TREATY EVASION FEARED

France Would Inflict Penalties Severe Enough to Enforce Fulfillment of Pledges.

BY LINCOLN EYRE. (Copyright by the New York World Pub-lished by Arrangement) PARIS, Feb. 18.—(Special cable.)— In French official eyes the question of "sanctions" dominates all the others which will be raised at the approach-ing conference between the allies and Germans in London.

By sanctions the proby sanctions the remained by sanctions the remained to in-flict upon Germany in the event of her continued failure to live up to her disarmament and reparational ob-ligations. Anxiety lest Premier Lioya George should hesitate to carry into effect the sanctions tentatively—but not definitely, as had at first beer assumed—adopted at the Paris conrence prevails in governmental cir

In this connection it is significant that Premier Briand conferred for more than an hour this morning with Minister of War Barthou, Marshais Foch and Petain, General Buat, chief of the general staff, and General Weyand. What military measures would be best calculated to compel Germany's acquiescence in the en-tente's demands was the principal subject of their conversation.

te left bank of the Rhine, and denial the reichstag of membership in the league of nations.

Inquiries I made at Quai D'Orsay, however, reveal the fact that these sanctions were never formally accepted by Premier Lloyd George, who merely intimated casually that 'some such punishment' would be necessary. Moreover, the French fail to find anything in the British premier's re-cent speeches indicative of a firm resolve to impose upon Germany the enalties France so warmly urges.

If the Berlin government, it was positive doubt to me at the French foreign office, should after all accept the disarmament and reparation terms formulated by the entente on January 25, it must, at some time, be apprised of the penalties that will result from any subsequent failure to carry out these obligations. Indeed, the French concede Germany's right to know in advance what these penalties are to be. Since the conclusion of an agreement place of the conclusion of an agreement to pay fixed and variable annulates an arrangement altogether outside the Versailles treaty. The sanctions provided in that freaty would not be applicable.

Alluding to the trial of the German ex-emperor, Mr. Lloyd George said that, in view of Holland's refusal to surrender Wilhelm, he would say it was useless to insist that the ex-kaiser be handed over. France was as strong as England in the demand for punishment of the ex-kaiser, the premier said, but even France did not think the allies should risk anything in the nature of hostile action against Holland. He declared he would insist on trial of the other war criminals.

MAINE CONGREGATION TRYING NEW MODE OF WORSHIP.

According to Echo de Paris, there is a plan afoot for Great Britain to take possession of the custom house at Hamburg and for France to occupy "a big industrial city controlling the coal traffic for Bavaria and other regions beyond the Rhine," should the reichstag fail to comply with the allies' terms. This scheme, unfortunately for its French promoter, has not yet been subscribed to by the British government: nor, indeed, has any other penalization plan.
