

OFFICIALS AT ODDS AS TO QUOR CASES

Washington Director and District Attorney Differ.

PROCEDURE IS ISSUE

Agent Charges Prosecutor of Refusing to Invoke Conspiracy Law Against Runners.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 1.—(Special)—Charges made by Donald A. McDonald, federal prohibition director, now in British Columbia, that United States District Attorney Saunders "has drawn the teeth of the Volstead act" have started a war within a war here.

Director McDonald is waging war on run runners, and is in British Columbia to gather information to assist Saunders, who by virtue of his office is counted as prohibition director's chief supporter.

But Director McDonald charges Mr. Saunders has refused to invoke the conspiracy statute against gangs of whiskey runners.

Files Opened in Reply.

Mr. Saunders has replied by opening the files of his official correspondence in an effort to show that he has offered Director McDonald all assistance possible.

The two democratic appointees are at loggerheads over the question of legal procedure against the run runners.

Director McDonald pleads for full enforcement of the conspiracy statute. Attorney Saunders doubts the wisdom of using the conspiracy statute in any but exceptional cases.

Procedure is Explained.

Mr. Saunders this morning showed a letter from Mr. McDonald, dated Tacoma, November 19, in which the prohibition director declared "there is much merit" in the district attorney's suggestion as to when the conspiracy statute should be invoked in preference to prosecution under the Volstead or prohibition enforcement act.

Mr. Saunders explained that, when proceeding under the enforcement act, information may be filed direct in the district court and convictions the automobiles or other vehicles used in the commission of the offense may be seized while conspiracy is a felony and complaints must first be filed with the United States commissioners and if further prosecution is desired the facts and circumstances must be submitted to grand jurors for indictments before trials are had.

Obituary.

EUGENE, Or., Dec. 1.—(Special)—Evan S. Gray, a pioneer of Lane county, died at Eugene, Idaho, on November 29, according to word received here. He was 81 years old.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Dec. 1.—(Special)—Harry Gallagher, former resident of this city, died suddenly Sunday at Willows, Cal., according to a message received by Mrs. Gallagher's mother, Mrs. Mary McGuire. He is survived by his widow, a native of Klamath Falls and widely known for her work as a gatekeeper at the McCleary door plant. He is survived by four daughters and three sons.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 1.—(Special)—William Ross of McCleary, Wash., died recently. Ross was about 82 years of age, a native of Oregon, but did not know his exact age, having been captured by Minnesota Indians in his youth and having lived with them for a considerable period. He was a blacksmith and worked at that business until about eight years ago, when he was given the lighter work of gatekeeper at the McCleary door plant. He is survived by four daughters and three sons.

ST. PAUL WOMAN REGAINS HEALTH

Many Debilitated Women Will Find New Hope in Words of Mrs. Boyd.

"I was miserable for six months as a result of a general breakdown in my health," said Mrs. William McK. Boyd, of No. 593 West Central avenue, St. Paul, Minn. "I was tired all the time, but could not sleep well. My digestion was so poor that I was in distress after eating a meal and the undigested food caused my stomach to bloat. I had severe headaches and when they disappeared my temples were sore. I had smothering spells after trying to do some small household task that formerly caused little effort.

"When I saw that I was getting worse all the time, I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which I had read about. At the end of a week's treatment I was able to sleep better and felt a little better in the morning. I took the remedy for five weeks and at the end of that time I was nearly as well as I have ever been. I do not have any stomach trouble now and my food is giving me strength. I very seldom have a headache and no longer have smothering spells. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills helped me and I can certainly recommend them to others in need of a tonic."

There are many people who are sick and discouraged but still have no disease that justifies the attention of a family physician. These people need a tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves, and tone up the entire system. In most cases of general debility they are all the medicine that is needed to restore health.

A valuable booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free upon request. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box, by Dr. J. C. Williams, Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.—Adv.

into Albany. With the exception of one year spent at Vancouver she had lived here since.

Mrs. Leverich was a member of the Albany lodge of Royal Neighbors. She is survived by her husband, A. W. Leverich, and three daughters, Miss Jessie Leverich of Albany, Mrs. Yashti Orndorff of Montezano, Wash., and Mrs. Theola Lewis of Albany.

Funeral services will be held from the Fliley chapel at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for the late Samuel B. Houston, state senator and well-known Portland lawyer, who dropped dead in the federal courtroom shortly before 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.

Services will be conducted by Rev. Elvan P. Hughes. Dr. Stuart McGuire will sing.

Honorary pallbearers will include Chief Justice McBride of the state supreme court, E. B. Tongue of Ellensburg, Mrs. L. J. Jones, M. W. McCredie, Max H. Houser and J. B. Kerr.

THE DALLES, Dec. 1.—(Special)—After an illness of several months, A. W. Mohr, county assessor, died at his ranch near Lindsay this morning. He was 65 years old. At the time, with his brother Paul, he constructed a portage railroad from The Dalles to Celilo for carrying freight from the steamboats above Celilo. The construction of the Celilo canal by the government caused the road to become bankrupt. He is survived by his widow and four sons.

BOYS SHUNT SECURITIES

COURIERS OF WALL STREET CARELESS WITH WEALTH.

Stocks and Bonds Worth Scores of Millions of Dollars Thrown About in Rush Deliveries.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Half a dozen of the couriers used by Wall street in settling daily accounts by actual delivery of stocks and bonds worth scores of millions of dollars furnished the chief interest at today's session of the trial of Jules W. (Nickie) Aronson and members of the bankrupt firm of D. W. Sullivan & Co.

Ranging from 16 to 19 years in age, these witnesses described their routine duty of carrying securities of great value through crowded New York streets. Counsel for Aronson, Sullivan, J. S. Bowles and W. W. Hastings, all of whom are charged with conspiring to bring stolen securities into the District of Columbia, developed through cross-examination that on reaching his destination a broker's messenger often would thrust his package of bonds into a clerk's window and proceed to the next office without waiting to see if they were secured by the proper person.

Two of the messengers, it was shown, still were employed by firms which had lost thousands of dollars because of this custom.

FARMERS GET WARNING

County Agent Tells of Menace of Blacktail Rabbits.

PASCO, Wash., Dec. 1.—(Special)—County Agent Scott has begun sending out through the Farm Bureau News a warning to the farmers of this county that unless immediate action is taken looking to the extermination of the blacktail rabbit, thousands of dollars worth of crops will be destroyed by these pests.

About 20 years ago this species of rabbit migrated from Idaho to Oregon, working up as far as the Snake river in Washington. About 10 years ago they came to the river and made his first appearance in Franklin county, crossing on the ice.

About 20 years ago this species of rabbit multiplied very rapidly, and Mr. Scott says that if measures are not taken to prevent a further increase, in another 10 years it will be impossible to raise a crop in this county. Under Mr. Scott's direction, several drives are being planned for the purpose of destroying as many of these pests as possible.

MINE STOCK DELIVERED

Salesman Is Alleged Not to Have Reported Sales.

SALEM, Or., Dec. 1.—(Special)—Officers of the Salem Mining company with headquarters in Portland were in Salem today delivering certificates of stock to the corporation to investors who alleged that they had paid various sums of money to C. M. Chappell, who acted as local agent of the company from last January until the middle of October. It was said that no report of these sales had been made to the company by Chappell.

Chappell suddenly left Salem in October with the result that C. M. Carson, local garage operator, L. T. Durbin, Southern Pacific fireman and J. E. Gibbons, banker, combined to form a mining company that they had failed to receive certificates for stock they had purchased from the agent.

During his residence in Salem Mr. Chappell stayed at a hotel, dressed in immaculate fashion, and took an active part in social affairs.

MANY MILLS CLOSE DOWN

Washington Lumbermen Said to Be Operating at Loss.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Dec. 1.—(Special)—A meeting of lumbermen and loggers of this district was held Monday in Centralia, at which it developed that about one-half of the mills are closed on account of market conditions and those that are operating are not considered good, and it was conceded Monday that an early reduction in wages of at least 20 per cent is inevitable.

At least 50 per cent of the mills represented at the meeting reported that they could not operate without a loss, even with a 20 per cent reduction in wages, and would close down until the demand improved.

RAID NETS TWO STILLS

Police Sally Forth at Midnight and Make Arrests.

A police raid at midnight Tuesday on the residence of Alex. Sied, 705 Fourth street, netted two stills in operation, 450 gallons of mash and about eight gallons of moonshine while Alex. Sied and George Goldie, Russians, were caught in the act of operating the plant, the arresting officers said.

The moonshine outfit was located in a back room at Sied's house and was one of the most complete captured recently, according to officers. Both stills were of solid copper and were operated upon oil stoves, and one was still hot when brought to the police station.

Sergeant Shad and Officers Pair, Smith, White, Dr. and Epperson were in the party making the raid.

OREGON has recognized her literary genius. The two receptions held in this store for Oregon authors were truly successful. Many noted writers greeted a long line of enthusiastic admirers and friends. As a result, a closer bond of friendship has been established between author and reader.

As the Christmas gift ideal for your eastern friends and relatives, may we suggest that you select one or more titles from this comprehensive, though far from complete, list of Oregon's own authors, and let them know of the really great genius that lies within the confines of this great state.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can disagree that it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.
