GOMPERS CALLS MEETING

ROFITEERS SAID TO HAVE ATTACKED UNIONS.

American Federation of Labor to Consider Open Shop and Wage Reductions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Representatives of the 109 unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor have been called to meet here February 23 to consider "attacks being made on trade unionism," according to an announcement made today by Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation.

Secretary Morrison, in a statement, said that the conference is one of several similar gatherings called by the American Federation of Labor during its history to discuss unusual conditions. Concerning the intention to give attention to attacks on trade unionism, he said:

"These attacks include attempts to establish the anti-union shop, wage reductions, anti-strike laws, compulsory arbitration, labor injunctions and a publicity that would make the public mind to accept these backward steps.

"I believe labor will formulate a plan to expose the pretense of men who are only interested in cheap labor and a continuance of their profiteering policy. The trade union movement is alert to the situation against it, and proposes to act vigorously and courageously. Our opponents are mistaken if they imagine they have made the slightest progress in alarming the workers, or that they will humbly accept a policy of reaction.

"The conference will consider the publicity and other methods of our opponents, and it is quite possible that labor will launch an offensive movement against those who imagine they control practically every avenue of publicity."

DATA ON LABOR SOUGHT

Immigration Agencies in Latin-American Countries Voted.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—Immigration agencies in all Latin-American countries for the collection and dissemination of information regarding labor conditions will be established under a resolution adopted by the Pan-American Federation of Labor Congress yesterday. Delegates from the United States and Porto Rico opposed the idea, but were voted down.

cause the leaders of the No. 14 local of the United Mine Workers refused to turn over the union charter to the insurgents. Rinaldo Cappalini, the insurgent leader, formerly was co-leader with Joyce, but recently they became enemies, each charging that the other had been bought by the Pennsylvania Coal company. Cappalini did receive $10,000 recently, but he asserted it was for the loss of an arm, which occurred in an accident in the Pennsylvania mines about 15 years ago.

LAST PHOTOGRAPH OF CZAR NICHOLAS AND HIS CHILDREN.

After the Russian revolution of March, 1917, the imperial Russian family was captured at Tsarskoe-Selo. In August of the same year the czar, czarina and their five children, with several of their friends and the great number of servants, were transported to Tobolsk, Siberia. Here they lived from September, 1917, to April, 1918. The picture was taken at Tobolsk, where the imperial Russian family was interned from September, 1917, to April, 1918. The czar and his children are shown on the roof of a greenhouse, where they went to get a glimpse of the Siberian sun, and is last picture made of them.

FUTURE TRADING SCORED

ALL SPECULATIVE DEALING IS OPPOSED IN BRIEF.

Message From Head of Equity Co-operative League Is Read to House Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Opposition to "short selling and every form of purely speculative future trading" was voiced in a brief from John M. Anderson, president of the Equity Co-operative League of States, before the agriculture committee by Representative Young, republican, North Dakota. This organization, which was organized to represent 1,000 stockholders and 400,000 customers, all farmers of North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Montana, declared that "hedging" should be prohibited, and that "the practice should become universal among the producers and the farmer should hedge his grain before he plants his crop."

LEAD IN DISARMING URGED ON AMERICA

Englishman Declares Time Propitious for Move.

WORLD PEACE IN DANGER

Only Relief Is in Reduction of Expenditures, Says George N. Barnes; Japan Asks Halt.

BY GEORGE N. BARNES. (Former member of the British cabinet and delegate to the peace conference at Paris.)

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(Special Cable.)—America has a great opportunity for the time is propitious for a courageous lead in lessened armament spending. The British naval programme is in abeyance; Japan has asked a halt; d'Annunzio's legionnaires have been blown out of Fiume by a blast of public impatience; the French militarists have been defeated in the chamber of deputies, and above all, peoples everywhere are sick of war. Should America point the way, the league of nations would assuredly follow her lead in the direction for the assembly, with Anglo-Japanese concurrence, has declared in favor of the limitations of armaments.

Viscount Grey is one of the safest and sanest men and he, perhaps more than any other man in Great Britain, accurately senses the present mood. Worthy, indeed, of the man was his speech in Glasgow the other day, when he said that armaments still endangered the peace of the world, and he urged that their growth be carefully watched, and if possible, arrested so that no country might be forced to the killing race. He commented upon the ghastly precedent of a victorious Germany forcing the Franco-Russian alliance by forcing the triple combination of Germany, Austria and Italy, and he warned against the possibilities of allied exclusiveness now that we are in the position which we occupy today. Will these wise words be heeded? To me, it seems that the time has come, not only to check the growth but to force the reduction of armaments, yet the only relief is in the reduction of expenditures and here is America's opportunity for leadership.

The league of nations has been strengthened by the first plenary meeting. Although obeying instructions, the Argentine delegates' withdrawal when the amendments were not accepted, concerned nobody seriously. Therefore the Argentine president is probably sorry now that it was not heeded. The league may modify the covenant to get the cooperation of all nations, but it won't be until it has come to say and has the backing of peoples who will finally determine the attitude of politicians and presidents.

TRADE BEING ARRANGED.

But a return to prosperity depends upon the re-establishment of credit and confidence. It is a matter of time, but it may again buy from countries like America, where productive capacity has been only slightly impaired. We are all in the same boat and must pull together if we desire to surmount commercial depression, unemployment and class conflict. It is also satisfactory to note that the financial economic organization growing out of the recent Brussels conference is now arranging credits for the poorer countries.

ton and Umatilla counties will be reduced one representative each. It was said here tonight that the Multnomah delegation was not at all satisfied with this proposed piece of legislation and will make a fight to bring about its defeat.

SUPPORT HELD CERTAIN.

In this they are sure to have the support of the Marion, Lane, Clackamas, Washington and Umatilla county delegations, as well as the cow counties east of the mountains. It was said here tonight that bills affecting the Port of Portland had been completed and that they probably would be introduced sometime tomorrow. These bills were said to be of special interest to the Multnomah county delegation, although they may precipitate a fight among the legislators of several other counties.
