M. CHRISTENSEN BURIED

Impressive Rites Attended by Scores; Poisoning Caused Death. Impressive and largely attended funeral services were held yesterday for Mose Christensen, who died last Saturday, in the Good Samaritan hospital, from heart disease, which according to diagnosis was principally caused by blood poisoning due to infected teeth.

Development of paper manufacture in Alaska is now one of the chief items toward which the forest service is working, according to Philip H. Dater, district engineer of the forest department, who recently returned from a two-months trip to southeastern Alaska.

Much local interest in paper manufacturing is developing in Alaska and it is probable Alaskan capital will finance the building of a plant soon, Mr. Dater says.

On the trip Mr. Dater inspected the road and trails now under construction for the forest service. About 35 miles of road is being built by the forest service there this year in addition to opening up trails to some of the larger lakes and power sites.

The territorial road commission is co-operating in the building of road roads, many of which tap mining regions or open up country for tourist travel.
