WASHINGTON SOLONS REGRESS TO MONDAY

Senate Gets 22 Bills, House 19 in First Week.

2 APPROPRIATIONS MADE

New Educational Code Expected to Encounter Storm When It Comes Up for Debate.

REAPPORTIONMENT IS UP

MULTNOMAH WOULD GET 15 REPRESENTATIVES.

Six Senators and One Joint With Clackamas Proposed by Representative Lynn.

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Or., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Fifteen representatives and six senators, together with another joint senator with Clackamas county, would be apportioned to Multnomah county under a bill drafted here today by Representative Lynn for introduction in the legislature Monday.

Under this bill Marion county would have two senators, while each of the following counties would be given one senator: Linn, Lane, Douglas, Jackson, Coos, Benton, Polk, Yamhill, Washington, Clatsop, Columbia, Clackamas and Umatilla.

Joint senatorial districts entitled to one senator would be composed of the following counties: Curry and Josephine; Lincoln and Tillamook; Multnomah and Clackamas; Hood River and Wasco; Sherman, Jefferson, Crook, Wheeler, Gilliam and Morrow; Union and Wallowa; Baker and Grant; Malheur and Harney; and Deschutes, Klamath and Lake.

The ratio of representation under this act is one senator for 25,430 population and one representative for 2,415 citizens.

Marion county, under the Lynn bill, would rank next to Multnomah's 15, with four representatives. Lane and Clackamas are entitled to three; Linn, Douglas, Coos, Jackson, Yamhill, Washington, Clatsop and Umatilla to two each, and the following to one representative: Curry and Josephine, Polk, Benton, Polk and Lincoln, Tillamook, Columbia, Hood River, Wasco, Sherman, Jefferson and Crook; Gilliam and Morrow, Union, Wallowa, Malheur, Harney and Lake, Klamath, Deschutes.

MILITARY ROAD FUND URGED. Legislature Asked to Start Work on Roosevelt Coast Highway.

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Or., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Dr. E. Linton, old-time resident of Waldport, Lincoln county, was in Salem today, conferring with Governor Olcott and legislators, regarding a bill for proposing a state appropriation sufficiently large to start work on the Roosevelt coast military highway.

Dr. Linton said the voters had voted their indorsement of the highway, and that there was no occasion to delay construction work pending co-operation on the part of the federal government.

When the bill authorizing this road was submitted to the voters at a special election in 1919, it was the understanding that the government was to pay one-half of the cost of construction. This appropriation has not yet been authorized, however, but probably will receive the consideration of congress during its session, starting next March, according to state officials.

WEDLOCK TESTS BROADENED. Measure Would Affect Both Sexes and Include Mental Feature.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Senator Burdick has prepared a bill for presentation to the legislature next week, providing that all persons captured, discovered in an automobile and mental examination before entering wedlock.

The present law is confined to men only and does not provide for a mental test.

LARGER HOUSE OPPOSED. Representative McArthur Against Increase of Membership.

THE OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 14.—Representative McArthur, who is opposing the Sigel bill to increase the house membership from 425 to 482, asserted today the belief that the measure would be defeated.

There is no public demand for an increased membership, said Mr. McArthur. "I have gone into this subject thoroughly and find that the only persons who are clamoring for an increase are the representatives from the state at large seats."

Arguments in favor of the increase are, therefore, entirely political and are based upon sound economic or good business principles. The house is altogether too large and untidily, and I am quite certain that the country is opposed to any increase.

A deficiency appropriation of $7500 to $8000 for the maintenance of the Salem Indian school will be asked at this session of congress, Senator McNary was assured today by Cato Selts, commissioner of Indian affairs.

McNary took the question up with Commissioner Selts after receiving a telegram from T. E. McCroskey, manager of the Salem commercial club, saying that the school must have funds immediately or close its doors.

SEATTLE POLICEMAN KILLED IN GUN BATTLE. One of Four Alleged Outlaws Captured After Fight in Suburb Expected to Die.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 14.—W. L. Stevens of the Seattle police force is dead. Clayton Dodge, 21, alleged outlaw, is expected to die and Warren Mooney, 19, his companion, is slightly wounded as the result of a gun battle between police and four alleged outlaws, all of whom were captured, discovered in an automobile and believed by the police to have been stolen here today.

The other two men gave their names as Ruis Madsen, 15, and C. A. Brown, 20.

According to Police Sergeant Herald, he and Stevens were investigating a report that an automobile had been abandoned in Ballard, a suburb, when they came upon the car with the four men in it. The four men jumped out, and as Stevens attempted to stop them, fired at him. He returned the fire and then fell to the ground. The men ran to the automobile which Herald had been driving, turned it about and escaped.

Later they abandoned the car, and were fired upon by police officers and captured.

Captain of Detectives Tennant announced after an examination of Madsen and Brown, that Madsen had confessed to having participated with the other three in a holdup at Arlington, Wash., yesterday and that Brown had admitted participation in a robbery of a hardware store at Bellingham, Wash.

Lewis was not a legal resident of the district at the time of the election, will come up for hearing before the house committee on elections and privileges early next week, with the committee authorized by the house to summon witnesses. It is rumored the committee may adjourn to Tacoma to hear evidence.

Representative Brown introduced a bill in the house today designed to make the county unit system of administering public schools optional with counties that want it. The object of the measure is to make the county unit system available in the state, the educational code which establishes it generally for the state fails to pass at this session.

Senator Rockwell's measure providing for a state system of income tax in addition to the federal income tax was introduced in the senate by the author early in the week. The same senator also sponsored a bill designed to restore horse racing and permitting the operation of the pari-mutuel system of betting.
