The committee plans to assist in keeping up the lead maintained by Portland over other associations west of Chicago. The annual report of the Portland Y. M. C. A., made as of April 30, showed a total membership of 5018, the highest of any annual figure previously submitted.

No information was given regarding Hamata in the telegram which was sent by Mrs. Fred Gamzow of Royal Oak. The police are attempting to locate Hamata and ask that anyone having any information as to his whereabouts get in touch with them as soon as possible.

EARWIGS TO BE ERADICATED.—The fight against earwigs in Portland is on. H. B. Fulton, assistant entomologist of the Oregon Agricultural college, arrived in Portland yesterday and immediately began work in conjunction with Walter Gerke, city arborculturist, to collect data which will be used in determining the best means of exterminating the pests. The earwigs are said to be in evidence in the Piedmont and Walnut park districts.

DAMAGES AWARDED JANITOR.—Damages of $10,000 were awarded Emil Starosky, former janitor for the Failing school, against the Portland Railway, Light & Power company in a verdict returned by a jury in the circuit court late Thursday night and opened yesterday morning. In endeavoring to disentangle live wires which were endangering the lives of school children during a sleet storm last winter, Starosky was severely burned.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES TO MEET.—The state convention of Roman Catholic German-speaking societies and the annual Catholic day will be celebrated at the St. Agatha church, East Fifteenth and Nehalem streets, Sellwood, tomorrow. The Portland delegation, accompanied by the 30-piece Knights of Columbus band, will receive the guests from the southern part of the state at Golf Junction at 10 A. M. The pontifical high mass will be sung at 10:30 A. M. by Rt. Rev. Abbot Placidus Fuerst of Mount Angel, and the sermon will be preached by Father Apollinarius of Portland. Dinner will be served at 1 o'clock in St. Agatha's hall. The opening address by Joseph Woerndle, president of the federation, Portland, at 2:30 P. M., will be followed by speeches by Father Gregory Robl, commissarius of the federation, Portland, on "The Catholic Church, the Ground and Pillar of Truth"; J. P. Kavanaugh, on "Vital Questions of the Day"; Rt. Rev. "The Star-Spangled Banner," by the Knights of Columbus band and other musical numbers will supplement the afternoon's programme.

HARRY HOFFEE SENTENCED.—With the evident belief that work in the open air would be beneficial to young Harry Hoffee, who pleaded guilty to the charge of having transported a stolen automobile from Seattle to Portland, Judge Bean sentenced him to serve three months in the county jail by decree in federal court yesterday. He will work on the rockpile. Hoffee, with James Milner, made an escape from the county jail some time since and later, when being brought back from California, where they were caught in a robbery, made a sensational flight from a deputy United States attorney by leaping at night from a train. Milner will plead to the charge against him and a similar disposition of his case is likely.

ZARTHES GUILTY OF ASSAULT.—Alex Zarthes was found guilty of assault with a dangerous weapon, upon Gust Mamadras, by a jury in the court of Circuit Judge Tucker yesterday afternoon. He will be sentenced next week. February 1, 1921, Mamadras prevailed before the supreme court in an ejectment suit brought by Zarthes. Early on the morning of February 2, 1921, as Mamadras was setting forth on his milk route near St. Johns he was set upon by Zarthes, who was armed with a revolver and a piece of gaspipe. A third person routed Zarthes. Zarthes attempted to prove an alibi, but his witnesses were confused as to dates. The jury retired at 11 A. M. and returned with a verdict at 2 P. M.

POSTMASTER TESTS SET.—Aspirants for the postmastership at Linnton, Or., now vacant, may participate in a competitive examination to be held in Portland, June 22, by the civil service. To be eligible for appointment, one must have resided for at least two years within the district served by the postoffice, must be in good physical condition and between 21 and 65 years of age. Subjects covered in the examination are arithmetic and accounts, penmanship, letter writing and business training and experience.

PICTURE VENDOR SENTENCED.—Oscar G. Davis, vendor of obscene picture postcards, one of the operators of the Patriotic Publishing company, was sentenced yesterday to serve 30 days in the county jail by Federal Judge Bean. The pictures were made in France and were advertised for sale here by the defendant. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

PEREZ HEARING TODAY.—F. Perez, arrested here Thursday and charged with having raised $1 bills to $10, will be taken before United States Commissioner Frazer this morning at 9:30 for a hearing. His removal to Seattle, where the offense was alleged to have been committed, is sought by the officials.

What Is Platypus? Might Stump Even Edison.

Hide of One Is Exhibited at Chamber, However.

WHAT is a platypus?

Had Edison included that question in his group of 17 "stickers" he probably would have had all the boys going. But it is somewhat doubtful if Edison himself could answer it. If there are several thousand persons in Portland who know all about a platypus, let them come forward and be heard.

But a platypus is, nevertheless and notwithstanding; for the bona fide hide of one, caught in Australia, was displayed at the Chamber of Commerce publicity department yesterday when Henry Albert Brigg and David Davis of Sydney called upon Mrs. Josephine Forney, acting manager of the department, and exhibited the specimen. They are traveling around the world and are leaving Portland this morning for California by motor.

The platypus, they explained, is peculiar to the regions near Sydney. It combines features of the bird, beast, fish and reptile and can live equally well, they said, on land or in the water. The fur of the platypus is excellent and from it handsome garments are made, costing considerable sums. It has a bill like a duck.

"We are jogging about gathering what information we can along municipal lines, for use in Sydney, a city of nearly 1,000,000 people," said Mr. Davis, spokesman and ex-member of parliament, a contractor of his home city. "We have been visiting various countries, including France and Belgium, where we went over the battlefields and saw the destruction that had been wrought there. We recently landed in Vancouver, B. C., and have been visiting along by motor. From here we will go to California and, after inspecting various cities of that state, will sail for home from San Francisco.

"We are particularly interested in your road-building system, as to how you finance it. As we go along we are studying that problem. When we reach home we will make a report to the municipal authorities. Mr. Brigg is an alderman and is interested in anything that will improve municipal conditions. We have gathered a great lot of material for consideration."

"SEE AMERICA FIRST."

Many of the beauty spots in Glacier National park, covered by Warner & Clarke tours are to be seen in "Bob Hampton of Placer" at the Liberty theater. This mammoth production was filmed in America's scenic wonderland. You owe it to yourself to "See America First." Warner & Clarke, Multnomah hotel, Portland. —Adv.

The sisters of the Holy Child academy wish to express their gratitude and appreciation to all those who helped to make their recent drama and May fete a great success; also for the work of the women in charge, the many generous donations received and the co-operation of the different parishes.—Adv.

30 MIDGETS TOP BILL

TINY PERFORMERS TO DANCE, SING AND FIGHT.

Oriental Spectacle, Fashion Parade and Wild West Show Included in Orpheum Programme.

Singers' Midgets, an act accepted everywhere as one of the greatest vaudeville entertainments ever staged, are the headliners of the Orpheum show which will open at the Heilig theater tomorrow afternoon. This big company of little persons will be in Portland for only seven performances, as engagement of the theater for another attraction Wednesday night necessitates closing of this show with the matinee Wednesday.

There are 30 tiny men and women, all perfectly formed, in the Lilliputian organization, and every one of them is a talented entertainer. The act not only is an extraordinary extravaganza, but a circus, too, three midget elephants, 20 prancing ponies and 15 hunting dogs also taking part in the vivacious and multi-colored ensembles.

The act of Singer's Midgets is an elaborately staged and highly diverting entertainment, ranging from colorful dancing specialties to a wild west show and a spirited boxing bout. The diminutive performers do not rely merely upon their Lilliputian stature to win the interest of their audience.

They are all skilled entertainers and not a dull moment creeps into their repertoire of cleverly contrasted numbers.

Whether they are presenting a vividly costumed oriental spectacle, a hunting scene, fashion parade or military drill, the little players are always lively, sprightly and in a mood to share the fun they provide for others. One of them plays the violin; another—the smallest in the company—performs mystifying feats of oriental magic; the fair leading lady impersonates Cleopatra, and the "strong man" proves that at least one midget posesses more than his normal share of muscles. Three elephants and numerous ponies and dogs are used by the 30 members of the diminutive troupe in the course of their act, which runs like clock work.

MATE CHARGES CONTEMPT

W. F. Holding in Divorce Plea Says Wife Ran Up Bills.

When Mrs. Mae Holding brought another woman into her home, boarded and lodge her for $10 a month, spent days and nights in her company on the streets and away from home, neglected cooking, refused to wash dishes, nagged continually and incurred heavy debts, W. F. Holding decided to file suit for divorce, he alleged in a complaint filed in the circuit court yesterday. He was married last January.

The husband averred that shortly after marriage his wife brought a Mrs. Williams to their home and the pair assumed full control of the house "and treated plaintiff with contempt as if he had no right there."

That her husband last September placed her in the Salvation Army home, telling her it was a home for young business women, and then deserted her, was the plaint of Mrs. Margaret L. Albrecht in a divorce action filed yesterday against O. J. Albrecht. They were married March 27, 1919.

$10,000 SUIT NEAR END

Case of J. E. Marshall Against O. J. Brown Goes to Jury Today.

The $10,000 damage suit of J. E. Marshall against O. J. Brown, alleging false arrest, will go to a jury this morning, the opening argument having been completed before adjournment of court last night. At the basis of the action is a race horse "Minnie H," which Marshall, for many years a trainer, bought from Brown. During a wrangle with Brown over a feed bill Marshall sold the animal for $150. The action aroused Brown's anger. He declared Marshall did not pay him for the horse and swore to a complaint accusing Marshall of horse theft.

Marshall was arrested in Sherman county, brought to Multnomah county and kept in jail here a few days until released with dismissal of the action by District Judge Jones. For the humiliation of being accused of being a horse thief and the uncomfortable hours spent in jail, the damages have been asked.

Colonel Richmond McA. Schofield Gets Hawaiian Post.

Colonel Richmond McA. Schofield, son-in-law of Mrs. Samuel D. Smith, 817 Pettygrove street, has been appointed territorial fair commissioner for the Hawaiian islands following his retirement from the army, according to news received in Portland yesterday.

Colonel Schofield, who is well known in Portland, is a West Point man and had been in the regular army for years. Previous to his retirement he was connected with the army quartermaster corps in Honolulu.

Mrs. Schofield was formerly Miss Gertrude Smith of this city. Colonel and Mrs. Smith are making their home at the Moana hotel at Honolulu.

Tree Protection to Be Enforced.

SALEM, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—The law enacted at the last session of the legislature, making it unlawful to dig up, cut down, injure or destroy any trees growing upon the right-of-way of any state highway without first procuring the consent of the state highway commission, will be strictly enforced, according to a statement issued by Governor Olcott today following the receipt of complaints to the effect that people in various parts of Oregon are cutting shrubbery and damaging trees along the highways.
