By amassing runs in the early in ngs of both games, Vernon took yeserday's brace of contests on the Vaughn-street grounds from Portland, 4 to 2 and 6 to 2, respectively.

The Beavers were weefully weak in the pinches and couldn't bang out a hit when a bingle meant a run. "Slim" Love worked on the mound the first game for the Tigers, opposing Sylvester Johnson. Herman Pilette was sent out at the start of the ourth to fill Johnson's shoes and itched good ball the rest of the game. A home run registered by Hughie ligh in the third stanza over the ight-center field fence, scoring Love nd Edington, spelled ruin for Port-and. It was a bad session for young ohnson, and Boss McCredie figured nat he had better let him rest on the each when the fourth rolled around. The third inning started off well nough, with Gorman flying out to Volfer. However, Love stepped up ome run did the rest. Cox Portland Star.

Cox was the outstanding star Portland's game. The husky rightelder played a bang-up game in the arden and hit the old apple right on he nose. He was responsible for all of Portland's runs, scoring two of them himself in the first game and driving in two the second game. Genin Iso was there with the willow, garfour hits and drawing ilks in nine trips to the plate durng the two games,

Fans Razz Home Crew Portland had a man on first and second and no outs in the fifth and were unable to bring in a run. The ans gave the boys a razz at the end of the inning. Cox made a wonder-ul peg in the first inning when he storned Hyatt's fly from right to Baker, catching High at home. Pil-lette pitched excellent ball and, but for a time in the fifth and seventh innings, was almost invincible. The same thing was true of Sam Ross, who worked the second game for Portland. Ross had two bad innings, the first and second. In these two frames Vernon nicked the hand-some southpaw for eight hits, which were productive of the six runs the Tigers tallied in the game. Sam was there like a million from the third on, holding the Bengals to three scatered bingles. McGraw pitched a nice game for Vernon, holding the Beav-ers to six wallops, four of which were btained off his delivery in the sixth First Inning Debauch.

The first inning was a regular de-sauch. Edington led off with a hit through short and the boys never stopped until they had batted around. Edington, Chadbourne, Hannah, French and Gorman plugged out drives, Gorman getting a two-bagger. All but Gorman scored. Smith's dou-ble in the second inning scored Schneider and Hyatt, making it a per fect day.

Portland made its stand in the sixth inning, which was McGraw's only bad one, A single to left by Cox brought in Ross and Wolfer. Boss McCredie ran in Fisher and Paton as pinch hitters in the first game, but they failed to pinch. Baker went in for Young in the second game, in the ninth, and struck out. The score:
