

MAJORS END WAR; LANDIS IS DICTATOR

Proposal for Civilian Tribunal Is Rejected.

SALARY TO BE $42,500

Representatives of 16 American and National Clubs Agree After 3-Hour Session.

League club, proposed that control of the game be placed in civilian hands as an assurance to the public that there would be no more scandals. A letter was sent to all club owners making this proposition. A meeting was called here and all the major league clubs except the Washington, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis American league clubs sent representatives.

At this meeting the 11 clubs went on record as favoring the Lasker plan and notified the other five clubs that unless they joined in the plan by November 2, 12 club league would be formed. Last Monday both factions met here and when the five clubs named refused to join the National League was formed with the 11 clubs and a 12th to be chosen later as its members.

At this meeting the 11 clubs went on record as favoring the Lasker plan and notified the other five clubs that unless they joined in the plan by November 2, 12 club league would be formed.

All Details Not Yet Fixed. "We've made a real peace—one that will last" was the comment of President William Veeck of the Chicago National League club as the meeting broke up. "The full details of the reorganization have not been settled, of course, but we expect to issue a formal statement soon, telling all about it. It's enough to say now that the war is over and everyone of us is mightily glad of it."

Today's meeting was arranged at the minor league convention in Kansas City a few days after the clubs favoring the Lasker plan had formed a new 12-club league—which now automatically is thrown out of existence. Presidents John Heydler of the National League and Ban Johnson of the American League were absent.

Judge Landis in a national figure. The important cases he has passed upon, and his wit and sarcasm, sometimes humorous and sometimes caustic, which he directs at prisoners and counsel from his bench have made him famous.

Baseball One of Hobbies. Baseball always has been one of his hobbies. In the little town of Logansport, Ind., where he was reared, the judge played amateur and semi-professional teams. His brilliant playing brought him many offers to become a professional ball player, but he always declined, saying he played merely for sport and love of the game.

In 1914 Judge Landis presided in the legal battle which resulted from the greatest baseball war in history—the fight of the Federal League against the National and American leagues. The judge never rendered a decision in this case, however, for it was settled out of court while he was still forming his official opinion.

World Series Seldom Missed. Judge Landis has missed many major league games here every year and seldom misses a world's series. At the annual classic he generally may be found in a box back of third base, his old black slouch hat pulled down over his eyes and a long black cape falling from his shoulders.

Judge Landis was born in Millville, O., November 26, 1858, and was named for Kennesaw mountain near Atlanta, Ga., where his father was wounded in the civil war. He first became nationally prominent when he fined the Standard Oil company $25,000 after forcing John D. Rockefeller to come here to testify. The decision was reversed by the appellate court, however.

"Bill" Haywood Sentenced. During the world war he presided at the famous W. W. trial in sentencing "Big Bill" Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the organization, and 22 other members to prison. Shortly afterward an explosion at a federal building killed several persons, but the judge was uninjured. He also sentenced Victor Berger, representative in congress, to prison for alleged obstruction of the nation's war preparations.

Judge Landis drew congressional attention shortly after the war. He found that most of the lawyers appearing before him were wearing wrist watches had not been in the service. "Have all these wrist-watch lawyers file a statement what branch of the service they were in," he ordered the clerk.

Senator Thomas of Colorado, in an address in the senate, said Judge Landis should be impeached for his order. The judge's only comment was: "Don't it beat the devil what senators will do to pass the time away?" Judge Landis' caustic or humorous—verbal attacks from the bench are directed at men in all stations in life. One day he scathingly denounced a corporation and the next day sympathized with and helps some unfortunate prisoner brought before him. His favorite expression is: "Take this man up to Mabel's room (the jail), or 'Take him to room 25 and give him the easy chair."

Owners Issue Statement. The following statement was issued by the 16 club owners after the meeting: "At the joint meeting of the 16 club owners of the major leagues today Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis was unanimously elected as the head of organized baseball for seven years. The clubs of the American and National leagues were represented by club owners and club presidents. All of the differences existing between members of the American and National leagues were adjusted in such a manner that the decision was agreeable to all. The following men were in the meeting room: Cleveland, James C. Dunn; Chicago, Charles A. Comiskey, Harry Chabiner; Boston, Harry Frazee; New York, Jacob Ruppert; Philadelphia, Theodore Shibe, Connie Mack; St. Louis, Phil Ball, Robert Quinn; Detroit, Frank C. Navin; Washington, Clark Griffith. "National League—Boston, George W. Grant; Brooklyn, Charles H. Ebbets; Chicago, William L. Veeck, D. LEAGUE SUBSTITUTE DECLARED CHILDISH

Peruvian Delegate Predicts Dislike of Change.

CHILE TREATY RECALLED

To Kill Budding Organization for Substitute Meets With Disapproval.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Suggestions from the United States that the present league of nations should be superseded by another world body and not likely to be met with approval by the assembly as expressed in an interview in L'Esclair today. Although President-Elect Harding has spoken of the desecration of the league, he might be mistaken, Dr. Cornejo said. To wish to kill a budding organization, he continued, in order to create another, is an unwise and dangerous and childish proceeding.

"The Peruvian and Bolivian governments on November 1," he continued, "asked the league to examine the treaties Peru and Bolivia were forced to sign with Chile in 1883 and 1904. There is nothing in these requests which can wound Chile, a member of the league, since these three countries naturally have confidence in their respective rights and have accepted the obligations of the pact containing article 19. (This article provides that the assembly of the league 'may from time to time advise the reconsideration by members of the league of treaties which have become inapplicable and the consideration of international conditions whose continuance might endanger the peace of the world')."

"Nothing would prevent one or the other of them, it would seem, from applying this doctrine to the grave difference dividing them, which does not appear likely to be settled by any other peaceful method. "We must hope that Chile will be the first to support with good grace the requests made on this question. However, that may be, Peru and Bolivia have only in view the maintenance of South American peace. "The league of nations would do an inestimable service to the cause of justice in general by acting in a case so characteristic as this."

Referring to the question as to whether the league had the means to make its decisions respected, he said: "You will observe for the moment we only ask that the treaties in dispute be studied, but an institution in which the governments of the principal powers are represented cannot lack the means of affirming its authority."

committee on reconstruction. He said some estimates placed it as high as 50,000. Crowded conditions and congestion made fighting disease difficult, he asserted. "Lack of dwellings and high rents have caused families to rent 'in partnership' with the willing declared."

Mayor of Vienna Is Elected. VIENNA, Nov. 12.—Dr. Richard Weiskirchner, for many years mayor of Vienna, has been elected first president of the Austrian National assembly at the first session of the newly elected assembly, which met today and organized.

Attention is called in the application to the fact that Austria was given assurance when she signed the treaty of St. Germain that she would be admitted to the league at the proper time and it says the proper time has come. Austria, it explains, being ready to fulfill all her international engagements, thinks she ought to belong to the family of nations. The secretariat has received no intimation that Germany will apply for admission.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.
