

ALIENS ARRIVING IN YEAR TOTAL 633,371

11,795 Reported Excluded at Ports of Entry.

428,062 LEAVE AMERICA

Net Increase in Immigrant Population for Year 193,514, Says Secretary of Labor.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Establishment of machinery overseas in cooperation with foreign governments through which aliens before breaking up their homes may determine whether they will be admitted to the United States, and legislative consideration of the proposals of the second industrial conference are outstanding recommendations in the annual report of Secretary Wilson, made public today.

The labor secretary devotes much of his report to discussion of immigration and the expulsion of alien revolutionaries. He asserts that he alone has authority to order the arrest and expulsion of aliens, although the bureau of immigration has assumed to itself power not only to make recommendations but also to make findings.

The report shows that 633,371 aliens arrived in this country during the last fiscal year as compared with 527,021 the year before. Of the total arrivals 11,795 were excluded at the ports where they sought to enter. Of these arrivals 439,981 are classified as immigrant aliens and 193,514 as non-immigrant aliens. Departures of aliens totaled 428,062, including 288,215 emigrant aliens and 139,747 non-emigrant aliens, making the net increase in the immigrant population for the year 193,514.

16,174 Japanese Admitted. Japanese admitted numbered 16,174, as compared with 14,904 the year before. The total number of Japanese departing is placed at 15,023, making the report says, the indicated increase in Japanese population 521. Of those admitted 9193 were males and 6981 females.

Besides the immigrants turned back at the ports of arrival, 2762 were ordered deported during the year. On departmental warrants issued compared with 3,963 the year before. Of those deported on warrants 469 were classed as anarchists and 3,494 as others.

Warrants for 6000 immigrants alleged to be revolutionaries were issued during the year. Mr. Wilson says, but a very small proportion of them were canceled, "because the charges upon which they had been issued were sustained by insufficient proof at the hearing." In addition to the 314 anarchists deported, 591 others are awaiting deportation, according to the report.

Mr. Wilson says that during the year 519,903 aliens took the initial or final steps toward citizenship. While this is less than the record total of the year before, Mr. Wilson says the decrease is confined to aliens in military service and results from the mobilization of the army. First papers were filed by 309,106 aliens, while petitions for final naturalization were filed by 210,797. The total number of petitions filed by 166,925 aliens in civil life and 15,172 soldiers.

Many Disputes Adjusted. Turning to the industrial situation, Mr. Wilson urges legislative action to carry out the recommendations of the second industrial conference proposing joint organizations of management and employes for prevention of industrial disputes and a comprehensive plan for adjusting such disputes when they occur. Attention is called that during the year the labor department's division of conciliation was called upon to utilize its good offices in more than 4100 industrial disputes "directly involving more than 3,125,000 workers and indirectly involving more than 2,490,000."

The department, says Mr. Wilson, "stands for collective bargaining. It recognizes collective bargaining as the nature of gentlemen's agreements in contradistinction to legal and forcible bargains. Collective bargaining cannot be regarded in the same category as ordinary contracts, because there is no mutuality. The employer does not agree and cannot agree to give steady employment to all the wage-earners concerned nor to any specified number. Consequently the workers included in such a bargain could have no legal claim except that they were actually employed by the other party to the bargain and at his discretion. There would be no fairness in making such contracts enforceable at law. To permit collective bargaining to be legally enforceable would be to discourage the use of them, to leave their fulfillment to the good sense and good faith of each side would encourage their making and thereby promote industrial peace."

The labor secretary renews his recommendation for legislation to improve the work of conciliation by making public lands and community credits more accessible. He also urges Congress to provide governmental means for the adequate training of workers in industry and to provide for federal control of the interstate transport of private police, troops and guards for industrial purposes.

CHINESE OPPOSE LOANS

Local Group Declares Present Government Is Not Reliable.

Because of the present unsettled conditions in China, the Chinese National League of Portland has adopted resolutions recommending the sending of money from this country to China. A telegram expressing the opposition of the league to the making of any loans to either north or south China for the relief of the present government was sent Monday by Lee Quinn, secretary of the Portland league, to the Pierpont Morgan company for the American group of the Chinese consortium. The present government, according to this wire, is unsettled and without responsibility, and the Chinese people are therefore unwilling to assume liability for loans as long as present governmental conditions in China continue.

THIRD ACCIDENT PROVES FATAL

CENTRALIA, Wash., Dec. 14.—(Special.)—Ray McNulty died last night in a Centralia hospital following injuries sustained Saturday at an Onalaska logging camp, when he was struck by a broken cable. The young man is survived by his wife and mother. Saturday's accident was the third he had sustained recently. Six months ago his automobile was struck by a train at a Centralia grade crossing and a few weeks later he was struck by a falling tree in a logging camp on Mill creek.

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

MAE MURRAY, IN A MOMENT FROM "IDOLS OF CLAY," AT THE COLUMBIA.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES. Majestic—Margaret Mayo's "Twin Beds." Liberty—Charles Ray, "Peaceful Valley." Peoples—Tom Moore, in "The Great Accident." Columbia—Mae Murray, "Idols of Clay." Rivoli—Dorothy Phillips, "Once to Every Woman." Star—Basel King's "The Street Called Straight." Circle—"Broken Blossoms." Globe—Elsaine Hammerstein, in "Whisper."

FULL SCOPE is given to George Fitzmaurice's talent for blending romantic story and lavishly artistic backgrounds in "Idols of Clay" now running at the Columbia theater. The result is a picture that is in many respects even more appealing and spectacular than Mr. Fitzmaurice's "On With the Dance" and "The Right to Love." With settings that shift rapidly from a luxurious South Sea isle to the resorts of London high society and then to an opium den in the Limehouse underworld, the story, written by Guida Bergere, is well supplied with thrilling moments. Mae Murray is seen as an innocent South Sea girl, daughter of a pearl-smuggling recluse, while David Powell, the other featured player, is a young London sculptor, who, seeking to forget an unfortunate love affair, drifts to the tropics. Through the love of the South Sea maid, his shattered faith in womanhood and in his career, is restored.

The pleasing work of Miss Murray and Mr. Powell is supplemented by that of a thoroughly adequate supporting cast which includes George Fawcett and Dorothy Cummings. The Columbia picture players furnish an intelligent musical accompaniment for the feature.

Screen Gossip.

Comment was made on the old superstition that playing "Nearer My God, to Thee" in a theater will bring death to one of its employes within three days. Vincent C. Knowledge, director of the Columbia picture players, chose the musical accompaniment for "Idols of Clay." The musical score was played at the opening showings of the picture last Saturday. The next day Fred Richter, who played the viola in the orchestra, died at his home. He was the father of Francis Richter, the blind pianist and composer of Portland.

J. P. McGowan has been selected to direct "The Seal of Satan," starring Eddie Polo, who is now at Havana. Passports are being made for other members of the cast.

What is reported to be the highest rental contract made for the Los Angeles territory was consummated recently.

DAIRY STOCK IS SOUGHT

COLLAPSE OF HAY MARKET IMPETUS TO DAIRYING.

Alfalfa Raising Districts of State Plan to Obtain Herds and Save Crops.

Central and eastern Oregon farmers who have specialized in the production of alfalfa for the hay market in the last few years are now turning to the development of dairying as the only solution to the present critical situation of the hay market, according to S. E. Graham of Vale, Or., who arrived in Portland yesterday. Mr. Graham and C. M. Beaumont of Nyssa, representing a large group of alfalfa-raising interests in Malheur county, announced that they have come to the Willamette valley for the express purpose of looking over the dairy sections of the valley with a view to acquiring as much high-grade dairy stock as possible and also to interest farmers from this locality in the possibilities of Malheur county as a dairying section. "We have at least 12,000 tons of alfalfa hay ready for shipment, and not half enough stock in the county to feed it to this winter," said Graham. "Furthermore, the market is absolutely dead. We can't sell at any price. The only answer is to ship in the cattle and start an intensive dairying schedule that will meet the situation and help in the upbuilding of the land at the same time."

The first shipment of stock to Malheur county will be transported by Mr. Beaumont, according to Mr. Graham. The first section to be scoured for dairy stock will be in and around Hillsboro, where the eastern Oregon farmers will be accompanied by an expert from the Oregon Agricultural college, who will assist in selecting the herd.

NOVELTY IS ANNOUNCED

Violin, Cello and Harp Trio Will Appear at Auditorium Concert.

"Heart appeal" music by a violin, cello and harp trio, will be one of the features of the programme next Sunday afternoon at the regular weekly popular concert given by the city at the public auditorium. This feature has been added to the programme and will include popular selections by the Monday Musical club chorus of 40 voices, directed by Mrs. Rose Courson Reed, a vocal solo by Mrs. Mitylene Fraker cently for the showing of the coming Fairbanks release, "The Mark of Zorro," at Mack Bennett's new Mission theater. The contract provided for an indefinite run at a flat price which is nearly the five figure mark.

George Walsh's newest production, "Number 17," is now ready for release. The entertainment has much Chinese atmosphere. The plot deals with the work of an illustrious Chinaman who believes big American financiers are enemies of his country.

The Tia Juana race course and gambling halls will serve for exterior and interior settings for Viola Dana's current production, "Scorcher," which is based on a story by Don Byrnes. Dallas Fitzgerald is directing.

Hugo Ballin, who is engaged in creating the screen version of "East Lynne," has chosen the cast for this production. Headed the aggregation of players who will vitalize this stirring story is Mabel Ballin. Miss Ballin appeared in "Fagan Love," a picture of the Achmed Abdulla's story, "The Honorable Gentleman."

Marion Aye, who formerly appeared in numerous comedies, has been selected as a lead for Larry Semon in "The Hick."

William S. Hart is at work on his last picture for Paramount and still declares that it will mark his retirement from the screen. He intends to write a series of Indian stories for boys.

"Kid" McCoy, former pugilist, who has been appearing in movies for various companies during the past three years has gone into business, convinced that he will make a better broker than actor.

Before going abroad in the spring Harry Pickford will start work on "Little Lord Fauntleroy." The interiors will be made here and the exterior abroad.

"In the Shadow of the Dome," produced by Edmund K. Fox, will be ready for a private pre-release showing shortly after December 15. The cast is said to have over 1000 persons, headed by Thelma Lee, and including Donald Hall, Bullette Jensen, Marguerite Gale and William Parke Jr.

Rodolph Valentino will play opposite Alice Lake in "Uncharted Seas," which is based on the novel written by John Fleming Wilson. The continuity is by Elwood Jenkes. Wesley Ruggels is directing.

PRINEVILLE, Or., Dec. 14.—The Lyric theater has been purchased by the S. Parks Amusement company, which has a chain of theaters in Oregon. S. J. Ganger, manager at this place is installing a photo play at a cost of $6900. Since a fire, which occurred in October, the building has been renovated and the present equipment represents an expenditure of $10,000.

Stiles and the auditorium pipe organ played by Lucien E. Becker.

Many requests have been received by Hal M. White, manager of the auditorium, for the introduction of the harp, violin and cello feature at one of the concerts, and to meet this request arrangements have been made for the players from the Columbia ladies' orchestra, of which Mrs. E. L. Knight is director. Next Sunday's programme promises to be one of the best of this season's series. Mr. Becker will feature Christmas music on the pipe organ.

SENIORS WILL GIVE PLAY

Graduating Class of Lincoln High School to Present Drama.

The January graduating class of the Lincoln high school will present a comedy-drama, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," at the auditorium of the high school Friday and Saturday nights of this week. The class has been working on the production for some time and a good amateur rendition of the comedy is promised. The money raised as a result of the presentation will be used in getting out the class issue of the Cardinal.

The cast of the play follows: Jack Temple, Malcolm Stowall; Frank Fuller, Harold Kare; Captain Sharpe, Theodore Weiss; John Brown, Howard Colburn; Wigson, Henry Holman; Mrs. Jack Temple, Florence Fowler; Mrs. Frank Fuller, Madeline Coffey; Mrs. John Brown, Katherine Kressman; Dorothy, Martha Shull.

Farm Sale Reported.

NYSSA, Or., Dec. 14.—(Special.)—P. M. Binkley, resident of Nyssa, returned Saturday from Portland after selling his 40-acre farm 40 miles from that city. He received $2500 for the property.

Seaside Desires New School.

SEASIDE, Or., Dec. 14.—(Special.)—A public meeting has been called for December 21 at 2:30 P. M. in the city hall for the purpose of considering plans for the proposed new school building.

DOUGHNUT SQUAD IS BUSY

"JUNIOR DETECTIVES" WIN RECOGNITION ON FORCE.

Many of the "Little Fellows" Have Army Discharges Showing Wounds Received in Action During War.

At last the "Boy Scouts," otherwise known as the Junior detectives, or the doughnut squad, have won recognition in spite of the good-natured jabs of repartee to which huskier members of the police force have subjected them during the past year.

They are members of the auto theft department. Their commander is Lieutenant Harvey Thatcher, who, although he is as big as any three of them, only draws pay for one man. He claims that his "little fellows" do the work of three men for the pay of one.
