

CHURCH ACCOUNTING SUIT OPENS TODAY

Trustees Bring Action Against Dr. A. A. Morrison.

LAND DEAL IS INVOLVED

Board Declares That $10,000 Property Was Bought for $25,000 and Minister Profited.

Trial of the sensational suit of the board of school trustees of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon against Dr. A. A. Morrison, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, is scheduled to open in the circuit court this morning after pending in local courts for about two years without coming to issue.

The charge is made by the plaintiff, represented by C. E. Cochran, that Dr. Morrison, a former member of the school trustees board, gained title to 132 acres of land in Yamhill county through the sale of another 100 acres, alleged to be worth not more than $10,000, to the board for $25,000. In reply, the defendant contends that the entire board was acquainted with all details of the transactions, concurred in his actions and that all was in good faith. He is represented by the law firm of Maloney, Seabrook & Dibble.

Accounting is wanted. Most of the incidents over which the litigation is brought occurred in 1914. At that time the board named to handle the Bishop Scott academy fund sought to purchase some land on which a school might be erected. The purpose of the suit is to demand an accounting by Dr. Morrison for the sum of $25,000, which it is alleged that he and the Walnut Grove company, of which he owned half the stock, received for 100 acres near North Yamhill.

It is charged that Dr. Morrison sought to buy a 1015-acre tract for $10,000, of which $20,000 was to be paid in cash and $20,000 secured by a mortgage on the property. There was an agreement between Dr. Morrison and Bland Herring, owner of the property, it is asserted, by which on payment of $25,000 by Dr. Morrison a clear title might be obtained to 232 acres of the tract.

Contract Failure Charged. The school trustees charge that Dr. Morrison, through the Walnut Grove company, sold the board 100 acres of land for $25,000, of which $21,000 was paid in cash and $4,000 a year later, and that through the agency of this money to Herring, title was obtained by the company to 232 acres, of which only 100 acres were turned over to the trustees.

Ramifications of the complaint include the assertion that the Walnut Grove company failed to carry out an agreement to plant 50 acres of the tract sold in walnuts, and that Dr. Morrison, who later made it a personal covenant, also neglected to carry out the terms agreed on.

The basis of the complaint by the trustees is that Dr. Morrison, as a trustee, did not act in good faith and profited personally through the transactions. He was a member of the board until 1915.

Women's Activities

THE first state convention of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, which is to be held June 21, promises to be successful in point of programme and attendance. Letters received from various towns indicate that delegations are coming from even remote parts of the state. Miss Lulu M. Fairbanks, president of Seattle's club and recently elected president of the Washington Federation of Business and Professional Women, will be one of the leading speakers. Mrs. Alexander Thompson also will make an address.

Miss Fairbanks will explain the aims, ideals and work of the organization and will tell how the federation spirit within the last few months has swept over the state of Washington even to the smallest towns. Other features of the programme will be musical numbers by well-known professional women of Portland.

Mrs. G. J. Frankel, president, and the executive board of the Oregon Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, has invited all women who may be interested in this movement to attend this first convention and carry back the message to the home town. Letters, as well as delegates, may attend all business sessions, in order that they may learn the details of organization. The local clubrooms will be open all day Saturday, and out-of-town women can obtain any information desired by telephoning the hospitality committee at Main 8092.

The meetings of the day are arranged as follows: 10, reception to delegates; 11, short business meeting; appointment of committees; 12:30, luncheon; 2, business meeting; reports from committees, election, general business; 8, evening session; speakers, Miss Lulu M. Fairbanks of Seattle, Mrs. Alexander Thompson of Portland.

The first concerted effort to aid directly in starting a fund for the erecting of a woman's building to house the activities of Portland will be a great, gigantic pageant to be presented June 23, 24 and 25 at the Oaks Park, which the President's club, of which Mrs. Eldon J. Steele is president, is sponsoring.

Episodes in the dramatic and tragic life of Cleopatra will constitute the scenes, which will be presented by 2000 of Portland's most gifted singers, actors and dancers. The pageant is under the direction of Adah Losh Rose, with Miss Alys Brown, danseuse, assisting.

The entrance of Cleopatra into Alexandria, with the wonderful costume settings and lightings which the scene permits, will constitute the first part of the pageant, which will be presented the first evening. On the second evening the scene will be a Roman one, with the marriage of Octavia and Antony as the central dramatic scene. The battle between the Romans and the Egyptians will be enacted on the third night, the closing scene being the tragic death of Cleopatra.

The pageant will be both a land and a water spectacle, part of it being given beneath the trees of the park and part of it from the barge Bismarck, which has been obtained for the occasion. Music, both vocal and instrumental, will be a feature of the affair, and 700 dancers will participate in the various dances and pantomimes.

The dancing party to be given to-night on the "Sesay" by the General National Auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, of which Mrs. Cora A. Thompson is vice-president, promises to be a delightful affair. The boat will leave the dock at the foot of Yamhill street at 8:45 P. M., and dancing and cards will be the features of the evening's entertainment. Tickets will be 55 cents and the proceeds are to be used in bringing the national headquarters to Portland.

Should this be accomplished it will be the first time that the national headquarters auxiliary United Spanish War Veterans has ever been in Portland. Hostesses and hosts will be Mrs. Thomas Bodley, Mrs. William Coplan, Mrs. James McCarren, Mrs. Alta Hohenant, department senior aid, retiring department officers and members of Sumner corps was an elaborate affair. Mrs. McBride gave an inspiring patriotic address to which Mrs. Mayme Deaton, president, responded, presenting each of the honor guests with a huge bouquet of carnations. Mrs. Hinkle was the recipient of a handsome gold pencil, a gift from the social committee. During the reception music was furnished by Mrs. John Sharp at the piano, and Lauren Sykes and Milton Koeneke, who played piano and violin duets.

Elaborate preparations are being made by local Foresters for the state convention of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters to be held in this city June 14 and 15. The meetings will be held in the Portland hotel. The convention will open with high mass at 9:30 A. M. Tuesday at St. Mary's pro-cathedral. Rev. George Campbell will deliver the sermon on this occasion and all Foresters and their friends are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. Rose D. Rittman, past high warden, will initiate a large joint class into the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters at Foresters' hall, Fifteenth and Davis streets, Monday evening, June 13. A musical programme is being prepared for this event, and St. Mary's court will be hostess for the evening.

The executive board of the Women's Advertising club will meet for luncheon today in the Dutch room of the Washington street Hazelwood. There will be no regular luncheon Friday noon on account of the Rose Festival.
