learned that Miss Brainerd had written Seattle friends, asking them to send her $2500 for her lawyer. The deputy said he had been informed the money had not been sent.

COUNCIL GOING CONCERN

League Body Making Good, Says Belgian Representative.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Satisfaction with the version of the covenant of the league of nations had functioned in the period from the formation of the league to the present time, the eve of the first meeting of the league's assembly at Geneva, was expressed to the Belgian representative, minister of Belgium and representative of that nation in the league's council.

At the end of the first chapter of the history of the league with this tenth session, said M. Hymans in his statement, "I think it may be said that the council has performed the duties assigned to it by the covenant."

CONTRACTOR HIGHLY ELATED AT RESULTS Portland Man Says He Can't Say Half Enough Good for Tanlac.

Still another who has cause to be glad that he was induced to take Tanlac is E. F. Prentress, of 316 Russell street here (the kidnaped boy's contractor in house moving and raising. Here is what Mr. Prentress had to say in telling of the benefits he had derived from the use of the medicine:

"What I needed was just an all around building up, and Tanlac has done that very thing for me. Although I was not an invalid, I wasn't a well man by any means, and hadn't been for four years. I had no appetite, and even what I did manage to eat seemed to do me little good. I was continually having very severe headaches, and although I managed to stay on the job, I was losing in strength right along and had little energy for my work. I got where I couldn't sleep well, either, and was in a badly run-down condition."

"A number of my friends had taken Tanlac with such splendid results and spoke so highly of it that I began taking it myself. Well, things have entirely changed for me since taking the medicine, for I have an excellent appetite now, and eat a good square meal every time I sit down to the table. The headaches have all disappeared, my sleep is sound and refreshing, and I've regained all my strength and energy. I just can't say half enough good for Tanlac, and will always give it my highest endorsement."

Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Company, Adv.

"DANDERINE" Stops Hair Coming Out; Doubles Its Beauty.

At All Grocers This is the Package—ask for it!

REPUBLICANS PLAN BIG RALLY

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—King county republicans will hold a big rally Saturday night, it was announced today. United States Senators Jones and Polinder, Governor Hart and Representative Miller will be the speakers. State Chairman Herb and County Chairman Jones have joined forces to make the rally the greatest republican meeting of the campaign. It was stated.

Postoffice to Have New Location. HOOD RIVER, Or., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The postoffice department will receive bids on new quarters for an office here. Bids on 1800 feet of floor space on a five or ten-year lease, beginning March 1, 1921, are called for.

The Moors are credited with having introduced cotton manufacturing into London in 1590.

PACIFIC NUT BUTTER

Company Helps Housewives Reduce Cost of Living

Nut butter is now a generally accepted household commodity; the little prejudice that existed when it was first introduced has vanished. Millions of pounds of this excellent product are consumed in American homes every day.

Like everything else, it had to be perfected, and is the perfected product---a 100% article---made of the rich, creamy oils from South Sea Island Cocoanuts and churned in pure, pasteurized milk. No animal fats of any kind. It's a western product, made by experts, under ideal sanitary conditions.

PACIFIC NUT Margarine

Pacific Nut Margarine can be used on the table or for cooking. It is admirable for making cakes and all family pastry. It is excellent for seasoning meats and vegetables. Its inviting appearance and delicate flavor instantly appeal to the housewife. It is positively pure and eminently economical.

At All Grocers

