Two Politicians Are Now in Limelight.

BOTH SEEK POSTOFFICE JOB

Harry M. Daugherty and John W. Weeks Also Are Discussed for Cabinet Positions.

BY MARK SULLIVAN. (Copyright by the New York Svening Post, Inc., Published by Arrangement) WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(Special.) -The two men who are serious probabilities for postmaster-general are Will Hays and Tobias Hert. Both properly would be classified as political appointees. Will Hays is fairly well known to the public through his position as national chairman of the republican party.

Tobias Hert is a Kentucky business man, formerly of Indiana, who made a fortune in the crecosoted wood business during the last eight years. Hert has been the presiding genius of the republican party organization in Kenrepublican party organization in Ken-tucky. It is these political services, of course, that mark Hert out as a pos-cibility for postmaster-general. This dught not to be said without saying that Heri is entirely capable for the job. He has all the business and other qualifications for filling it well. other qualifications for filling it well. If it comes to a showdown between Hays and Hert some interesting considerations will arise. Hays, although not experienced in business, is recognized by everyone as extremely well qualified for just this kind of work. the postoffice committee, and was a thoroughly creditable member.

Everyhody knows that Harding beth likes Weeks for his personality, and approves him for his ability. One handicap to Weeks is the fact that Harding looks upon Vice-president Coolidge as a member of his cabinet. Looked at in that way, Massachusetts already has a cabinet member, so to speak. It is occasionally said that the Coolidge complication affects the Weeks situation.

Jefferson rode horseback to take his oath of office, or walked to the capito, in state his oath of office, or walked to take his oath of office, or walked to take his oath of office, or walked to the capito, in state his oath of office, or walked to take his oath of office, or walked to the capito, in the coming ceremony. One writer who gives his authority as "an English traveler," says Jefferson rode horseback and tied up his horse near the site of the Congressional library. Confidence Vote Asked.

Deputy Landes Deyris, the first speaker, asked immediate discussion of his interpellation.

M. Leygues, in asking a pistponement, said the time was too short to dispose of all interpellations. He said it was a question of confidence and that he would stand or fail with it. Deputy Bonnevay, leader of the national bloc, then made an unexpected announcement, saying that the repubilican majority could no longer grant confidence in the government in a blind manner and that the premier must expinin. The cabinet members seemed stunned as the chamber, in an uprour, demanded an immediate vote Opponents of the government used blue tickets and its supporters used white.
