

Morning Oregonian

ESTABLISHED BY HENRY L. PITCOCK. Published by The Oregonian Publishing Co., 135 Sixth Street, Portland, Oregon.

Subscription Rates—Invariably in Advance. (By Mail.) Daily, Sunday included, one year, $15.00.

Industrial supremacy, especially in steel manufacturing, is the main reason for the success of the American people.

MOB LAW.

The awakening of public opinion in Georgia, due to the sensational disclosures made in the so-called peonage trial, promises to result in a revolution against mob law.

ENTER THE GOLDEN JAG.

Midas was so intoxicated with desire for wealth that he craved the golden touch, and straightaway transformed his own little daughter to a statue of precious metal.

EDISON AND THE COLLEGE MAN.

It is reported again that Thomas A. Edison holds a low opinion of college men, based on their inability to answer a lot of miscellaneous questions.

A PERENNIAL LESSON IN OPTIMISM.

Chauncey Depew, who celebrated his 87th birthday the other day, embodies in his own person the optimistic and almost unerring philosophy of the years he has lived.

OUR NEED OF FOREIGN OIL.

Imports of oil from Mexico indicate the reason for the attention that the administration gives to that fluid in its foreign policy.

BY PRODUCTS OF THE PRESS.

Newspaper Men Fail to Save White Nation's Record. Married men save more than single men, says Richard Spillane in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THOSE WHO COME AND GO.

Tales of Edik at the Hotels. "I can die anywhere, but what I want is to find a place where I can live. That is what I told my family one evening in Kansas, in 1891, and the next morning I had packed up my trunk and was on my way to Oregon."

BY PRODUCTS OF THE PRESS. Newspaper Men Fail to Save White Nation's Record. Married men save more than single men, says Richard Spillane in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THOSE WHO COME AND GO.

Tales of Edik at the Hotels. "I can die anywhere, but what I want is to find a place where I can live. That is what I told my family one evening in Kansas, in 1891, and the next morning I had packed up my trunk and was on my way to Oregon."

WHEN HARDEN WAS MILITARIST.

Writings in 1914 Quite Different From Today's Appeals. PORTLAND, May 10.—(To the Editor.)—There are few, if any, Americans who will take stock in Maximilian Harden's solution of Germany's way of dealing with her reparations problem.

UNPREJUDICED SELECTION OF EXPOSITION SITE THOUGHT NECESSARY.

PORTLAND, May 9.—(To the Editor.)—The city of Portland is being propounded for the 1925 exposition site are largely sectional, and with all due respect to their proponents, they are not in the public interest.

ABHI FOR EVERYONE BUT NEWSPAPER.

PORTLAND, May 9.—(To the Editor.)—From an editorial in the Oregonian May 6, two false impressions may be gathered by the public.

SIGNS ON HIGHWAYS.

MONROE, Or., May 9.—(To the Editor.)—There is a law, is there not, prohibiting these ugly advertising signs being tacked on the fences along Pacific highway?

WHEN PAPER IS GIFT.

PORTLAND, May 10.—(To the Editor.)—I am a subscriber to an evening paper and for nearly two weeks I received two papers instead of one.

IRISH TONGUE AND BONES.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., May 9.—(To the Editor.)—I, please tell me if there is such a language as the Irish language.

COPIES OF NEW LAWS.

OAKLAND, Or., May 9.—(To the Editor.)—I am a subscriber to the Oregonian and I have been unable to obtain a copy of the new laws.

WHEN HARDEN WAS MILITARIST. Writings in 1914 Quite Different From Today's Appeals. PORTLAND, May 10.—(To the Editor.)—There are few, if any, Americans who will take stock in Maximilian Harden's solution of Germany's way of dealing with her reparations problem.

UNPREJUDICED SELECTION OF EXPOSITION SITE THOUGHT NECESSARY.

PORTLAND, May 9.—(To the Editor.)—The city of Portland is being propounded for the 1925 exposition site are largely sectional, and with all due respect to their proponents, they are not in the public interest.

ABHI FOR EVERYONE BUT NEWSPAPER.

PORTLAND, May 9.—(To the Editor.)—From an editorial in the Oregonian May 6, two false impressions may be gathered by the public.

SIGNS ON HIGHWAYS.

MONROE, Or., May 9.—(To the Editor.)—There is a law, is there not, prohibiting these ugly advertising signs being tacked on the fences along Pacific highway?

WHEN PAPER IS GIFT.

PORTLAND, May 10.—(To the Editor.)—I am a subscriber to an evening paper and for nearly two weeks I received two papers instead of one.

IRISH TONGUE AND BONES.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., May 9.—(To the Editor.)—I, please tell me if there is such a language as the Irish language.

COPIES OF NEW LAWS.

OAKLAND, Or., May 9.—(To the Editor.)—I am a subscriber to the Oregonian and I have been unable to obtain a copy of the new laws.

More Truth Than Poetry. By James J. Montague. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.

AS GOOD AS THE SOIL. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.

AS GOOD AS THE SOIL. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.

AS GOOD AS THE SOIL. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.

AS GOOD AS THE SOIL. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.

AS GOOD AS THE SOIL. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.

AS GOOD AS THE SOIL. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.

AS GOOD AS THE SOIL. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.

AS GOOD AS THE SOIL. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.

AS GOOD AS THE SOIL. A Yale professor contends that Yale is falling off in quality because the impoverished state of Connecticut raises inferior vegetables.