

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

AMUSEMENTS. HELLO (Broadway at Taylor)—The Sun on the Downy Tenth. BAKER (Morrison at Eleventh)—Baker's company in "Marry the Moon" tonight. LYRIC (Broadway at Morrison)—Musical comedy "My New Step" three shows daily, 2, 7 and 9 P. M. HIPPODROME (Broadway at Yamhill)—Vaudeville and picture, 2 to 5, 8:30 to 11 P. M. Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays, commencing May 11 P. M. PANTAGES (Broadway at Alder)—Vaudeville, three shows daily, 2, 7 and 9:30 P. M. PHYSICAL EDUCATORS TO MEET—Thirty physical education and play-ground instructors will hold their monthly meeting in Corvallis and Eugene, May 6 and 7. A special invitation has been extended to the Physical Education Association to hold this meeting at the Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Oregon. The association is trying to get the western convention of the association in Portland in 1922 and in 1925 will bid for the meeting of the national association here. J. O. Mauthe is president of the Oregon society. CHINAMAN IN JAIL SELLS DRUGS—Sam Eng, arrested by inspectors Coleman and Collins Tuesday as suspected Chinese bandit, was fined $250 and sentenced to 120 days in jail by Municipal Judge Rossman yesterday for selling drugs to other prisoners in the city jail. The sale of drugs to city jail prisoners was exposed in police court Wednesday by O'Brien, who found market money which Hy Brown, another addict, had paid to Eng for drugs. A search of Eng's shoes revealed the presence of a quantity of morphine and cocaine. MOUNT HOOD RESORT TO OPEN—Mount Hood lodge, on the Hood River side of Mount Hood, will open for its ninth season tomorrow, according to announcement made by Homer Rogers yesterday. Rogers said that extensive improvements would be put in including the enlarging of the dining room and erection of a number of attractive cabins. Auto buses will be run between Hood River and the lodge to take care of persons who do not drive out. Mr. Rogers announced, it is the intention to open Cloud Cap Inn about the end of June. PRATT DEMURRER TO BE ARGUED TODAY—The demurrer to the indictment of F. B. Pratt, jointly charged with John L. Etheridge and Fred S. Morris, with larceny by bail of the stock of the Rogue River Water company, will be argued before Presiding Circuit Judge Kavanagh this morning. It was scheduled for yesterday morning, but was postponed. Demurrers to the indictments of Etheridge and Morris have already been argued. Mr. Pratt was the secretary of the defunct bond house of Morris Bros. CITY EMPLOYEE KILLED BY FALL—R. D. Powell, an employe at municipal terminal No. 4, was killed almost instantly yesterday morning when he fell backward a distance of 30 feet from a ladder, the fall crushing his skull. He was removed to the morgue by the Army ambulance company. The dead man was 36 years old and lived at 414 Bristol street. He is survived by a widow and two small children. There will be no inquest. BUREAU TO GO EAST—Fifty buyers from the J. C. Penney stores in Oregon and Washington will leave this city Sunday night in two special coaches for the east. They will travel together as far as Salt Lake City. The J. C. Penney company, according to Manager Ross of the local store, operates 84 establishments in this state, 23 in Washington, 17 in California, and a total of 314 in the United States. BLUM-SKY SENTENCED TO IMPRISONMENT—Marshall Fraser, president of the defunct Your Transportation Lines, Inc., will be sentenced by Circuit Judge Gates Saturday morning, May 7, at 10 o'clock. Judge Gates postponed pronouncing sentence yesterday morning, since he is busy with another case. Fraser was found guilty last week by a jury in Judge Gates' court of violating the Oregon blue-sky law. C. V. GALLOWAY TO DISCUSS TAXATION—The trend of taxation in the state of Oregon will be discussed by C. V. Galloway at the luncheon of the City club at the Benson hotel today. Mr. Galloway will take as his subject "Our Local Tax Problem." Nomination of officers and governors to be elected at the annual meeting, May 6, will be held. REALTY BOARD MEETS TODAY—The regular monthly business meeting of the Realty board will be held in the grill room of the Portland hotel today at noon. Plans pertaining to the coming "build a home" campaign will be discussed and other matters of interest to the board. W. B. Shively will discuss a legal question. NEGRO FORMER HELD TO GRAND JURY—Frank Gibson, negro, red cap at the Union station, arrested on a charge of having sent obscene pictures through the mails to a woman, was held to the grand jury yesterday after a preliminary examination before United States Commissioner Fraser. He is in jail in default of $10,000 bond. SERVICES TO CONCLUDE—The concluding service of the Feast of Passover will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at Temple Beth Israel. At 8 o'clock tonight Rabbi Wise will speak on Napoleon Bonaparte, May 5, making the 100th anniversary of his death. ROBBERS ARE BUST IN ROSE CITY DISTRICT—Three homes entered and large amount of valuables taken. Protect yourself against such losses. Phone Mar. 229 for a burglar alarm, holdup policy. W. R. McDonald Co., general insurance, Yeon bldg.—Adv. DO NOT FORGET TO call up East 3885 when you want the Salvator Army auto truck to call for cast-off clothing, magazines, newspapers, furniture, etc. Address 24-24 Union ave. Major John Bree, district officer.—Adv. THE FERRY on the bluff of the Columbia river, at White Salmon, Wash., will be open to guests for week ends or for Sunday dinners by arrangement not later than Friday. Mrs. C. W. J. Recker.—Adv. KEEPS BUSINESS MEN FIT—Renewal of life cells defers old age and keeps you fit for business. A new method is patronized by our best business men. Dr. Dee, 412 Artisans bldg.—Adv. ATTORNEY, with well established practice, wanted to share suite of three rooms with attorney with offices in the Yeon building. Write particulars. AK 625, Oregonian.—Adv. DR. E. C. ROSSMAN, artificial denture specialist, makes plates that please particular people. Journal bldg.—Adv. NEEDED at Pingsh home a suit and skirt for a large woman. Phone 25 2525.—Adv. THRED, aching feet can be relieved; consult Dr. Ingalls, Knight Shoe Co., Morrison, near Broadway.—Adv. FOND electric to trade for real estate. 795 Lovejoy. Main 3762.—Adv. LEWIS-STENGER, Morrison at Tenth, grind razors, scissors, knives perfectly.—Adv. KEMMESER COAL—Carbon Coal Co. mine south, East 1188, Ave. W. CORWOOD, $5.50—F. E. Bowman Co.—Adv. DR. HARRIS, dentist, has returned.—Adv. DR. DATTON, glasses, Swetland bldg.—Adv.

PORTLANDERS GOING TO TRADE COUNCIL

Portland will be represented at the eighth annual convention of the foreign trade council, to be held in Cleveland, O., May 4, 5, 6, and 7, by nine delegates. They will leave at 9 o'clock this morning over the Union Pacific line. Those who comprise the party are: J. M. Anderson, cashier of the Astoria National bank; Walter H. Brown, Northwestern National bank; E. J. Burke, E. J. Burke Wool company; A. C. Callan, Pacific-International company and agent for the Williams Steamship line; A. L. Deak, Ladd & Tilgham bank; H. L. Hudson, manager traffic bureau, Port of Portland and dock commission; Christian Peterson, United States National bank; Frank Ira White, manager of the foreign trade department, Chamber of Commerce; Ralph E. Williams, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Anderson will accompany their husbands.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS TO PRESENT PLAY

"What Happened to Jones" will be presented tonight and Saturday in the Lincoln high school auditorium by the senior class. This is one of George Broadhurst's most famous plays. The cast has been arranged as follows: Miss Maudie MacConnel and Dr. Henrietta Moore. Those who will appear are: Kenneth Stephenson, Elizabeth Boschke, Mary Grinn, Ronald Adams, Jean Gray, Caroline Cheley, Francis Elmer, Francis Friedenthal, Robert Maxwell, Herbert Goldsmith, Charles Davis, Duran Soule, Davy Wright. The money raised from the play is used in the production of the class issue of the Cardinal, the school publication.

DENTAL COLLEGE TO ELECT

Election of officers for the coming school year at the North Pacific Dental college will be completed this week, with the following students nominated: Presidents, M. W. Ward of Seattle and W. M. MacLean of British Columbia; vice-presidents, F. A. Lespek of Victoria, B. C., and R. L. Deaver of St. Helens; secretaries, F. Robinson of Portland, H. H. Hedberg of Tacoma and P. J. Montag of Bellingham; general manager, H. H. Hedberg of Everett, Wash.; editor-in-chief, H. W. Rogers of Malibu, B. C.; and Mary Anderson of Tacoma; business managers of college, H. W. Rogers of Portland, J. R. Talbert of Aloha and D. Pritchard of Butte, Mont.

DRAMA LEAGUE PLAYS TONIGHT

Three one-act plays marking the sixtieth anniversary of the drama league in the season's series of dramatic events, will be presented tonight by the Portland Drama League, under the direction of George Natanson at the Little theater. The plays and players follow: "Lima Bean," by Kreymsbar, with Mrs. Rose Cohen and George Natanson; "Happiness," by Hartley Manners, with Mrs. Jean Adkins, Ruth Taylor and Maurice Madson, and the repetition of "Suppressed Desires," by Susan Laessle, with the original cast including Daisy Gibbons, Wilberta Babbidge and George Natanson.

J. W. STEVENS RECOVERING

J. W. Stevens, manager of the fire prevention bureau of the national board of fire underwriters and ex-fire marshal of Portland, is recovering from the injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Ripon, Cal., last week. This information was received yesterday by City Commissioner Bigelow from Charles H. Lum, assistant general manager of the national board of fire underwriters. The accident occurred while Mr. Stevens was journeying to Fresno, where he was scheduled to speak. Mr. Stevens probably will not be able to leave the hospital for a month.

REVISION OF ORDER KEPT

Appeal to the municipal civil service board to nullify its action of ratification of the discharge of O. Nelson, ex-patrolman in the Portland police bureau, was made yesterday to the board by Charles C. Hindman, his attorney. Mr. Hindman holds that Mayor Baker did not follow legal requirements prescribed in the city charter in effecting the removal of Nelson, and that the board's action should void its action of ratification. The matter was taken under advisement by the board.

"WHO'S WHO" COPYRIGHTED

Persons intending to publish directories or other things to which the title "Who's Who" would apply had best "pay off" that winning caption because it is presumed to be the copyrighted property of A. N. Marquis & Co., of Chicago, publisher of the well-known "Who's Who in America." C. W. Parker, who publishes "Who's Who in the Northwest," has been required by the federal trade commission to discontinue the use of the words, "Who's Who."

TELEPHONE USERS TO MEET

A meeting of a new association of telephone users in Benton, Lane and Linn counties will be held in the community house at Albany next Monday at 1:30 P. M. to take some organized action in regard to filing a petition for a rehearing of the telephone rate case before the public service commission. W. K. Taylor, president of the Benton county farm bureau, has urged each county in the state and each town to send one representative to join in the move.

LANGLETT GIVES BOND

Ole H. Langlett of Roseau county, Minnesota, arrested on statutory charge, was released from the county jail yesterday on $1500 bail. His hearing has been set for May 6 before District Judge Deitch. Langlett, who said he has been in the northwest for about a year and was employed in Portland as a bank teller, told officers yesterday that he would fight extradition. An officer from Minnesota will be here in about three days.

KIRKPATRICK PICNIC NEAR

The opening picnic of the series to be given by the Kirkpatrick county Security Benefit association, has been scheduled for Sunday, May 1, at Crystal Lake park. A baseball game between the American Can company and Loyal Legion of Lumbermen and Loggers teams will be the athletic attraction.

"SPOKANE WHITNEY" FREED

Herbert Rohr, otherwise known as "Spokane Whitney," was freed of the charge of having violated the Harrison drug act by the possession of cocaine in a Pendleton rooming house. The United States attorney's office yesterday withdrew its previous charge, evidence failing to connect Rohr with the drug.

OBSERVATION TOWER PLANNED

Plans for the construction of an observation tower, 100 feet in height, on the topmost point in Mount Tabor park are being made by C. P. Keyser, superintendent of parks. This tower will be so situated, Mr. Keyser said, that it will afford a view of the entire city and surrounding country that will be available.

LECTURE ON BIRDS AT LIBRARY

W. A. Elliot will give an illustrated lecture on birds before the Oregon Audubon society tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in central library hall. The subject will be "The Small Bluebirds of the Tree-tops," including the warblers, vireos, kinglets, nuthatches, creepers, titmice and humming birds. The public is invited.

FACTORY WORKER INJURED

C. Hendricks, 58 years old, sustained a serious cut over the left eye when he was struck by a piece of machinery while at work at the Sain Bros' broom factory yesterday afternoon. He was removed to St. Vincent's hospital. The injured man is married and lives at 327 Going street.

CHIROPRACTIC McMANON (McMan), 11th year, extended time; 31 adjustments, $18.—Adv.

EXPERT grinding, Portland Cutlery Co., 44 4th st., bet. Stark and Oak.—Adv.

EFFICIENT MEN LET OUT

WAR VETERANS, RELEASED BY CITY, APPEAL TO MAYOR.

Injustice in Civil Service Examinations Admitted; John F. Logan Suggests Revision. Complaint has been registered with Mayor Baker by M. Murano and S. Bartola, two overseas veterans of the world war, because of release from street cleaning bureau examinations to pass civil service examinations.

Both of the men, according to foremen under whom they work, are giving efficient and satisfactory service. Reason for failure to pass civil service examination is that both of the men lack experience, computed on the basis of seven years' experience as perfect.

M. Murano, who has a wife and baby, served overseas with the coast artillery, S. Bartola, 427 East 50th street, served for 18 months in the navy, 18 months overseas.

George C. Mason, civil service commissioner, admitted that an injustice had been done to these two men, but said the charter provides for competitive examinations and that the board must set some term of years for experience as a basis for competition.

In both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

John F. Logan, chairman of the civil service board, suggested that perhaps the basic number of years for computing experience should be reduced from seven to three years in the case of laborer and teamster. He also agreed that these two men should also receive consideration from the board, especially because their services were satisfactory.

Both the case of teamster and laborer, Commissioner Mason contended that experience should be used in appraising the value of the services of a man for a position.

Copyright 1921, The House of Kuppenheimer

Two Live Specials for Boys Johnny Tupants Suits $14.85 All wool, extra-knicker suits for boys. Sizes 7 to 18. Junior Suits and Reefers $7.45 Sizes 3 to 7. —In our Morrison windows.

BALLET AND SYMPHONY. Mail orders are now being received for Adolph Bolm ballet and Little

MOORE PRODUCERS NEEDED BIGGER FARMING POPULATION HELD IMPERATIVE. Only Eight Per Cent of Oregon's Area in Cultivation, Says Director of Experiment Station.

Only 8 per cent of the area of the state at present is cultivated. "Oregon needs farmers, lots of them," he declared.

Among the outstanding needs of the farmers of the state at present, Professor Jardine said, were better markets, better transportation, better credit facilities and efficient and businesslike farm management.

He told of the work of the experiment station in introducing Turkey red wheat with its average production of three bushels an acre more than other sorts. He said the station now was working on the production of a smut-resistant wheat, with prospects favorable. A better grade of spring wheat, he said, had also been evolved by the station and is being distributed among the farmers.

Ochoco Project Has Banquet. PRINEVILLE, Or., April 28.—(Special.)—John W. Brewster of the Oregon state chamber of commerce spoke at a Commercial club banquet at Hotel Prineville Tuesday night. Mr. Brewster talked in an enthusiastic vein on the possibilities and development of this section. The banquet was in honor of the Ochoco project and was largely attended.

S. & H. green stamps for cash. Holman Fuel Co., coal and wood, Main 263, 1560-21.—Adv.

Frading, embroidery, remitting. Root's Morzan building.—Adv.

Mining Work Started. BAKER, Or., April 28.—(Special.)—Work has begun at the Last Chance mine, Cornucopia, and at the Lawrence tunnel. The tunnel is expected to cut the ledge in 100 feet. A crew of 12 men will be employed.

CARDS OF THANKS. The sisters of mercy at St. Agnes' baby home, Park Place, Oregon, extend sincere thanks to Mr. Jensen of the Liberty theater for the entertainment given yesterday afternoon to the children. The sisters also thank the Ladies Aid society and the Knights of Columbus, who took charge of the committee to discontinue the use of the words, "Who's Who."

WE wish to thank our many kind friends for the beautiful flowers, and for their kind sympathy and loving service during our recent bereavement. SIMON GEVIRTZ AND FAMILY.

WE wish to thank our many friends for their many acts of kindness and words of cheer and comfort during the illness and death of our daughter, Miss Edith Groves, who died April 27, 1921. W. H. GROVES AND FAMILY.

SECURE TICKETS EARLY. Come as Near 2 and 8 as Possible. AUDITORIUM Third and Clay. Phone—Main 720 Today 2:30 Tonight 8:30 ALL THIS WEEK Every Aft. 2:30, Every Eve. 8:30. SPECIAL CHILDREN'S MAT. TOMORROW 2:30

World-Famous Pathe Natural Color Film BEHIND THE MAN 8-Years in the Making-8 MUSICAL SETTINGS PROGRAMME NOTE—This Stupendous Picture WILL NEVER BE SHOWN IN A PORTLAND THEATER. Prices, Including War Tax, Both Afternoon and Night. ADULTS 55c CHILDREN 25c Children's Exchange Tickets Will Be Honored Up to and Including Saturday Matinee. Most Satisfying, Awe-Inspiring Film Ever Seen in This City. Children Under 4 Years Not Admitted.

EXTRA NO ADDITIONAL CHARGE IN CONJUNCTION WITH ABOVE NEXT SUNDAY AFT. AND EVE. FAMOUS AMERICAN ORGANIST, HUGO GOODWIN Together With MARVELOUS BOY SOPRANO, DOUGLAS SMITH

The Hazelwood CONFECTIONERY AND RESTAURANT 388 Washington Street 127 Broadway

PERHAPS—Life Insurance won't make it easier for your family to bear the sorrow of your loss, but—Lack of adequate insurance would certainly make it harder.

GUARANTEE FUND LIFE STRONG - SUBSTANTIAL - SAFE Lovejoy & Hazen, State Agents, Pittock Block, Portland "Buy Pure Protection—invest your own savings."

MOTHERS FRIEND For Expectant Mothers USED BY THREE GENERATIONS WRITE FOR BOOKLET ON MOTHERHOOD AND BABY, FROM BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO. DEPT. 9-2, ATLANTA, GA.

The Suit You Buy Next Year Won't Help Win Today's Success

GET OVER THE IDEA that the old suit will "do just as well." It doesn't fool anyone but yourself.

You need 1921 clothes to help you hold your own in the business world. You need their trim freshness, their easy, comfortable fit, their better fabrics.

Get in the game! Buy that new suit now. Buy it for today's success—and tomorrow's will pay for itself.

As to price—glance over these: Nationally Famous Kuppenheimer Suits $45 $50 $60

You know the enviable reputation of these quality clothes. Here you find the best models that men and young men should wear. —In our Morrison windows.

Lion Clothing Co. Exclusive Kuppenheimer House in Portland Morrison at Fourth S. & H. Stamps Given

Radical Reductions in the sale price of Gillette Safety Razors amounting in most instances to 50% off the old price. Now is the time to get a high-grade Safety Razor at a low price. Price good until the stock is sold out.

Don't wait—Buy now. See Window Display Honeyman Hardware Company Two Stores Fourth at Alder Park at Glisan

Money's Worth or Money Back No matter what big sale you attend you will wind up at the FACTORY SAMPLE SHOP

Lowest prices on Jersey Jackets, Sport Shirts, Suits and Coats. Positively lower than sale prices. SALE NOW ON Factory Sample Shop 286 MORRISON, NEAR 4TH ST. Next to Lion Clothing Co.

Oldsmobile 4 THE SENSATION—OF THE SEASON—SEE IT—THAT'S ALL—Orders filled in rotation.

Good Advice to the Billions. Those who are bilious, dyspeptic and constipated feel miserably a good share of the time. They would like to feel fine and enjoy their meals if they would take a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen their digestion and regulate the liver and bowels.—Adv.

Greenfield's Brown Kid or Calfskin Military Heel Walking Oxfords $7.50 8.75 $10

A large, complete selection of Military Heel Walking Oxfords in either brown kidskin or calfskin, modeled over the newest lasts and patterns, several shades of calfskin, all Goodyear welted soles.

All sizes 2 to 9, all widths, AAA to E