BISHOP SUMNER HELLO SPEAKER

That religion is essential in every department of life is the proposition that Bishop Sumner will present to citizens of Portland at the noonday Lenten services held daily during this holy week with the exception of Saturday at the Hellig theater. Beginning this noon he will show on the successive days what religion offers to those in professions those in business, those in industry, the family and all men. These services, from 12:05 to 12:30 P. M., will be under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Episcopal church in Portland.

USED CLOTHING TO BE RECEIVED

Bundles of used clothing and household articles to aid in the work of the new industrial development of the public welfare bureau will be received throughout the week at the fire stations of the city. Large or fragile packages will be called for if they are sent to the headquarters of the industrial department telephone Broadway 231. Tickets to the special performance for girls at the Hippodrome theater at 10 o'clock Saturday evening, given in exchange for bundles of old clothing and other useful articles at any of the fire stations at any time during the week. Admission will also be given on presentation of a bundle at the theater Saturday morning.

MURDER TRIALS TO BEGIN

Two men charged with murder will face jury trials today in the circuit court. Joseph Poeschl, an Austrian, is to be tried for the slaying of Charles J. Schabel, Portland, on February 4, 1920, in a courthouse corridor. February 4, Poeschl, it was understood, will plead insanity. Dr. Norman Bouchet, a dentist, must face trial for the killing of Mrs. Ruth Richards on August 7, 1919, after killing Mrs. Richards Bouchet turned the weapon on himself in an attempt to commit suicide. Both cases will be assigned this morning by Presiding Judge Kavanaugh and will get under way before noon.

who can scratch fifty-two "Blue Mondays" from her calendar annually? Every one of my customers that sends her washing to the NATIONAL LAUNDRY is carefree and contented. Why shouldn't she be, when a big load is removed from her shoulders? And especially satisfying to her is the SERVICE she gets here, with a cost so trifling and so satisfying we feel certain that any woman who is not one of our customers will sooner or later recognize the wisdom of letting us do the washing for her.

Reason No. 3 for Success

Volume of business has been sacrificed for quality. All life insurance companies were severely tested by the "flu" epidemic. During this period our mortality was less than 78% of the tables on which the rates of legal reserve life insurance companies are based and during 1920, it was only 39.31%. Instead of suffering a decrease of surplus during the epidemic period, our surplus increased as always and instead of having to reduce dividends, we were enabled materially to increase our dividend refunds to holders of participating policies.
