

5 FIGHTS SCHEDULED FOR HEILIG TONIGHT

34 Rounds of Scrapping Are Promised by Promoters.

FAST BOUTS EXPECTED

Card Includes Hard Fighters and Boxers, and Only One Match May Go to Finish.

BY DICK SHARP.

Five bouts, totaling 34 rounds of scrapping, will be presented at the Heilig theater tonight under the auspices of the Portland boxing commission, with Sam Langford, Boston negro heavyweight, meeting Tiny Herman in the main event of ten rounds.

Al Grunan, clever Los Angeles lightweight, who showed an abundance of class against Willie St. Clair on the last Portland card, will battle Young Sam Langford of Seattle in the eight-round semi-final.

Fighters usually do little work the day before a fight, but Langford was out on the road bright and early yesterday morning and tapered off with gymnasium work in the afternoon.

Boy Sutherland isn't as classy a performer as Pugsy Morton, but the youngster can hit like an army mule, and if he catches the dancing Pugsy squarely Morton will have something to worry about.

Tiny Herman and Chat McIntyre arrived yesterday from Tacoma. McIntyre also has Young Jack Dempsey with him. Chat says that Young Jack not only looks like the heavyweight champ, but fights like him.

George Eagles, San Francisco lightweight who is now living here, beat a 140-pounder named Jimmy Cortal in Spokane Wednesday night. According to reports of the fight it was a real battle.

Freddie Lough, young Portland 123-pounder, is ready for another whirl at the game after a six months' lay-off. Lough says that he has decided to settle down and do some real training. When right, Freddie is one of the fastest youngsters developed around here. He has been working daily with Ted Hoke.

Terry Keller and Sam Langford may meet in a six-round battle in Aberdeen, Wash., the night of December 8. Both men have been approached about the battle, and Keller is willing, but Langford has not yet agreed to the terms offered.

Boy McCormick arrived yesterday morning from Seattle, where he polished off Jim Flynn in a four-round bout Tuesday night. McCormick experienced no trouble whatever from his much heavier and more experienced opponent, and handled Jim as he willed. Just as the bell rang in the second round McCormick caught Flynn with a right-hand wallop that put him down for a spell. Boy picked him up and carried him to his corner, where he retreated in time for the start of the third round.

The Irish champion will rest up until tomorrow night and then resume training for his ten-round match with Battling Lewinsky at the Millwaukie arena next Wednesday night.

McCormick was offered a six-round match with Frank Farmer in Tacoma, but turned it down. The terms of the purse it would be possible to say him.

Joe Egan of Boston and Joe Simonich of Butte, Mont., are slated to head next Tuesday night's boxing card in Seattle. Simonich fought draw with Travis Davis in Seattle two weeks ago and made a hit.

Weldon Wing, Portland featherweight, will meet Bert Forbes of Seattle in Vancouver, B. C. tomorrow night. They are scheduled to box six rounds.

End Riley will box Jack Davis in Tacoma tonight. Al Nelson meets Macario Flores in the semi-windup.

WINGED M LINEUP PICKED

MOST OF PLAYERS IN AGGIE GAME WILL BE USED.

Sabers Practice on Multnomah Field - In Preparation for Contest.

Harry Dorman, coach of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club football eleven, was so well pleased with the showing of his string of players against the Oregon Aggies on Thanksgiving day that he intends to start practicing the eleven in the game with the Pacific fleet team Saturday.

against the Oregon Aggies. They will both be out in uniform Saturday and in all probability will have a chance to show against the sailors. To perfect their team work the Winged M team held a practice session last night and will be out under the arc lights again tonight.

Lieutenant-Commander Jonas Ingram, coach of the Pacific fleet team, took his men out to Multnomah field again yesterday afternoon for their daily workout. The fleet team is not to be confused with the ordinary sailor team, made up of boys who are strong and willing, but who lack football knowledge. It is composed of men who played real college football, and they are the pick of the entire fleet.

PACIFIC TITLE QUESTION

SCHOLASTIC FOOTBALL TEAMS WANTED AT PASADENA.

Everett and Long Beach Contest Suggested as Curtain Raiser for New Year's Game.

There is no question that the University of California football team stands out as the unquestioned collegiate champion team of this coast. Last week it seemed that Long Beach high school held the same relative position in scholastic football. Now Long Beach has a legitimate rival in the Everett high school team.

Long Beach has a remarkable record and a string of victories that bears witness to the prowess of the southern California school. But so has Everett high. The Everett high school, under the coaching of Enoch Bagshaw, has produced a school team unquestionably the greatest that has been produced in the northwest for many years. There are experts who do not hesitate to say the Everett team is the superior of any northern high school of all time.

The East high school of Salt Lake, Utah, holder of the Utah scholastic championship for two years past, was defeated by Everett a couple of weeks ago by the score of 67 points to nothing. It was the first defeat suffered by Utah in two years. Last year Everett held Scott high of Toledo to a 7-0 tie score. Scott being the recognized eastern champion.

Now the question comes up as to whether Everett or Long Beach is the Pacific coast scholastic champion. There is only one way to settle the question, and that is to arrange for the teams to meet. There is no question that such a game would be a big feature in Los Angeles.

If the Tournament of Roses committee wants a real curtain-raiser for that day, here is the ideal game. If the tournament committee were properly approached, it is possible they would be able to find a way to stage this affair prior to the University of California vs. Ohio State match. It is worth while for one of the other interested schools to start the ball rolling.

The Pacific northwest is getting ready for its ice hockey season. The 1920-1921 championship season opens Monday, December 20, at Vancouver, B. C. when the team from Seattle plays Vancouver. This season's matches are opening one week earlier than usual, which will give each team in the league 12 home games before the title is finally decided.

It is also expected that Frank Hohl of Aberdeen will get a letter, though he has not played in every game. SEIZURE OF BUILDING RECORDS IS UPHOLD

Last Legal Obstacle to Investigation Removed.

SOME EVIDENCE IS LOST

Stenographer Says She Was Told to Destroy "Quotation Cards" of Builders' Supply Bureau.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The last legal obstacle to prevent the joint legislative committee investigating the "building trust" from making inquiry into the activities of the builders' supply bureau was cleaned away tonight, when Supreme Court Justice Hotchkiss decided the committee could retain possession of the books and records seized as evidence in yesterday's hearing.

Justice Hotchkiss also refused Martin Conboy, counsel for the bureau, to stay to prevent the recall of Joseph Penny, chairman of the organization, as a witness. After being blocked in its investigation of the books of the bureau by the injunction, which Justice Hotchkiss vacated, the committee today progressed with its investigation, hearing an admission from Miss Elizabeth O'Brien, stenographer employed by the bureau, that she had destroyed the much-sought "quotation cards" of the bureau's card system of estimates.

Miss O'Brien, who was once cited for contempt by the legislative committee, declared she had destroyed the cards, at the direction of a member of the bureau, whose name she could not recall. She asserted, however, that she had done so "some months" before the launching of the inquiry and after the system had come into disuse.

The "quotation cards" were sought as evidence by the committee which heard testimony today that the card system was employed by the bureau to establish a uniformity in prices. While the committee was hearing testimony regarding the activities of the bureau and the association of leaders in union builders' supply, a number of witnesses, including six employees of John T. Hotchkiss, alleged promoter of the "building trust," were being heard by the extraordinary grand jury investigating the housing situation.

Brick Situation Investigated. While the committee made an investigation into the brick situation today by hearing W. D. Goss, president of the Empire Brick Supply company, it was learned that a corps of process servers had been out with subpoenas for a number of Hudson valley brick manufacturers, who are alleged to make up the "brick trust." The manufacturers, it was stated, have been requested to appear tomorrow with their books.

As Mr. Goss was leaving the stand he attempted to make a statement on housing, but was stopped by Mr. Untermeyer, who remarked: "I don't think this is the time to hear statements regarding housing from a witness who is in contempt of this house. When you purge yourself of contempt we may sit at your feet and listen to education." Alvin G. Martin, steamship operator, testified he had made an unsuccessful attempt to sell or "give away" 1200 tons of high-grade building sand which had been brought from Amsterdam as ballast by a steamship. As no local dealers would "touch or look at" the sand, he said, he finally hired a barge and had the material dumped at sea at a cost of $2 a ton.

Reports to this effect had been circulated for some time, but official announcement of contracts having been signed was not made public until today.

Rickard said the fight will be staged in Madison Square garden unless the state boxing commission should prevent it. The size of the purse was not made public.

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 1.—Negotiations were opened between Jack Keenan, manager of Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight pugilist, and Al Thatcher, Toledo promoter, today with a view to staging the proposed Dempsey-Carpentier match in Toledo. Thatcher received a telegram from Keenan in New York City asking the promoter to "look over the ground here and report to him by telephone." Thatcher said today that he would go before the boxing commission for a permit for a decision bout if he can make "a satisfactory deal with Keenan."

The Salem armory, which was used for all home games last year, has been secured for varsity use during the succeeding basketball season, although the early workouts of the squad are being held on the gym floor.
