Recognition Is Demanded by Women's Clubs.

MRS. WINTER IS SPEAKER

General Federation President Says National Consciousness Must Be Developed.

BY EDITH KNIGHT HILL

PENDLETON, Or., June 1 .- (Special.)—According to the sentiment expressed in a resolution by the Oreson Federation of Women's clubs in their 21st annual convention, now in assign nere, being a housewife is holding a real job, and the clubs want the housewife recognized in the census. They asked that the 24,000,000 housewives of the United States be considered as holding positions of economic value. The resolution, unanimously adopted, will be sent to the general federation council at Salt Lake.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, general federation president, was honor guest here, and her address was the out standing event of the night session. Mrs. Winter emphasized the importance of Americanization work. S said every element that is trying t disrupt the United States is playing up group consciousness, creating antagonisms, and making us look at each other with distrust. The remedy lies in developing national conscious-ness, she declared, and said that to-ward this, a body like the federation.

Home Held Unit.

"While we first became interested while we list became interested in club work owing to our belief in the home, the whole conception of the home has changed. The home now is seen as a public concern, the unit out of which society is made. The way we spend our time, our energy, our money, is not a private affair, but has a slicest relation to nutlonal officiency. money, is not a private affair, but has a direct relation to national efficiency. It touches the race. The question of divorce laws and uniform marriage laws are examples. Education answers the question 'What can I do' by vocational education: 'What can I be' by cultural training.'

In her annual report Mrs. Ida B. Callahan assured Mrs. Winter of Oresports interest in home demonstration work. She said challenge of the Mrs. Besides that of Miss Royer, the ricultural college said the purpose of home demonstration work is to im-prove home conditions, principally te help the farmers' wives.

Mrs. Thompson Speaks. "Making democracy safe for the world is one of woman's duties now," said Mrs. Alexander Thompson, who spoke on "Practical Pointers of Leg-islation." may be a lever to move the world. Women cannot do their duty by staying at home on electon day and letting George do it."

Reports of excellent work were given by Mrs. A. Wisccarver of Mc-Minnville, Mrs. Fred Schilke of La Grande, Mrs. L. W. Hyde of Hillsboro and Mrs. Sarah A. Evans of Portland. Mrs. Evans read her report and that of Mrs. Frederick Eggert on scholarship loan fund. She said 34 loans have been made in the last year. The fund has more than 36700 balance on hand, she stated, but needed the continued co-operation of the fed-

Greetings Are Received. Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librar-ian, gave a brilliant address. Greetings were received from Governor Olings were received from Governor Olcott, Mrs. J. F. Hill, Mrs. J. W. Sadler, Mrs. L. E. Bean and the Oregon Humane society. Mrs. Minnie Trumbull, Mrs. William Munroe and Mrs.
John Biedsoe were named on the resolutions committee. They were inolutions committee. They were in-structed to send a vote of apprecia-tion to Mrs. Eggert for her many years of splendid service. Mrs. Eg-gert's report stated:

"While dispensing loans to 34 new beneficiaries, only 23 have closed their accounts, and while we have lost out. accounts, and while we have lent out $1425, we have received as payments on loans only $2940.25.

"This ever increasing discrepancy between the number of new loans and the number of beneficiaries who repay their indebtedness is a source of a constantly increasing burden of col-lection. As the debts get older and the beneficiaries less concerned about their obligation, the number of delinquent accounts is steadily increas-ing, and with the current loans, places upon the board and chiefly upon the chairman the burden of a correspond-ence list of from 80 to 80 borrowers.

Clerks Held Needed. "This is a task which should not be imposed upon any one member of the board, but a task to be performed by one who may be employed and remunerated on a business basis. The board recommends that the chairman be authorized to employ such clerical assistance when necessary to transact the husiness and protect the interests of the fund. Thus far we have received and administered a capital of more than $35,000 at an expense of only $185.83, which is of liself proof posi-tive that gratuitous service has been given to the cause to an extent which organization should expect or per-

Mrs. Winter is popular and has had a cordial reception. Mrs. Callahan undoubtedly will be re-elected. Mrs. Colling Elkins of Prineville will be first vice-president, it is predicted.

Mrs. Lee Davenport, chairman of Wash.

Allen Born Topic,

Mrs. Lee Davenport, chairman of Americanization, spoke of the American club woman's duty toward the foreign born women. She urged the clubs to take a greater interest in Americanization work and in the laws that shall govern the entrance of the unfit into this country. She pointed out the opportunities for teaching the women citizenship duties. Mrs. Davenport said:

"Anarchists find their great field of activity in every state among the lonesome and neglected foreigners. One of our opportunities is to educate public sentiment to demand immigration restrictions admitting only those who physically, mentally and morally are fitted to be good citizens."

Mrs. Jessie McComb of Oregon Agricultural college said the purpose of home demonstration work is to improve home conditions, principally te nection with liquor will be immediately expelled from the institution. Two men in liquor cases were expelled with loss of the term's credit. In liquor offenses three other students were paroled to their organization which reported having assessed a punishment which was accepted by the committee as satisfactory.

Many of the cases involved cheating, and when proper evidence was ing, and when proper evidence was obtainable, those gullty were promptly expelled or fined a large number of university hours. The largest fine was for 15 hours, a term's credit, and the lightest penalty was a fine of A few cases involving insubordina-tion in the military department were considered. One cadet was suspended, while those guilty of minor offenses in this regard were made to arrange the trouble satisfactorily.

An interesting case was one of a downtown business firm which in an advertisement in the Emerald, the student body paper, published a re-mark to which the university authorities took exception. The firm was no-tified that the Emerald had been di-rected to refuse its advertising for

"Only One Way to Hold a Fair"

So said the prime mover of Oregon's projected fair, when the suggestion was first made. All kinds of objections were made; all kinds of questions were asked-"how can you do it," etc. "Simply decide to give it and then go ahead and do it," he replied. So it is here. Some said we couldn't sell out every article in this great $90,000 stock, under present conditions. But we applied the same POWER OF DE-CISION that the fair official used, namely, "only one way to sell out and that is, TO SELL OUT." It takes brutal smashing of prices and nerve-racking losses, but it must be done in order to reorganize and change the firm name. Therefore, I simply close my eyes, grit my teeth and DO IT. The rest is up to you.
