

ALL NORTH DUBLIN RAIDED BY TROOPS

Systematic Search Will Last Several Days.

WHOLE DISTRICT IS CUT OFF

All Traffic Through Cordons of Soldiers Halted.

EVERY HOUSE IS TARGET

Only Military Are Engaged Inside Lines—Fierce Fighting of Easter Rebellion Recalled.

DUBLIN, Jan. 16.—All of North Dublin was cordoned by soldiers and police last night and today. Street railway service along the north quays was suspended. The center of the district includes Church street and the place where the soldiers were ambushed recently and North King street, the scene of fierce fighting in the Easter rebellion.

A square mile was surrounded and the biggest raid Dublin has experienced has been under way. Only the military have been engaged inside the cordon and it was believed every house will be systematically searched, the raid lasting several days. Hundreds of soldiers were taking part and field kitchens were provided.

Houses commanding the streets in the occupied district were entered and inhabitants from the upper floors given 20 minutes to move downstairs. Machine guns were placed in windows and barbed wire entanglements erected.

The area was enclosed and the inhabitants virtually were made prisoners. Searchlights made the streets as bright as day.

CORK HAS SERIOUS DISORDER

Fourteen Are Wounded and Excise Officer Killed in Clash.

CORK, Jan. 16.—Serious disorders broke out here yesterday in which two detectives were wounded. The disorders occurred while a crowd was dispersing from a football match and parties of police were trying to clear the streets.

Twelve persons were wounded during promiscuous firing, while Excise Officer Pring was killed by a stray shot from a passing lorry. He had come to his home for the week-end and was walking with his brother and sister.

300 PRISONERS ARE TAKEN

Only 40 Are Held, However, After Rigorous Examination.

BELFAST, Jan. 16.—Crown forces Saturday went through South Armagh, scene of recent alleged Sinn Fein activities.

Troops and constabulary of the Ulster "specials" co-operated. Every road was under supervision. More than 300 prisoners were taken, but after a rigorous examination only 40 were held.

RAIDS JAM CITY JAIL

Drive on Gambling Dens; County Helps to House Prisoners.

So crowded was the city jail yesterday that Chief Jenkins was forced to apply for cells in the county jail to take care of prisoners. Twelve men were all that the county officers could accommodate. About 200 men are incarcerated at police headquarters; some of them serving sentences for city offenses. They are held for investigation or to sober up.

Luckily, the many raids on alleged Chinese gambling dens bring in men who are quickly bailed out. Thirty-three were taken last night at 904 Second street, 26 at 88 1/2 Second street, and eight at 87 Second street.

MAN'S RELEASE SOUGHT

Captain Kilpatrick Held Captive in Russia by Bolsheviks.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 16.—President Wilson has been requested by the Alabama division of the American Legion to procure the release of Captain Emmitt Kilpatrick, who is held in prison by the bolsheviks, even should it require the sending of an American army into Russia.

Resolutions adopted by the legislative committee ask the president to "send 10,000,000 of us over there if necessary."

GERMAN LENIENCY URGED

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Italian cabinet has decided, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome, that in the supreme council in Paris it will be impossible for Italy to support any measure calculated to force Germany to fulfill entirely the obligations of the Versailles treaty or any measure to force Turkey to accept the present disposition of the Near Eastern situation.

12 NAVY SEAPLANES END PANAMA FLIGHT

ONE FATALITY MARS 17-DAY JAUNT OF 3200 MILES.

TRIP IS ONE OF LONGEST ON RECORD

and Made Over Course Never Before Traveled.

CONSERVATIVES IN FEAR

Four Suspects Are Arrested as Result of Explosion; Probe Being Made by Police.

PANAMA, Jan. 16.—Naval officers are enthusiastic over the successful completion of the flight from San Diego, Cal., to the canal zone by 12 of the navy P-12 seaplanes which arrived Saturday evening. The two remaining machines were expected today.

The flight of 3200 miles completed in 17 flying days was marred by one fatality. Chief Radio Electrician Cain having been killed at Fonseca bay, on the western coast of Central America, when he was struck by a propeller. The flyers encountered squalls in crossing the Gulf of Tehuantepec and received a severe shaking up.

The flight, one of the longest on record, was over a course never before traversed by aircraft and the aviators made only one forced landing. The flyers were enthusiastic in their praise of the planes' Liberty engines.

Starting from San Diego, December 30, the planes made nine stops—Bartolome bay, Magdalena bay, Banderas bay, Acapulco, Salina Cruz, Fonseca bay, Punta Arenas, Bahia Honda and Panama. Captain H. C. Mustin, commander, stated that the flight was unique, since only two days were taken with the preparatory work.

"We had good weather except over the Gulf of Tehuantepec," he said. "Squalls there made me seasick. The only forced landing was in Fonseca bay, when a piece of paper caused the burning up of a motor."

Supply steameders left San Diego only two days before the machines, and the journey was completed with only three main supply bases, a destroyer which was pressed into service having become partially disabled.

Commander Mustin, a naval aviator, who crossed the Atlantic, became ill with appendicitis on a supply ship, which did not carry a doctor and received medical attention when a seaplane brought a physician from another vessel.

The jump between Salina Cruz and Fonseca bay, nearly 1500 miles, was made without stop. The delay of two of the machines was due, according to Captain Mustin, to underpower.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—United States naval seaplanes NC 5, one of the 14 planes on the San Diego to Panama flight, is about 25 miles off San Juan Del Sur, according to a wireless from the seaplane.

OUTLAWS DEFY POLICE

1000 Men Said to Be Pillaging in Argentine Republic.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 16.—Damage estimated at many millions of pesos has been caused by the depredations of outlaws who are pillaging, burning crops and ranches, destroying agricultural machinery and killing and terrorizing inhabitants at Santa Cruz. Dispatches say these bands now aggregate more than 1000 men.

The outlaws are said virtually to control the whole interior of the territory as far as Chile. Police are said to be helpless.

The situation has been made more dangerous by a strike declared on Friday at Rio Gallegos. Many people are fleeing to towns. One band is reported to have captured five Chilean border police and a lieutenant.

MAYFLOWER LIFT TO GO

Presidential Yacht Elevator, Never Used, Costs Nation $32,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—The presidential yacht Mayflower is in drydock, undergoing repairs. One of the things being done to the craft is to remove the elevator recently installed for President Wilson on the theory that he might desire to take a trip while he was ill.

Installation of the elevator cost $16,000. Its removal will cost a similar sum. The elevator never has been used by the president or anybody else. Its removal has been ordered because, in the opinion of navy experts, its presence makes the Mayflower unworthy.

HOME OF MINERS' CHIEF DYNAMITED

Nearby Houses Damaged at Pittston, Pa.

BLAST IS LAID TO RADICALS

Coal Diggers at Odds as to Calling Strike.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—The store and home of James A. Joyce, Pittston merchant and leader of the Pennsylvania Coal company miners, were wrecked and several other houses were damaged early this morning by an explosion of dynamite.

Four men have been arrested by the Pittston police, who believed the wrecking charge was placed by miners who were displaced by the stand Joyce had taken in the present strike situation. He led the miners to victory in the fall and the coal cutters are now getting more money than ever before. His recent policy has been to restrain the men from striking because he believed they have not had a just cause. The general grievance committee at a strong session last night failed to reach a decision. The radicals favored a strike tomorrow, but the English-speaking miners wanted to continue work.

Miners' Meeting Forbidden.

John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, is here. It was intended that he should meet with the Pittston miners today, but the police issued orders against a meeting of any kind within the city limits.

Three persons were sleeping in Joyce's home and were jarred from their beds to the floor by the explosion. The front of the store was blown out and the stairs leading to the bedrooms wrecked. The blast damaged the North End garage and broke windows in the Pittston laundry and Greek Catholic cathedral.

Mine foremen and others who have counselled against a continuous strike fear for their lives and have made appeals for police protection.

State Police Join Search.

Besides the Pittston police, a troop of state police was searching for the men who placed the dynamite. The valley's prominent residents are making insistent demands that some of the large force of secret service men now operating here against the miners turn their attention to the strike conditions.

EXILE IS WELCOMED BY EX-CROWN PRINCE

INTERESTS OF FATHERLAND HELD BEST SERVED.

FREDERICK WILLIAM DECLARES WIFE REMAINS AWAY BECAUSE OF DUTY TOWARD CHILDREN.

THE HAGUE, Jan. 16.—Frederick William, ex-crown prince of Germany, in an interview given the editor of a Netherland weekly published in The Hague, told why he does not return to Germany; why his wife does not join him at Wieringen, and why he does not join his father at Doorn. He also set forth his plans regarding the education of his sons.

"I would be glad to return to Germany, and I would be happy if I could devote myself to agriculture, particularly horse breeding," he was quoted as saying. "I would rejoice to associate with the learned men at Breslau university and regain what I lost. I would like to help to build up the fatherland, but that cannot be."

"My friends would see my hand in every deed which others might begin, but of which, perhaps, I would know nothing. Unrest would follow and our poor fatherland needs rest."

"Why does not my wife come here? Believe me, she would gladly do so, but there is no chance of such happiness. She has the training of our children at heart and must direct it. Our sons must learn to make themselves useful commercially. Wilhelm and Lulu are now going to the gymnasium at Potsdam. The elder wants to become an expert farmer. Lulu feels that he has the talent for a mercantile career and is planning a tour of the world in a German merchant ship and to learn modern languages. They are studying hard. They need a father's care, too, but that cannot be."

"I cannot go to my parents. Our opponents are trying to put us in the position of being ready to set the town on fire, and if we were to do so, then, in the eyes of our opponents, the overthrow of the world would be a question of but a short time."

"As for buying an estate in Holland, where would I get the money, particularly in view of the low rate of German exchange?"

HARRISON SETS DATE

Governor-General of Philippines to Leave on March 27.

MANILA, P. I., Jan. 16.—Governor-General Harrison of the Philippines announced today that he will leave the Philippines for the United States March 27. He will make the trip via the Suez canal and London.

There has been much speculation here regarding the new governor-general to be appointed. It was said in official circles here that unless the vice-governor, Charles E. Yeater, who is now in the United States, returns to the Philippines before the departure of Governor Harrison, it will be necessary for President Harding, prior to March 27, to appoint a resident of the Philippines as acting governor. A resident of the continental United States would not have time to reach the islands prior to the departure of Governor Harrison.

REPLY TO LUCY PAGE GASTON OF ANTI-CIGARETTE LEAGUE.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 15.—Lucy Page Gaston, representing the National Anti-Cigarette League, announced today she had received a reply from President-elect Harding in response to a letter in which she asked him to refrain from the use of cigarettes as an example to the youth.

"I think it is fine to save the youth from the tobacco habit," said the reply. "I think, however, the movement ought to be carried on in perfect good faith and should be free from any kind of hypocrisy or deceit on the part of those who are giving it their earnest attention."

HARDING BARS HYPOCRISY

STATE HOUSE, Salem, Or., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Following a quiet survey of both branches of the legislature, leaders of the so-called bolshevik wing of the lawmakers admitted tonight that they had abandoned all hope of putting over any special programme in the house, but would level their guns on the senate early next week with a determination of gaining the influence and control of that body.

The return of the legislators from Portland tonight was the signal for at least a half dozen conferences at which several proposed alliances were discussed. At one of these gatherings, which was reported to have been purely bolshevik, the conferees went so far as to prepare a list tentatively setting out the names of the senators who they believed could be relied upon to swat the regulars or organization faction.

Some on Doubtful List.

Included among these senators were Lachman and Fafollette of Marion, Porter of Linn, Jones of Lane, Thomas of Jackson, Hare of Washington, Farrell, Hume, Joseph and Staples of Multnomah; Strayer of Baker and Edwards of Tillamook. On the doubtful slate were written the names of Senators Gill of Multnomah, Dennis of Union and Wallowa and Eddy of Douglas.

Of the doubtful senators, the liberals said they probably would be able to control Dennis and Gill, but were worried by the fact that Eddy, because of his success in receiving important committee assignments at the hands of President Ritter, might line up and support the programme of the conservatives. In this case the organization faction would have 16 votes whenever needed, or a sufficient number to put over any bill they might desire.

Liberals' Claims Scouted.

The so-called organization members of the senate, when informed that the liberals claimed an almost even break with resistance to number of votes, declared that their own statement was ridiculous and that not more than 10 of the senators included in the bolshevik list would be counted on as off-color. As far as concerned the conservatives said they were regular and would be found voting with the organization lineup.

In the house, it was said the bolshevik camp claimed 22 votes, while the regulars said this number would be reduced to less than 15 when the vote came for testing the strength of the opposing factions. In the lineup of the liberals, as prepared by their leaders, appeared the names of Representatives Davey, Acheson, Templeton, Allen, Pierce, Johnson, Sheldon, Powell, Belknap, Hammond, Shank, Stone, Hoptford, Lynn, Richards, Miles, Hunter, Egbert, Roberts, Carey and Lafollette. Regulars said the claims of the minority were absurd, however, and pointed to Davey and Hammond as men who will support the programme as outlined by the majority faction.

It was said tonight that the strength of the two factions now incubating would not be tested for several days, or at least until some measure of general state-wide interest is reported out for final passage.

In contests where local color is injected in the issues neither the regulars nor the liberals have any hope of controlling their forces.

One of the most important matters scheduled for tomorrow's sessions is the special message to be delivered by Governor Ocott at a joint session of the senate and house of representatives. Although there has been considerable speculation regarding this message, the executive has given no intimation as to its contents. Locally, however, it is believed to deal with a method for raising increased revenue or the conservation of the scenic beauties of Oregon.

Reappointment Bill Due.

Before noon tomorrow there will be completed a bill providing for a re-appointment of the legislators, although the proposed law may not be introduced for consideration until late in the week. This bill, according to its author, will provide for one senator from each county in the state, thereby increasing the present representation in the senate to 35.

Multnomah county, under the bill, would lose five of its senators, but would partly make up this deficiency by being allotted 20 members in the house. To bring about this reappointment there will not be more than four representatives from the Cascade mountains while the strength of Marion, Lane, Clackamas, Washington, (Continued on Page 2, Column 5.)

FOES OF LIQUOR WAR ON WINE OF PEPSIN

PATENT MEDICINE SAID TO HAVE POWERFUL KICK.

LAW ENFORCEMENT LEAGUE OF CALIFORNIA ASKS THAT STRINGENT REGULATION BE UNDERTAKEN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—(Special.)—It was not to be expected that this year would live very long before the State Enforcement league decided to take a cordial swat at "wine of pepsin." "Wine of pepsin" is explained, is, according to flaring placards in nearly every drug-store window, a patent medicine. The State Enforcement league calls it something else again. In fact, the State Enforcement league has called official attention to the fact that "wine of pepsin" is nothing more nor less than a powerful "medicine," which has an alcoholic content of not less than 25 per cent.

Being aware of such alcoholic content, the league has taken into its confidence a high official of Washington, D. C., "messing" John F. Kramer, federal prohibition commissioner.

In a telegram to Commissioner Kramer it said: "A serious situation has arisen in California through indiscriminate sale of 'Wine of Pepsin,' containing 25 per cent alcohol. Drug stores, saloons and bootleggers are trafficking in the drink under the pretext that it is a legitimate patent medicine."

"Men are becoming crazy drunk on it, and bootleggers are laughing on how nicely they get by. We would suggest a drastic ruling that will leave no doubt as to the status of this intoxicant."

ATTORNEY PAINTS MORRIS AS GOAT

Defense Counsel Gives First Inside Story.

TRUST BETRAYED, CHARGED

Malarkey Says He Will Prove Etheridge Caused Crash.

LAWYER BATTLE IMPENDS

Tactics Employed by Receiver to Get Facts at Hearing Threatens Row in Court.

For the first time since the collapse of Morris Bros. Inc., bond houses of Portland, Seattle, Tacoma and San Francisco, what is said to be the inside story from Fred S. Morris, giving his account of events leading up to its crash on the financial rocks Christmas week, was obtained yesterday in detail from Dan J. Malarkey.

Mr. Malarkey last Friday was announced as associate counsel for the man whom John L. Etheridge, ex-president of the corporation, blamed for the wreck of the institution.

"That Mr. Morris is innocent of any wrongdoing in connection with the wrecked bond house, and that this worst fault was that he implicitly trusted a man whom he knew to be an ex-convict, and to whom he gave every chance in the world to make good and to reclaim himself," was the emphatic declaration of Mr. Malarkey, who said that he had gone into every feature of the case before accepting a part in the defense of Mr. Morris.

Morris Goat, Says Attorney.

"After I had studied this affair and got the facts," said Mr. Malarkey, "believe me, I decided right there that I would undertake to defend Mr. Morris, for I found that he was being made the 'goat' for this whole affair by a man whom he had befriended and had given every opportunity to make good, although knowing that Mr. Etheridge was a man with a prison record. The party will file before this thing is through that 'Jack' Etheridge is not only an inmate of the worst stripe, but that he wrecked Morris Bros. Inc., himself by his extravagant, criminal way of doing business, and that Mr. Morris had nothing to do with it."

A clash between Mr. Morris and Cassius R. Peck, representing W. D. Whitcomb, receiver, Mr. Malarkey, Wirt Minor and Martin L. Pipes, now grouped as counsel for Mr. Morris, was also forecast by Mr. Malarkey. He declared that he would "stand no more such tactics as have been employed in attempting to extract facts from Mr. Morris to which the receiver is not entitled." The clash may occur this morning, when the case in bankruptcy is resumed before Robert F. Maguire, master in chancery.

Malarkey Contradicts Etheridge.

Mr. Malarkey's statement, made yesterday afternoon, contradicted the testimony of Mr. Etheridge, given before Maguire last week. Mr. Etheridge testified that for years not only Fred S. Morris, but his brother in Philadelphia, and his sister in Portland, Miss Henrietta A. Morris, had juggled their business affairs so as to "get out from under whenever necessary" to escape creditors.

Mr. Malarkey, speaking for Mr. Morris, declared that it was Mr. Etheridge who conceived the idea of a $1,000,000 corporation, manufactured out of "thin air," instead of Mr. Morris, as Mr. Etheridge testified, and places the entire blame for wrecking the corporation at the door of Mr. Etheridge.

Mr. Morris, it should be understood, first of all, is not in any legal sense on trial before Mr. Maguire in the chancery proceedings," said Mr. Malarkey. "Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Maguire has ruled that the attorneys for the receiver have no right to question Mr. Morris concerning his own or his sister's private property, the attorneys simply dropped that feature of the case and let Mr. Etheridge on the stand and let him sit there all afternoon testifying to any old thing he pleased."

Not Fair, Says Attorney.

"Now, that is not fair to Mr. Morris, and it is not giving him a fair chance and we intend to see to it that this thing is not carried any further, so far as our client is concerned."

"Whenever this case gets into a court of justice Mr. Morris will readily answer any and all questions that are in order. But until then we do not intend that the receiver's counsel shall go any farther than they have. Neither Mr. Morris nor his sister have anything belonging to Morris Bros. Inc."

"Mr. Etheridge knew that there was a strong feeling against Mr. Morris, the man who had all along been his friend and who had shielded him and given him a man's chance to make good, and Etheridge saw that a 'goat' was needed and he proceeded to make a 'goat' of his friend, Mr. Morris. Now, we will prove this in a competent court when the time comes."

"The fact is that Mr. Morris was positively deceived by 'Jack' Etheridge on the eve of Etheridge's departure on a vacation prior to the final (Continued on Page 3, Column 1.)
