In a former trial of the case in October, 1919, the jury disavraged and it is expected that disagreed and it is expected that the present trial will last for three day, Mr. Humphreys declared that the government would be forced to rely on a great deal of evidence in the form of letters and other documents, "which will be like the piecing to-gether of a Chinese puzzle, but when completed will show that the de-fendants assisted in the formation of a monopoly of the cement business in certain districts and then held up 2 prices by an agreement with the 1 Washington mills in the north and 14 the California plants to the south."

Testimony Rend to Jury. A great deal of time yesterday was 1 spent in reading to the jury the testimony of Tyler Henshaw, president 25 of the Riverside Portland Cement 25 company near Los Angeles. Mr. Hen-shaw was ill and permission was given to use his testimony as given in the prior case in order to save him trip to Portland.

Admission of this testimony enabled the government to introduce some 35 letters and telegrams dated before the alleged combination was per-fected, which, in the words of the prosecution, "painted a picture of competition as it really existed prior to the perfection of the combination and which showed the keen effort to out prices and market their cement in

FIVE-CENT DECLINE IN WHEAT

Hard White and Club Bids Reduced to $1.55 for December Delivery, Hog prices dropped another quarter at North Portland yesterday. The bulk of sales were made at the new top of $11.75. Cattle were steady with only a limited supply on hand. The demand for sheep and lambs was slow, but the offerings moved out at the new lineup. Receipts were 31 cattle, 483 hogs and 36 sheep. Wheat prices dropped 5 cents again on the local grain board yesterday, with $1.55 bid for December hard white and club. Most of the buyers were reported to be out of the market and while farmers in some sections were offering (heir wheat, as a rule they were averse to taking the lower prices.

growers' hands amount to 6000 bales and dealers are holding about 2000 bales, which will eventually come on the market. In Washington some 3500 bales are yet to be disposed of.

California has more hops than any other Parfile coast section, and as the growers have come down materially in their asking prices, these hops, particularly the Sacramentos, come into direct competition with the grade of Oregons that remain on the market. Senomas have lately been selling better, about 4500 bales changing hands at 35 to 35 cents.

Even with the market dragging as it is, it is considered probable that all of the 1920 crop will be moved before the season.

Further light was thrown on the backward conditions in the steel industry by the November statement of the United

a decrease in untilled orders of $15,000 draws the bookings of the steel corporation down to the lowest aggregate of the United States Steel was the most active

BUYERS WAIT TILL AFTER HOLIDAYS Retail Tratie Is Fair in Majority of Markets; Wholesale Business Quieter. NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Aside from a slightly larger volume of trade during the week at retail, reflected in some reordering from jobbers to fill depisted stocks, the general distributive trade situation is not materially different from a week ago. Indeed, big wholesale trade is a shade guieter and industry has slackened with unemployment wholesale trade is a shade guister and in-dustry has slackened with unemployment increased and more wags reductions an-nounced.

"In wholesale lines the general disposi-tion, aside from the natural desire to clean up surplus stock is to await the turn of the year. Retail trade is reported good at only two out of 40 merkets, and fair at a majority of the others. From quite a few markets comes the intimation that retailers are awaiting the holiday trade, while consumers are waiting until after the holidays."
