MAYOR INDORSES HOME

WAVERLY REFUGE FOR BABIES HELD WORTHY CHARITY.

Personal Investigation Convinces Executive That Institution Should Be Supported.

The Waverly Baby home is in sore need of more adequate quarters and more modern equipment, according to Mayor Baker, who has prepared a report on conditions found at the home, upon personal investigation, made following the report that an epidemic was prevailing in the institution.

Bronchial pneumonia and not dysentery was named as the cause of death, in the report of an autopsy on the infant whose demise brought about the investigation. The autopsy was performed by Dr. Frank N. Menne of the University of Oregon Medical school, who added that mild dysentery was a contributing cause.

Mayor Baker, according to his report, found that conditions regarding sickness, as reported in the newspapers, were true. At the time of his investigation, made Wednesday, six babies were found to be extremely sick and about 14 others were more or less sick. The physicians, the mayor reports, including two of the leading baby specialists of the city, are doing and have been doing everything possible to correct the trouble, although the cause for the illness, the mayor finds, still is uncertain.

"The only criticism that I could see in the matter of the existing epidemic is that it was not reported to the health bureau of the city as soon as it should have been," the mayor reports. "Whether anything more could have been done if it had been generally known sooner is uncertain, but such report immediately would have headed off much of the criticism of the institution.

"I found the institution to be sanitary in every respect. Everything is clean. The only criticism that appears justified is that an institution such as this should have to operate without thoroughly modern quarters and the best of skilled help. This is only possible by public support. Conducting such an institution without adequate funds is a serious handicap. So far as I am able to determine the institution has capable help. The medical part of the institution is cared for, apparently, in the very best manner by men thoroughly capable and conscientious.

"My earnest desire, after having investigated this home, is to see the public support it in such a way that it can be continued and greatly improved."

AUTO REPAIR MEN ELECT

C. L. Weaver to Head Organization for Next Year.

C. L. Weaver was elected president of the Portland Automotive Trades association at the annual meeting of the association held Wednesday night at the Benson hotel. He succeeds W. J. Lester. Other officers chosen were: Axel Kildahl, first vice-president; Edward Burke, second vice-president; L. L. Blumenthal, third vice-president; R. H. Cross, secretary, and Don Bates, treasurer.

The suggestion made at the recent meeting that the name be changed from the Portland Garage and Repairmen's association to the Portland Automotive Trades association was passed upon favorably at the meeting and the organization immediately assumed the new name.

Spectacles vs. Noseglasses
In the Public

The writer wore noseglasses for more than 10 years. He does not now know just why he wore them so long, but he is emphatically sure that he wore them too long.
He now wears spectacles—the kind that hook over your ears and stay on. They have tortoise shell rims and gold bows and they furnish more comfort to the hour than he ever dreamed of.
If your glasses come off, GET SPECTACLES. If your nose gets sore GET SPECTACLES. If you break your lenses frequently GET SPECTACLES. If you have to bend over your work GET SPECTACLES.
An examination here will determine the "just right" kind.

MRS. M. C. CROWLEY, of Los Angeles, who says Tanlac completely restored her health after everything else, even a change of climate, failed to help her in the least.

"I came to Los Angeles trying to regain my health, but I didn't get any better, even in this wonderful climate, until I began taking Tanlac," said Mrs. M. C. Crowley, who lives at 1041 South Hill street, Los Angeles, the other day.
"I was so weak and broken down that I was hardly able to get about at all. I suffered terribly after my meals on account of my food souring and gas forming on my stomach, and I would feel so tight that I could hardly get a good breath. My appetite left me and I was so nervous that I couldn't stand the least noise and I never knew what it was to get a good night's sleep.
"I tried dieting for more than two years, but that didn't help me any, for I was continually getting worse all the time and actually lost 25 pounds in weight.
"All the different treatments and medicines I took failed to do me the least bit of good.
"I know from my personal experience with it that Tanlac is a good medicine, for as soon as I began taking it, I began to improve. Why, it is perfectly wonderful the way I have gained in strength, weight and every other way, and I now feel like a different woman entirely.
"I have a fine appetite and my nerves are in such perfect condition that I sleep soundly every night. I never suffer from sour stomach and gas forming after meals and, in fact, all my troubles have just gradually disappeared since taking Tanlac.
"I feel so thankful over my improvement that I am glad to have the opportunity to recommend Tanlac to everybody."
Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug company.—Adv.
