PANTAGES (Broadway at Alder)—Vaudeville. Three shows daily, 2, 7 and 9:03 P. M.

VETERANS ADDRESS PUPILS.—Members of the Grand Army of the Republic were guests of honor yesterday at all the elementary schools in the city. They spoke to the children at special exercises in the afternoon, and after entertaining with stories of the past, were themselves entertained by Memorial day programmes arranged by the pupils. After the exercises, the veterans met the pupils and teachers and in some schools, little parties were given for them in the school assembly halls and refreshments were served. The pupils recited famous orations and patriotic poems and everyone joined in singing national airs.

HEAVY BAIL FIXED FOR ALLEGED DRUG PEDDLERS.—After a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Frazer, William Wallace and Peter Rovegno, alleged leaders of a narcotic ring, were bound over to await action by the federal grand jury under bail totaling $20,000. The high bail was set by the commissioner after counsel for the two men had attempted to have the bail reduced from the first bonds of $5000 each to $200 each. Wallace and Rovegno were arrested by federal and police officers as they stepped from a train at the Union station. Narcotics valued at more than $32,000 were found in their possession.

BEEKEEPERS TO HOLD MEETING.—A field meeting of the Multnomah County Beekeepers' association will be held tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock at 721 Oswego street, St. Johns. E. H. Bauer, county bee inspector for Multnomah county, will lecture and demonstrate on all the newest and latest methods of caring for and handling bees. Foul brood in its different stages will be shown and special instructions given as to how to cure it and clean it up. This will be an educational meeting and beekeepers and those interested in bees are specially invited to attend.

CALIFORNIA COMPANY FILES SUIT.—John W. Friedman, James Hennessy and Nick Sullivan, organizers of the Central Motor Sales company who are being sought by federal officers for alleged crimes committed in Los Angeles, are named defendants in a civil suit for $3095 filed in the circuit court yesterday by S. H. Peters. The amount was contracted for in the purchase of merchandise from the Hess & Hackett company of California, it is claimed.

ALLEGED FORGER'S BAIL $2000.—Nick Leotes, charged with forging a government pay check, was arrested by William McSwain, head of the local secret service yesterday and held under $2000 bail for preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Frazer this morning. Leotes is charged with forging the name of Evaggelo J. Halkias to a government check for $17. The alleged crime took place in Astoria in the summer of 1919.

RELIEF DIRECTOR WILL SPEAK.—Alonzo E. Wilson, national field director, near east relief will arrive in Portland this morning and will address the boys' and girls' near east benefit at the Hippodrome at 11 A. M., and the civic league at noon. Mr. Wilson is a former Chautauqua president and editor, and came into prominence, nationally, as the leader of the drys during wet days, as a member of the Illinois legislature.

PATROLMAN GOES FISHING.—Because he went fishing instead of reporting for drill, M. W. Gallaher, a police patrolman at the St. Johns sub-station, was suspended for three days in an order issued yesterday by Chief Jenkins. All police had been ordered to report for drill under Captain Moore last Wednesday, but Gallaher forgot the order completely, he said yesterday at a hearing before Chief Jenkins.

MORPHINE SHIPPER FINED.—A fine of $200 was imposed upon Hyman Rosenbloom, a truck driver, in federal court, yesterday, when he pleaded guilty to the charge of sending morphine through the mails. Rosenbloom was charged with shipping the narcotic to a young woman in Idaho. The fine was recommended by Hall Lusk, assistant United States attorney.

GROCER FINED FOR MOONSHINING.—On recommendation of Thomas Maguire, assistant United States attorney, Jim Christ, who conducts a grocery store near Fourteenth and Marshall streets, was fined $200 in federal court yesterday for violating the prohibition law. Christ pleaded guilty to selling a pint of moonshine.

RELIEF MONEY RECEIVED.—The Oregonian has received further contributions to the China famine fund, aggregating $12. They are from M. R., G. L. A. and Fannie B. R., being $5, $2 and $5, respectively. The money has been turned over to the relief authorities for transmission.

UNIVERSITY DAY LUNCHEON PLANNED.—University of Oregon day will be observed at the luncheon of the civic league at the Benson hotel today at noon. Speakers will include President Campbell, Dr. George Rebec, Professor Knowlton and C. N. Reynolds.

DO NOT FORGET to call up East 3088 when you want the Salvation Army auto truck to call for cast-off clothing, magazines, newspapers, furniture, etc. Address 24-26 Union ave., Major John Bree, district officer.—Adv.

RUSSELLVILLE GRANGE MEETS TONIGHT.—The Russellville grange will meet tonight at its hall on the Base Line road. Plans are being made to entertain the Pomona grange at Russellville on June 15.

AL JOLSON CELEBRATES 35TH BIRTHDAY ON HEILIG STAGE

Actor to Finish Tour June 25 and See Carpentier-Dempsey Bout. Company Springs Surprise.

BY LEONE CASS BAER.

AL JOLSON celebrated his birthday Thursday, at least he had the birthday, and his friends in the "Sinbad" company did the celebrating. While Al was skallyhooting around telling the audience "you ain't seen nothin' yet," and "just wait, you'll be surprised," he hadn't a ghost of an idea why his every utterance was received with shrieks by his company. He found out later. He was the one who hadn't "seen nothin' yet" and who "would be surprised."

It happened right in the middle of the 97th scene when the king and queen were having a dinner dance and Al, as Inbad, the porter, horned right into the festivities.

Among the props on the banquet table reposing amidst gutta percha bananas, papier-mache apples and celluloid grapes and cold tea champagne of startling naturalness was a huge cake, made of several tiers of card board and plastered skillfully so as to look like a real one. The Sinbad company had a regular cake made, a delectable affair of angel food stuffed with goodies and smothered in white and substituted it for the phony cake. On its chest it bore 25 candles, one for every year the Jolson boy has lived and just before the scene opened someone lighted the candles.

Birthday Speech Made.

Out front the audience sensed some untoward happening and wondered at Al's meandering from the text. He put in a birthday speech and tried to convey his thanks and happiness to the company and at the same time go right on with his part. Fortunately Al's nimble wit and presence of mind saved the day, the birthday of course, and the company members' fond dream of breaking him up in his lines turned a boomerang.

After his speech Mr. Jolson was observed to be gobbling bits of angel food whenever he walked near the cake. A regular birthday gathering was held over the cake after the show was out, and Al cut slices for everyone and made a speech and read all the thousand and one telegrams he received from all over the world.

"I'm 35 years old, and half the theatergoing public believes I'm 56," he said. "I've been on the stage since I was a youngster and people remember seeing me for so many years that they lump the years together and put me down with the late Primrose or Lew Dockstader. If I were a leading man or played juvenile roles I'd take a few years off and say I was only 29. Among my reasons for not caring how old I get to be is that when I get a crop of crows' feet I can hide them behind my mask of black paint. Don't believe any story you hear of me going to quit my blackface. There is nothing to the report."

Al Jolson and his birthday cake.

Jolson to See Bout.

Mr. Jolson's tour ends June 25 in Minneapolis, after which he goes to see the Dempsey-Carpentier match.

"I had a telegram from the Shuberts asking me please to reconsider my closing, and to keep on playing after June 25," said Mr. Jolson, "and here's a copy of the wire I sent 'em today. It read, after the formalities of names, addresses, dates and so forth: 'This is my birthday and I'm at peace with the entire world. I will not play after June 25. I want to see Mr. Dempsey knock out Mr. Carpentier. If you can get them to postpone the match I will play until time to go to the fight.'"

COMPROMISE OFFERED CITY.—City Attorney Grant yesterday informed the city council that he had received a check for $1000 as a compromise offer to the city by the National Hospital association in settlement of claims of $2000 made by the city for services rendered by the city to patients of the company during the influenza epidemic. The settlement of these claims has been hanging fire for more than a year and Mr. Grant recommended that the offer be accepted. Some members of the council, including Mayor Baker and Commissioner Bigelow, suggested that action on the matter be deferred for a few days.

POLICEMAN HURT IN COLLISION.—Motorcycle Patrolman Pierre of the traffic speed squad suffered severe injuries yesterday when he crashed into an automobile near Union avenue and Fremont street. He was chasing a speeder at the time. As he came to the intersection he ran headlong into a machine driven by R. M. Morrillus, 825 Overlook boulevard. The injured patrolman was removed to the emergency hospital unconscious. Police physicians said he would recover.

WALTER H. EVANS BUSY SPEAKING.—The number of days on which Walter H. Evans, district attorney, will be "open" for speaking engagements is becoming limited. In his office yesterday it was announced that he would be out of the city June 5, when he is scheduled to speak before the Good Government league at Salem; June 10, when he is to address the graduates of the Washougal high school, and June 14, when he will deliver the flag day address at Roseburg.

THREE PICNICS HELD.—Three large picnics were held at Eagle creek Thursday, according to a communication received from Albert Weisendanger, forest ranger stationed at that place. Mr. Weisendanger said that the Hood River high school graduating class held a picnic there, and that 50 girls from St. Mary's academy, of this city, and 150 children from the deaf school at Vancouver, Wash., also made that picnic ground their rendezvous. Mr. Weisendanger said that there was considerable favorable comment on the fire prevention cartoon printed in The Oregonian of that date.

PARCEL POST SERVICE EXTENDED.—Announcement was made yesterday by Frank Ira White, manager of the foreign trade department of the Portland Chamber of Commerce that, effective June 1, parcel post service between the United States and French Indo-China will be established. This will put into effect, the transmission for unregistered parcel post packages up to a weight limit of 11 pounds each.

PAINTING ATTRACTS INTEREST.—Considerable interest has been shown in the large oil painting of Multnomah Falls, now on exhibition at the Jenning furniture store. The painting is six feet tall and three feet wide, and was painted by Theodore N. Lidberg of Portland.

POSTAL EMPLOYE REINSTATED.—A. L. Hassler, who was removed from the postal department sometime ago for political activity, has been reinstated. The reinstatement was brought about through the efforts of Senator Stanfield, Representative McArthur and Postmaster Jones.

PICNIC at Oak Grove Beach, new open-air dance hall; Nye's Melody orchestra Sunday and Monday.—Adv.

Extradition Is Granted.

SALEM, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—Governor Olcott today honored requisition papers issued by Governor Stephens of California, asking for the return to San Francisco of Walter Nichols, alias James Delmar, and Jack Day. Nichols and Day were said to be wanted in San Francisco on charges of grand larceny. They were arrested in Portland.

TRUNK SEIZURE UPHELD

Retention of Clothes by Landlord for Rent Not Larceny.

The holding of feminine night dresses and baby clothes by a landlord to fortify his position in a dispute over rent with an ex-tenant does not constitute larceny, District Judge Deich ruled yesterday and dismissed a complaint sworn against "John Doe" Lambert of the Drickston apartments, 448 Eleventh street, by Fred L. Burlingame.

The claim of $32.50 made by the landlord was disputed by Burlingame, who contended that not more than $19 was due. When Burlingame moved from the premises the landlord seized trunks in the basement, containing clothing, and refused to deliver them until the account was settled.

Judge Deich said that Burlingame might have relief in a civil action, but that no criminal intent was shown.

Dr. John G. Lake
of the Portland Divine Healing Institute, 129 Fourth St., Announces MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM MEETING, SUNDAY NIGHT, JUNE 12.

The object of the meeting is to present 100 miracles of Divine Healing. Our purpose is to let the world know that Divine Healing is a present day reality.

Following are some of those who will give testimony to the following miracles of healing:

Mrs. Annie E. Norton—Pronounced incurable by 735 physicians, healed of the Lord.

Mr. O. C. Blake—Healed when abandoned to die of diabetic gangrene, one toe rotted off, leg mortified half way up to the knee.

Mrs. Mary Matheney healed of 40 cancers. Sent to us by her doctors who could not help her.

F. J. Kelly—Healed out of his wheel chair when helpless from multiple sorosis. He is now working every day.

Grover Risdon—Healed of a terribly deformed head. Was dumb and paralyzed on one side and hundreds of other healed ones will be present. We invite the public to come and enjoy a night with God and us, and decide for yourself that Jesus Christ is still the same and his power still available to whosoever will.

Too Late

NORTHWESTERN LONG DISTANCE INDEPENDENT

Beating the buying slump

By F. H. Crosby, President

Business no longer comes like water from the faucet. You can't turn it on and off at will.

It takes foresight and grit and work to make things move today. You must marshall your forces and use your brains to hold your new found markets.

Wholesalers, manufacturers, produce men, employment agencies: are you overlooking that faithful friend the telephone as a good will getter and holder? Talk to you customers by long distance. Encourage them to call you for quotations. Have them 'phone in rush orders. Put starch in your sales force by timely cooperation. Telephone.

Place your calls with "Northwestern Long Distance." Business calls are quickly routed over Northwestern Lines. We have our own operators, our own switchboards and our own pole lines. Entirely independent.

For Quick Service ask for "Northwestern." From any 'phone.
