bonds, but no reply had been received last night. None of those connected with the present investigation would venture a prediction concerning these bonds.

W. D. Whitcomb, temporary receiver and head of the firm now auditing the bond house books, said yesterday that it is still impossible to give even an estimate as to the true conditions of affairs. He held to the belief that his orgiinal estimate of a shortage of between $550,000 and $750,000 will not be far amiss.

Some Bonds Still Safe.

For the benifit of scores of people who had bought and received their bonds and left them with Morris Brothers, Inc., for safe keeping, Mr. Whitcomb said that they will not be losers through the collapse of the firm. These bonds which were merely being held in trust for private individuals are not listed as assets and are the sole property of the persons purchasing them.

It was further pointed by Mr. Whitcomb that investors who have purchased bonds other than the city of Edmonton issue and who hold the interim certificates issued by Etheridge are in the same predicament as those who have these certificates on the Edmonton bonds. There were many persons who felt that they would not lose through the failure by reason of the fact that their certificates called for other bonds.

Court Order Is Essential.

A. B. Winfree, of the law firm of Teal, Minor & Winfree, bond attorneys for Morris Brothers, Inc., and now legal advisors to Receiver Whitcomb, said that not one article will be removed from the building except upon order of court. He confirmed the statement of Mr. Whitcomb that persons who had paid for and received their bonds and left them with the firm, would in due time have them returned.

Mr. Winfree likewise concurred with Mr. Whitcomb in the announced determination to let the public have all news concerning the failure as it develops day by day.

"This is a matter of public interest and the public generally is entitled to know everything in connection with this affair," he said.

In conformity with this announcement, Mr. Whitcomb has arranged to receive newspaper men twice daily in order to give out everything which is uncovered during the course of the audit. Nothing will be kept from public view, is his assurance.

$150,000 Returned in Week.

Another angle to the events leading up to the closing of the doors Monday morning developed yesterday when it was learned that investors in bonds who held interim certificates cashed in something more than $150,000 in cash on these certificates during the week preceding the closing of the doors.

On the Saturday night that Etheridge appeared before Al Kader temple of the Mystic Shrine and there confessed his past criminal record in one of the most dramatic sessions of the temple, his firm had approximately $457,000 in cash on deposit in banks throughout the northwest.

Rumors of Etheridge's past penitentiary record, coupled with street stories of the uncertain condition of the firm, caused many persons holding these certificates to return them to the firm and receive their cash.

Various Amounts Saved.

Many instances were related yesterday of persons saving from $100 to $5000 each by cashing these interim certificates a day or two before Etheridge fled from the city. The audit thus far made disclosed that the firm had but $301,000 on deposit in banks yesterday.

It was also learned yesterday that the 20v shares of stock which Etheridge held in the Ladd & Tilton bank were transferred by him to the firm when he signed over all his interest and that of his wife to Fred S. Morris on the afternoon of his departure. This bank stock is now listed as among the firm's assets and will bring above par, was the belief of Mr. Whitcomb.

Although the filing of the voluntary petition in bankruptcy late Monday afternoon superceded any action which might be started in the state courts, Wirt Minor of Teal, Minor & Winfree, appeared before Presiding Judge Tazwell in circuit court yesterday and agreed to permit attorneys for P. E. Hale, plaintiff in a $5500 replevin suit against Morris Bros., Inc., to have access to the company's books and records. This examination was conducted yesterday by Franklin F. Korrell, one of Hale's attorneys, but it brought to light no new angles to the failure.

Branches Ordered to Close.

After he had taken full charge of the affairs yesterday morning, Temporary Receiver Whitcomb telegraphed the firm's branches at Seattle and San Francisco to close their doors at once. The San Francisco branch manager had declined to close Monday morning upon telegraphic word from Portland. Mr. Whitcomb has placed accountants in all these branches to proceed with an audit of the books.

Just what disposition will be made of the $75,000 in bonds now held by Sheriff Hurlburt on the direction of District Attorney Evans has not yet been decided. These bonds were seized at the office of the American Railway Express Monday afternoon on search warrants in the hands of deputy sheriffs. They comprised bonds which Etheridge had shipped to the Portland firm from Tacoma the night he headed east.

Return to Be Asked Later.

Mr. Winfree said yesterday that when the affairs of the receivership are shaped around better he will make a demand upon the county officials for the return of the bonds, as they are now listed as assets of the corporation. He does not anticipate any trouble in having them restored to the receiver, but will be prepared to take the matter into the courts should the necessity arise.

Discussion is now rife concerning the probable temporary trustee in bankruptcy to be elected by the creditors of the concern. Not until a complete schedule of assets and liabilities is filed in the federal court will it be possible to call the creditors together for the purpose of electing a permanent trustee to succeed the temporary receiver.

Some of the largest creditors are now making overtures to each other for the purpose of agreeing upon a permanent trustee, but as yet no definite action has been taken. Mr. Winfree announced yesterday that he will put forth every effort to have Mr. Whitcomb retained as truestee. He said that Mr. Whitcomb is not connected with any bank or bond house and to his mind would make the best possible trustee. The meeting of creditors probably will not be held until late next week or the week following.

Deputy Sheriffs Schirmer and Scott left Portland yesterday morning for Minneapolis to take Etheridge into custody and return him to Portland. They went without extradition papers by reason of the fact that Etheridge has signified his willingness to return. Sheriff Hurlburt yesterday declined a telegraphic offer from Etheridge to pay all expenses if he were allowed to return by himself or in company with some Minneapolis official.

ROSEBURG MAN PROTECTED

Suspicions Cause Exchange of $4000 Certificate for Other Bonds.

ROSEBURG, Or., Dec. 28.—(Special.)—B. F. Skinner of this city, who held $4000 worth of interim certificates on the city of Edmonton bonds, purchased through a local representative of Morris Bros., is the only one of quite a number of persons in this city who invested in the bonds and who will recover on the transaction.

Mr. Skinner, who bought the bonds several weeks ago, became suspicious of the investment and sent them to Ladd & Tilton, bankers, requesting that house to exchange them for the original issue. A few days ago he received $4000 worth of 6 per cent gold certificates, sent to him by the bank. A number of other local people invested in the issue in sums ranging from $100 to $500 and stand a good chance of having their paper discounted.

CONVICT KNOWS ETHERIDGE

Elmer Sibley, in Prison at Salem, Says He Served in New Jersey.

SALEM, Or., Dec. 28.—(Special.)—Elmer Sibley, now serving a term in the Oregon State penitentiary here for forgery, today informed officials of the institution that he was acquainted with John L. Etheridge while the two men were serving sentences in the New Jersey prison.

Sibley was known to have served terms in several eastern penitentiaries. He came to Oregon a few years ago. He was received at the local prison on October 28, 1919, to serve a term of two years. He afterward was paroled, but violated the provisions of his release and was returned to the prison.

ETHERIDGE CHAUFFEUR FINED

Driver of ex-President of Bond House Is Speeder.

Roy Fike, employe of Morris Bros., Inc., was fined $25 in the municipal court yesterday on a charge of speeding. The sentence was suspended. He was arrested Saturday when returning from a trip to Tacoma, Wash., after taking John L. Etheridge and his wife to that city and seeing them on board an eastbound train.

Fike was making 50 miles an hour on the Linnton road, according to the testimony of Patrolman Shayler, who made the arrest.

now being made. Etheridge said he was greatly surprised by his arrest and asked that judgment be withheld until he has a chance to make a fair and square presentation of his side of the case.

In explaining his predicament Etheridge said it was due to personal antagonism between himself and a newspaper publisher of Portland.

On Vacation Is Reply.

This antagonism reached its most dramatic stage when the paper published the fact that he had served two years in the New Jersey state penitentiary, 12 years before, for drawing a check on a bank without funds and had later been jailed for drawing on a deposit that his wife made in a bank.

He insisted that he had lived down the first affair and that the second was due to a misunderstanding. When the account of his earlier trouble was published after the exposure he said he had received a vacation from Morris Brothers and was on his way east when he was taken into custody here.

Newspaper Man Is Blamed.

Superintendent of Police Walker said that Etheridge insisted he was a victim of circumstances. He denied, according to Superintendent Walker, that he had fled with any of the bond house money and explained that he was starting on an extended vacation when he was arrested.

Etheridge also said he did not know the company had failed until he was informed of it by Mr. Walker.

"I'll not fight extradition," Mr. Walker quotes Etheridge as saying. "If you want to send one of your detectives with me back to Portland I'll pay all of the expenses. My present difficulties are the result of a controversy I had with a newspaper man who learned of my past record and used the information to discredit me."

ETHERIDGE WANTED IN EAST

New Jersey Prison-Keeper to File Detainer With Authorities Here.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 28.—(Special.)—John L. Etheridge, who served two terms in the New Jersey state prison here, has a long criminal record and is wanted here by Prison Keeper Mulhron who will file a detainer with the Oregon authorities for Etheridge, who is alleged to have broken his parole.

Etheridge came here in 1907 and described himself as the son of a prominent clergyman of England. He was generally attired as a clergyman and was of suave manner, but did not appear to have any regular occupation. He was here but a short time when accused of passing bad checks. A warrant was issued for his arrest and the police began a search for him.

Captain Clancy of the local police bureau located him at Stamford, Conn., and Detective Pilger brought him back. He was tried and convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses. On December 3, 1907, he was sent to the state prison for two years. He was paroled on November 3, 1909. Previous to this he was arrested in Monmouth county, New Jersey, and on October 21, 1905, was sent to prison for 18 months for obtaining money under false pretenses. He was discharged January 24, 1907.

At the time of his arrest he was impersonating an Episcopal clergyman. While in prison he received a job as clerk. He was arrested in Asbury Park, New Jersey, by the late Chief of Police Smith and made his escape. He later was recaptured in New York.

Etheridge was arrested in England on a forgery charge and served a term in prison there, the police here said.

CERTIFICATES HELD BY MORE THAN 1000

List of Bond House Victims Filed With Court.

AUDIT INCREASES NUMBER

Bankruptcy Petition of Morris Bros. Contains Names of Owners of Interim Paper.

More than 1000 persons are listed as holders of interim certificates on bonds purchased through the defunct firm of Morris Brothers, Inc., according to the schedule filed in the federal court in the voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

In addition to the names appearing in The Oregonian yesterday morning, these are included in the list of possible losers through the wrecking of the bond house.

The audit now being made by Whitcomb, Whitfield & Co., public accountants, has brought to light the names of nearly 1000 more holders of interim bonds. These additional names will not be listed with the bankruptcy petition until some time this afternoon.

STUDENTS FORM BATTERY

Unit of 146th Will Be Organized at Seattle Today.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 28.—Battery E, the first unit of the 146th field artillery which is to be raised in Seattle before July 1, 1921, will be organized tomorrow morning at the armory, when 60 or more students and alumni of Lincoln high school will receive initial state inspection and physical examinations.

Quarters have been assigned to the new battery in the armory.

Battery E will be recruited entirely from students and alumni from Lincoln high school and will be officered by Lincoln alumni. Within two weeks, the battery is expected to number about 80 men and will receive considerable time to reach the required peace-time minimum strength of 114 men and four officers.

Barrett Herrick, Lincoln and University of Washington alumnus and regular army captain in the late war, has received a provisional commission as captain and will be placed in command of the battery as soon as it is organized. He will have as one of his junior officers Ernest Wells, for eight years coach at Lincoln and at present acting as boys' advisor.

TRAPPER THOUGHT DEAD

Searching Parties Fail to Locate Man in Cascades.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 28.—(Special.)—Reports have reached here that a man named Sweeney, who has been trapping in the Cascade mountains, has been lost and has probably perished in the snow. He is said to have been missing about nine days. Searching parties have been looking for him without success.

Sweeney had been trapping at Fish lake and was expected to return to his headquarters cabin at Cascadia. When he was overdue several days a searching party went out and found traces of him on Seven-Mile mountain, on the road between Cascadia and Fish lake. New snow made it impossible for the searchers to follow his trail.
