Two long sittings of the conference threshed out the final break before Marshal Foch and Fleid Marshal Wilson wrote telegrams ordering the commanders at the front to execute orders already given. Dr. Simons, German foreign secre-

Relief Felf in England.

The general feeling in England ap-pears to be one of relief, without enthusiasm. The premier explained the proposition in the house of commons tonight in a speech, in which there was no note of jubilation.

Most English newspapers have taken the line that the most important point involved was that the allies should stand together, while the French press has voiced its fears that Lloyd George might desert France. All recognized that if M. Briand re-turned to Paris bearing the burdens of a concession to Germany his pre-miership was doomed.

Premier Deplores Action. Premier Lloyd George in announc-g German proposals were not ac-ptable, said:

We all deeply deplore having to We all deeply deplote having to come to this decision in the interest of peace, and, despite the fact that our action is liable to a good deal of misapprehension in our countries, we have made an effort to secure a better understanding, and it is not for lack of effort and discussion that for lack of effort and discussion that I have to announce on behalf the allies this failure to come an understanding with Germany.

Explaining why the latest proposals of Dr. Simons were inadequate. Mr. Lloyd George said it was essential in the interest of peace that there should be a definite settlement of questions between the allies and Germany.

That is an appeal to common sense," he continued. "The experts made some suggestions about trying to agree for five years, but that was not a plan adopted by any conference of statesmen. We wanted to know where we stood."

Proposal Held Unsolid.

He pointed out that Dr. Simons' acceptance of the Paris proposals for five years was apparent but not real. It was subject to conditions which might terminate it in a few weeks. It was subject to the plebiscite in upper Silesia. If the plebiscite were adverse to Germany she would be justified in saying: "Germany is deprived of territory upon which she depended to pay those annuities and, therefore, the agreement is at an end."

He continued:

"The German proposals are vague.
There is nothing the allies could raise one paper franc upon, let alone a gold mark. The proposal that Germany should pay annuities for five years by means of a toan is disquieting. She is thereby mortgaging her income for the years that come after to pay the annuities of the first five."

Big Sacrifices Cited. The premier spoke about the enor-mous sacrifices it would be necessary for Germany to make to pay the an-nulties for the first five years and

"This year we have a million unemployed as a result of the war, but we have to find ier paying our debt charges and pensions and disability allowances $500,000,000. "France, in addition to war charges, and pension list, has to find twelve billion francs for repairing her devastated area. Germany therefore, will have to find this year, one-ninth of what France has to find and we are told that the effort Germany puts forth is a colossal sacrifice. It shows Germany has not yet realized the es-sential facts of the situation." Basis Is Declared Lacking.

The allies could not enter into any iscussion upon the basis that Germany was not responsible for the war, he declared. The Paris proposals, he said, represented a considerable abatement of the full claims, but that abatement was made to secure a set-

Besides the 12 per cent tax for adjusting the annulity to German prosperity. Dr. Simons is not really in a position to negotiate; he is returning to report to public opinion, which is not ready to pay this debt."

"Until we get proposals from Germany which mean a permanent settlement there can be no peace," he declared.

"We must insist upon a settlement now of two questions," said Mr. Lloyd George. "The first is the amount of payments or the factors which should determine those amounts automatically according to the prosperity of Germany. What factors should be we are pre-
