

STOCKYARDS SALE PLAN IS APPROVED

Swift-Armour Divestment to Be Within Year.

ORDER SIGNED BY COURT

Department of Justice Indorses Details and Trustees Will Execute Federal Mandate.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A new plan under which Swift & Co. and Armour & Co. are to divest themselves of their interests in stockyards and stockyard terminal railroads was approved today by the department of justice and immediately approved by Justice Stafford of the district of Columbia supreme court.

Under the plan the companies must deliver their stock in the yards and terminals to the Illinois Trust & Savings bank at Chicago within 30 days for administration by two trustees, Henry W. Anderson of Richmond, Va., and George Sutherland of Salt Lake City, until sold, which must be within a year.

Plan Readily Approved.
The legal principle, of course, was up to the department of justice. Justice Stafford said after he had signed the plan, "and when the department had approved the plan it was only incumbent upon me to see that the law was not violated by any of the particulars. I was glad to find that such was not the case and therefore approved the plan."

The trustees are to receive salaries of $10,000 a year each and will have power to interfere in the management of any stockyard or railroad if in the opinion of both either the Sherman act or the terms of the decree are being violated.

Stock Must Be Sold.
The plan sets forth that the defendants are to proceed to sell their stock with due diligence, with reports of all sales submitted to the court for its approval. These reports must contain the price and the name of the proposed purchasers and must be accompanied by affidavits that the proposed purchasers are in no way connected with the defendants.

In the event that any of the stock remains unsold at the end of the year, the defendants may obtain an extension of time upon showing made to the court of diligence in their efforts to dispose of the stock at a fair and reasonable price.

Vast Properties Involved.
The properties stock to be sold by the two companies include Sioux City Stockyard company, St. Paul Union Stock Yards company, St. Joseph Stock Yards company, Dwyer Union Stock Yards company, Kansas City Stockyards company, St. Louis National Stock Yards, Union Stock Yards company of Omaha, Limited, Portland Union Stock Yards company, North Portland, Or.; Sioux City Terminal Railway company, St. Joseph Belt Railway company, St. Joseph, Mo.; Kansas City Connecting railroad and East St. Louis Junction Railroad company.

Agreement to dispose of their stockyard interests was made by the packers in the consent decree filed with the District of Columbia supreme court more than a year ago.

ARMOUR INTERESTS PLEASED
Acceptance of Plan Facilitated to Satisfy General Demand.

CHICAGO, April 12.—"We are glad to have this matter disposed of to the satisfaction of the government," said a statement by Armour & Co. today, concerning acceptance of the plan for disposing of that firm's holdings in stockyards.

"We entered into this agreement to dispose of our holdings in stockyards, not because we felt it was economically proper but merely through a desire to bow to the rather widespread, but in our opinion misguided demand.

"We do not believe that the producers of livestock will gain anything by having someone other than ourselves interested in the operation of stockyards, as we cannot see wherein the consumer will be benefited.

"If we are wrong and either or both—producers and consumers—are benefited, we will be glad."

BRADY JURY IMPANELED

STATE AND DEFENSE EXHAUST PEREMPTORY CHALLENGES

Notoriety Given to the "Talkative Burglar."

After state and defense had exhausted all peremptory challenges, a jury was impaneled late yesterday in the court of Circuit Judge Morrow to try Joe Brady, the man who is charged with capitalizing the notoriety given the "talkative burglar" last winter, if not being the robber himself. Prospective jurors were examined by George Mowry, deputy district attorney, and Lou Wagner, attorney for the defense.

The jurors sworn in were the following: C. E. Pesterman, grocery man; William F. Darr, merchant; Albert W. Sage, salesman; Horace W. Parker, retired; C. E. Morris, lumberman; Alexander McAllister, longshoreman; W. N. Christensen, cigar dealer; Robert E. Lamson, bookkeeper; Albert E. Rosetter, retired; Louis Erickson, bridge carpenter; Charles J. Sigler, laborer, and Charles F. Randall, retired.

Brady was indicted on three counts, one for the robbery of the home of Roscoe C. Nelson, Portland attorney; a second for the larceny of $100 which Nelson threw in a street for the "talkative burglar," and third for the theft of $35 which Nelson charges he paid to Brady to pay to the talkative burglar in return for a diamond ring held by the robber. It is the last named count on which the present trial is based.

Wear Your Buttons—Jitney Ordinance to Stand.

CHEHALIS, Wash., April 12.—(Special.)—Chehalis city commission has refused to repeal the jitney ordinance which prevents C. E. Jackson from operating a line of stages between Chehalis and Centralia. The Lewis county superior court has tied up Jackson by a restraining order from running his buses. He asked the repeal of the ordinance under his contention that it was in conflict with the new state law. Jackson has declared his intention to again start his service as soon as the new law becomes effective.

PRINEVILLE, Or., April 12.—(Special.)—At a recent meeting of the county high school board Professor E. E. Evans was rehired for the ensuing year. Mr. Evans, who has been a member of the faculty for the past ten years and principal three years of that time, recommended the retention of the entire present force of teachers for the coming year.

SIMPLE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of caustic powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores and do not get them out after they become hard. The caustic powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.—Adv.

Cocoanut Oil Fine for Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Most soaps and prepared shampoo contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multifield cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls of Multifield will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Multifield cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multifield.—Adv.
