

OREGON VEGETABLES AND FRUIT ON SALE

First Spring Cherries Are Received From The Dalles.

PEAS ARE VERY FINE

Lettuce Is Entirely Home-Grown at Present—Outside Produce Continues to Pour In.

Oregon fruits and vegetables are beginning to assume ascendancy on the local market, taking the place held for some weeks by the early California produce.

A fine shipment of the first spring cherries was received from The Dalles on Friday by one of the leading grocers. The cherries were in better shape than they have ever been before during the early season.

Oregon peas are very fine at the present time, even though the season is just commencing. Some of the peas are coming in from The Dalles, while on Saturday a quantity of them was received from the highway region.

Lettuce in the Portland market is entirely Oregon-grown at the present time. Most of it comes from the valleys near Portland. Lettuce is selling at three heads for a quarter.

New local beets and new local carrots are also making their initial bow on the Portland market. The beets and carrots are small, and especially tender. They retail at three bunches for 25 cents.

One of the finest of local products are the hot-house grown tomatoes. These are raised in Portland, and are noted for their firmness. They can be used to excellent advantage in the making of salads. The hot-house tomatoes sell at 40 cents a pound.

Another hot-house product, which is being received in large quantities, is cucumbers. Hot-house cucumbers have been lower during the last week than previously, and are now selling at 15 and 25 cents a pound.

In spite of the fact that domestic produce is ruling the local market in every case where Oregon-grown stuff is available, California and other foods are still pouring into Portland.

One of the finest shipments of cantaloupes yet received in Portland arrived last week from the Imperial valley. The cantaloupes, which were of exceptional quality, large firm fruit, sold at three for $1.

Although this price was high, it was lower than the week previous, when a crate of 15 sold for $10. A great reduction in the price of this delicacy is expected within the next few weeks.

Sweet Potatoes Received. A large shipment of sweet potatoes was received by one Portland firm late in the week from Porto Rico. The potatoes were of a fine quality and sold at two pounds for a quarter. They were soon disposed of by the store.

Some huge Florida grapefruit known as "Jumbo" were received in Portland Friday. The grapefruit were of fine quality and were unusually large in size. One dollar could purchase five of them.

A lot of new Texas silver-skin onions poured into the local market during the week and sold at 10 cents a pound. Besides the American product, many arrived from the little British Isle of Bermuda.

Gooseberries found their way onto the market last week, selling two pounds for a quarter. The last of the new oranges arrived and were practically disposed of. Dealers do not expect that many navels will be available during the coming week.

STRAWBERRIES GO FAST

Two Boxes for Quarter Are Offered Usually.

Reduced Prices Because of Large Supply and Falling Off in Cannery Demand Predicted.

Strawberries, raised in Oregon, regained supremacy on the Portland market this week. The strawberries sold like hot cakes during a cold winter, or like oil wells in Texas. The usual price was at two boxes for a quarter, although some dealers bottled them at three for a quarter.

Predictions were rife yesterday that the market would be flooded with strawberries during the coming week, and that the bottom would drop from the price. An unusually heavy crop, combined with the fact that the canneries are not consuming their wonted quota, combined to make conditions which make dealers feel that a sharp drop in price will result.

The only way to keep the price up.

according to most persons, will be the refusal of farmers to pluck the berries from the vines. Large quantities are already reported headed for the Portland market.

Other fruits are still selling at high prices. Fine wineapples are selling at 20 cents a dozen and lemons at 20 cents a dozen. Bananas sold at 40 cents a dozen.

LANE BERRY CROP HEAVY Strawberries Sell at 10 Cents a Box in Eugene Market.

EUGENE, Or., June 3.—(Special).—The strawberry crop in Lane county is heavy and the canners of the Eugene Fruit Growers' association is working on the surplus oversales made in the local markets. The retail price of the berries is 10 cents a box and it is predicted that it will go even lower owing to the large acreage in bearing and the large quantity being brought to market. The quality is good.

Gooseberries are also arriving at the cannery in large quantities, as the crop in this locality is heavy. Early cherries are expected to arrive at the plant within a week or so, says J. O. Holt, manager of the association, and the Royal Annes and other standard varieties will be ripe about the latter part of the month. The cherry crop in Lane county is normal.

RESTAURANT MEN ARE FINED Selling of Milk and Cream Below Standard Test Charged.

EUGENE, Or., June 3.—(Special).—More arrests were made here yesterday for alleged violations of the state food law and a number of restaurant men were fined in the justice court on a charge of selling milk and cream which did not come up to the standard required.

C. R. Hawley and George Worthington were fined $15 each. Max Atz a dairyman, was fined $25. Frank Garrett and Frank Schamp were fined $10 each. J. H. Newman was fined $25 on a charge of keeping a vehicle used in transportation of food products in an insanitary condition. He conducts a fish wagon on the streets.

E. Wittenberg was fined $10 for speeding his car on the highway.

Sugar Tends Downward. In line with like reductions by the sugar refiners, wholesale houses in Portland last week reduced the price of granulated cane sugar 35 cents a hundred pounds. This reduction brought the wholesale price down to 22 cents a hundred pounds. The reduction did not cause a great decline in the retail market, most houses reducing prices on quantity lots about one-quarter cent a pound.

Maple Sugar Sells Well. A small shipment of genuine Vermont maple sugar and maple syrup was received this week by one Portland grocery. The maple sugar was sold at retail price of 55 cents a pound, while the syrup retailed at $1.25 for a quarter gallon can, and $2.25 for a half-gallon can. In spite of the high prices, the products were sold quickly.

TRADE EXCEEDS OUTPUT LUMBER PRODUCTION IS 20 PER CENT BELOW NORMAL. Reports From 112 Mills Are Included in West Coast Lumbermen's Review.

New business and lumber shipments this week still were in excess of production in the lumber industry of the districts of western Oregon and Washington according to the weekly lumber review of the West Coast Lumbermen's association.

New business totaled $1,225,823 feet, shipments 57,800,623 feet and production 56,531,248 feet. Reports were received from 112 mills. Production was declared to be 30 per cent below normal.

"For delivery by rail, new business included 1539 cars; rail shipments 1711 cars, the review. "Unshipped balance in the rail trade was 3755 cars. Local business totaled $222,629 feet.

In the cargo trade, domestic orders totaled 4,577,452 feet; export 2,658,747 feet. Coastwise and intercoastal cargo shipments totaled 474,000 feet; export shipments 2,774,000 feet."

Sheepmen Fined for Trespass. GOLDENDALE, Wash., June 2.—(Special).—Sheriff M. M. Warner and his deputies were busy Wednesday gathering in sheep herders, owners and packers charged with trespass on lands in the Simcoe mountains while trailing their flocks through to summer pastures on the Columbia national forest preserve in the Mount Adams country. Percy Smith of Alderdale, owner of a band, and Frank Alexander of Roosevelt fledged guilty and were each fined $20 and costs.

FRATERNITY HEAD NAMED Verne R. McDougle Chosen President of Council. UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, June 3.—(Special).—Verne R. McDougle of the school business administration faculty and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was unanimously elected president of the university inter-fraternity council at the last meeting of the year.

The inter-fraternity council includes members from all university fraternities and deals with common problems. William Coleman of Portland was selected vice-president and Nelson English of Portland secretary-treasurer.

A committee will be sent by the council to Oregon Agricultural college this week-end to confer with a similar body at that school on the matter of high school fraternities. The inter-fraternity councils of both schools are considering prohibiting members of high school fraternities from belonging to college fraternities, but the matter is merely being considered and no final action either probably will be taken for some time. The question arose because of the recent anti-high school fraternity trouble in Portland.

Marshall Fraser, under sentence of two years in the penitentiary for a similar offense, was indicted jointly with J. W. Maddox yesterday by the Multnomah county grand jury, charged with violation of the blue sky law. Though the crime charged is more or less technical, the actual offense was said to be the milking of wage earners of Portland of approximately $7000 in a stock-selling fraud.

While under indictment for his activities in connection with the defunct Your Transportation Company, Inc., in which working men were fleeced of approximately $14,000, and of which Fraser was said to be the milking of wage earners of Portland of approximately $7000 in a stock-selling fraud.
