Crown Forces Lose 10 Killed and 11 Wounded.

MILITARY JUDGE IS SHOT

Man Who Worked During Execution of Nationalists Is Chained to Pro-Cathedral.

DUBLIN, March 20.—"A black week" has just been experienced by the crown forces in Ireland. According to official reports, 11 members of the government forces were killed and 11 wounded in ambushes, while it is believed 13 assailants were killed and 10 wounded.

The reports do not take into account isolated killings and attacks. Captain Atkinson, an Ulster barrister, who acted as judge in a number of recent Dublin court-martials, was wounded Saturday night by three armed men.

John Sheehan, formerly an attendant at the Cork lunatic asylum, was shot dead at Cork last night. He had been suspected of giving information last December, on the occasion of the arrest of a girl wearing steel armor, concerning a republican arsenal.

Three bombs were thrown at a military lorry here last night, killing two soldiers and wounding six others, including an officer. The remaining soldiers fired, wounding three attackers.

From Monday night on, the curfew has been fixed from 8 P. M. to 5 A. M. The ambush of crown forces near Kinsale Saturday took place when reinforcements were seeking a military officer and a police sergeant, missing in a previous ambush, it was learned today. The officer has not been recovered, but the sergeant's body was found near Dunbarvan, blindfolded and riddled with bullets. A card pinned to his breast read:

"Executed."
A man was chained to the railing of the Pro-Cathedral here today. Police later liberated him. It was said he worked during the executions of six men in Mountjoy prison on March 18.

The archbishop of Tuam, in a letter to the parish priest in Clifden, condemning the shooting of policemen there as a reprisal of the Mountjoy executions and the failure to obey his call for a cessation of hostilities by the republican forces, said:

"I must give my people moral guidance, even if corrupt politicians turn gospel teachings to bad ends."
He repeated his appeal for a truce.

MILLS OPEN, WAGES CUT

UNIONIST WOULD REGAIN LOSS RECENTLY SUFFERED.

Minneapolis Convention Expected by Timber Workers' Head to Make Helpful Plans.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 20.—(Special.)—The mills closed for the last three months are gradually resuming operations and that the lumber industry has begun to return to normal, leaving a trail of badly demoralized wage scales, is the report that Clair Covert, president of the International Union of Timber Workers, are taking from the state of Washington to the fourth annual convention of the international, which opens in Minneapolis March 28. Mr. Covert and Mr. Norland, secretary-treasurer of the Minneapolis today as members of the delegation of five the Washington district is sending to the convention, which will be the first the timber workers' international has ever held off the Pacific coast, where it was organized.

"Plans for active organization work to regain ground that has been lost during the period of depression in the lumber industry, not only here but all over the country, and to build up the union now when the workers feel the need of the protection of a bona fide organization, will no doubt be an important subject before the convention," said Mr. Covert last night. "The workers in the timber industry on this coast are showing by their renewed interest in our union that they have had their fill of substitutes for real trade unionism and also of vicarious unionism."

"Wages have been badly slashed in the readjustment process and, in some instances, have been forced down to the pre-war level. Such drastic reductions cannot be permanent, but, on the other hand, it cannot be said that a new wage level has been established."

CONVICT SINGER LOST SON

FATHER RECOGNIZES YOUTH IN PRISON GARB.

"Dear Old Daddy" Sings Prisoner With Arm Linked in Parents' in First Time in 14 Years.

COLUMBUS, O., March 20.—Lemuel Gary, district superintendent of a large life insurance company, yesterday sat in a meeting of underwriters listening to a male chorus, composed of convicts from the Ohio penitentiary, sing. In the prison uniform was a young man named William Gary. Friends of the insurance man commented on the likeness of his name with that of the convicts. They called the convict down from the stage.

There was an instant recognition by the insurance man of a son; by the convict of a father. Rising to his feet, the father introduced the convict to the audience, saying he had not seen his son for 14 years.

As a closing number young Gary, with his arm linked in that of his father sang "Dear Old Daddy." "This is the happiest day of my life," said the father.

Young Gary, sentenced from Cleveland for automobile theft, will be released in April.

CHAMBERS TO CONVENE

GOVERNMENT MANAGEMENT OF BUSINESS OPPOSED.

Discussions Are to Be Conducted in Group Meetings Lasting From April 27 to April 29.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—"More business methods in government and less government management of business," will be the general discussion at the ninth annual meeting of the United States chamber of commerce at Atlantic City, April 27 to 29, the chamber announced today. Industrial and economic questions to be brought up will be approached from their relationship to this subject, it was said.

Discussions will be conducted in group meetings to take up particularly finance, foreign commerce, transportation and communication and civil development, while other industrial groups will consider questions relating to their fields.

A group representing the raw material production interests, will consider, it was said, proposed legislation for government "management" of basic industries and the government's relation to natural resources.

15 SLAIN IN AMBUSH

7 SOLDIERS, POLICEMAN AND 7 ATTACKERS KILLED.

Fatalities to Crown Forces in Ireland Caused by Blowing Up Bridge While Lories Cross.

CORK, March 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Seven soldiers and one policeman were killed and several wounded and seven members of an attacking party were killed in the ambush of military and police near Kinsale Saturday, according to the latest reports received here. The fatalities to the crown forces were caused by the blowing up of a bridge while three lorries were crossing it.

The twenty Sinn Feiners were captured, of whom seven were wounded, and the military took a large quantity of ammunition. A reign of terror prevails in County Cork and the crown forces are reported to have burned farm houses and produce in reprisal for the ambush. Search for the members of the attacking party who escaped is being continued.

Victrola XI One of the popular priced models $150

Victor records are a part of Victrola instruments

Just as much as the sound-box and stylus and tone-arm. Each separate part combines to bring about the perfect result, and the records as well as all other parts are specially made to be used on Victrola instruments.

Victor records and Victrola instruments are scientifically coordinated in the process of manufacture. In making records the great artists give unsparingly of their time and efforts, working together with the Victor scientists and craftsmen who are thoroughly skilled in the art of sound reproduction.

The result is fully evident when you play Victor records on Victrola instruments. It is only by using them in combination that you get such life-like reproductions which meet the approval of the artists themselves. Victrola instruments $25 to $1500.

The Big National Advertising Medium

The daily newspaper has always been the pre-eminent local advertising medium.

In recent years it has come to be the great national medium of advertising for manufacturers and distributors of trade-marked goods.

It is estimated that in 1920 the newspapers carried more than $700,000,000 worth of advertising and of this vast sum, from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000 came from national advertisers.

Most of all the money spent for any kind of advertising was spent in the daily newspapers.

The supremacy of the daily newspaper as an advertising medium is due to the fact that it is read by virtually everyone, everywhere, every day, because everybody who reads wants to know the news of the world and of business.
