Two grain carriers which will take out several thousand tons of wheat got into Portland harbor yesterday and, as soon as they can be lined and put into shape, wil, begin loading.

They are the Dutch steamer Eibergen of 2974 tons which is to load here for the Northern Grain & Warehouse company, and the shipping board steamer Quillwark of 4445 tons which is to take a cargo for Kerr, Gifford & Co. Both steamers are to clear from this port for the United Kingdom.

The Quillwark got into the river at midnight Saturday night and left up yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from As-toria. She is to begin loading at the Globe Mills. The Quillwark has been operating in the service of the Colum-bia Pacific Shipping company and she came from San Francisco to this port.

The steamer Eibergen got into the river Saturday and reached Portland harbor yesterday afternoon. She docked at the North Bank dock preparatory to starting her load.

The Elbergen is a sister suip of the Kelbergen which is booked to come to this port for a load of ties. She has not yet left Rotterdam, however. Tals is the third Dutch steamer which has visited this port this month two others having come here previ-ously to take out grain and cereal. The first was the steamer Moerdyke which took on wheat and flour here. She was followed by the steamer Arakan which took out a load of wheat.

The arrival of the two grain steamers yesterday raised the number of grain steamers in the river to three. The steamer Orca had previously been the only one in the river. She is loading 13,000 tons of grain at Astoria. The French steamer Otavi which is also a member of the Portland grain fleet is now en route here from Nor-folk. She left the Atlantic port on December 13 and will load here for the Pacific Grain company.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash, Dec. 19—
(Special.)—After discharging a small ships ment of copper ore from Mexico, the steamer Providencia arrived here this morning to clear for Vancouver, where ahe will take a shipment of fire brick to be used in the construction of a furnace on mining property near Santa Rosalia and also a deck load of cedar poles.

The Amer Shipbuilding a Drydock company's plant, which was the most compilete steel shipbuilding plant in the northwest, is to be dismantled, as the material equipment and buildings of the property have been sold to the Seattle Contract company, which was the highest bidder. The plant was built in 1916, During its existence, 22 big steel freight steamers and way to success by original methods.

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Dec. 19.—(Special).—With a 40-mile gale blowing from the southwest all day, pleasure and other small craft were kept in port today. The wind rose early in the morning and was accompanied by rain. The steamer West Kebar which was to have sailed several days ago for the mud flats at San Francisco to be laid up, got away this afternoon for the north. M. Johnson, head of the Johnson line, which operates a line of motorships and steamers to the Pacific coast, is due here next week on the steamer Buenos Aires. Local agents of the company announce that a regular service will be inaugurated between Sweden and this port and other ports on the coast. The steamer is due here Tuesday.
