

ORDINANCE BARRING FAKERS IS HELD UP

Spiritualists Win First Round With Council.

CLAIRVOYANT BEGINS ROW

Licensing and Regulatory Measure Admitted by Commissioners to Require Modification.

Further investigation of the proposed ordinance to license and regulate crystal gazers, soothsayers, clairvoyants, palmists and similar practitioners was ordered by C. A. Bigelow, acting mayor, after a public hearing at the council meeting yesterday morning. Doubt was expressed by Mr. Bigelow and other members of the council of the advisability of legalizing some of the practices on the list by the ordinance, while the justice of the charge of religious discrimination presented by the spiritualist church practically was admitted.

Strong opposition to the ordinance, unless tempered by a clause excluding workers of the spiritualist church, was voiced by E. F. Mulkey and Dan Powers, attorneys retained by the church. The meeting was attended by a number of practitioners and their representatives.

Qualifying Clause Proposed.

Mr. Mulkey proposed a qualifying clause to clear the spiritualist church from the ordinance and said that the church would welcome a curio upon fakers and persons whose operations were not within the law. The proposed clause was as follows:

"Nothing in this ordinance shall be so construed as to apply to ministers or legalized workers of the religion of spiritualism holding papers of qualification indorsed by regular chartered spiritualist churches under the laws of the state of Oregon. Provided said ministers or workers shall not engage in any practice of ledgerdom (black art)."

William M. Gregory, sponsor for the ordinance, presented a plea for its passage, but said he had no objection to excepting the bona fide ministers and workers of the church, so long as it would not drive into that organization irresponsible practitioners who otherwise would be barred from the city.

Clairvoyant Investigates Fight.

Mr. Gregory said he was acting as attorney for a clairvoyant who intends to locate in the city and carry on a legitimate business if the ordinance licensing and regulating such matters is passed.

George Morris, retired phenologist, who said that he carried three diplomas and a certificate of identification, attacked the measure as too drastic and the license fee as too high. He contended that phenology was a science much needed in a world where "people are studied from the feet up but neglected so far as a study of the brain is concerned."

The proposed ordinance would place a fee of $50 for each six months practice in the city and would make police investigation, residence in the city, a schedule of prices and the general character of the place operated as prerequisites for obtaining a license. Undesirable persons could be denied the right to practice in the city unless they could convince the council over the ruling of the license inspector.

"Black Art" Is Barred.

Advertising to locate treasures, procure brides or locate missing relatives or friends would be barred by a special provision of the proposed ordinance. The section states:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to advertise by any means to find or restore lost or stolen property, locate oil wells, gold or silver or other ore or metal or natural products; to re-locate lost love, friendship or affection; to re-unite or procure lovers, husbands, wives, lost relatives or friends; or to give advice in business matters or advice of any kind or nature to others for or without pay by means of occult, or psychic power, faculties of forces, clairvoyance, psychology, psychometry, spirits, mediumship, seership, prophecy, astrology, charms, potions, magnetism or magisterial articles, or substances, oriental mysteries or magic of any kind or nature."

The ordinance was referred to the commissioners of finance and public utilities and to the city attorney. It will come up for further consideration at a later meeting of the council.

SOCIETY NEWS

WHILE smart events are being given for visiting friends who are here for the Rose Festival and white gay social gatherings are being held for Queen Dorothy and her retinue of lovely attendants, the luncheon at the University club yesterday was an attractive affair with all the lovely young girls in the daintiest of summer frocks and the vivacious, pretty queen so girlish and yet carrying her honors with dignity and poise.

Mrs. Charles T. Whitney's tea yesterday afternoon for Mrs. William Hamilton Toole, wife of Commander Toole of the U. S. S. Arkansas, was a delightful affair. Mrs. J. B. Montgomery and Mrs. A. E. Rockey presided at the tea. Mrs. Whitney's nieces, Mrs. Joseph Bowles and Mrs. Thomas Martin Fitzpatrick served the tea. Several friends called and met the charming guest of honor.

The marriage of Miss Laura Louise Foertsch and Lloyd Sumner will be solemnized June 21 in the home of the bride-elect's brother, W. C. Foertsch, 1112 East Flinders street. Announcement of the engagement is made by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Foertsch.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Cornwall of 1231 Garfield avenue, Piedmont, were guests for some days last week at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Wallace Kaddery at Corvallis. On their return Mrs. Kaddery accompanied them for a visit to Portland.

May Dearborn Schwab entertained Sunday night at a musical and supper at the Multnomah hotel, honoring a few musical friends. Mrs. Schwab was honor guest on a motor trip to Hood River recently with Miss Sarah Harris as hostess. Mrs. Schwab is official soprano soloist for the Rosarians for the festival.

Mrs. S. H. Forshaw and Miss Mary Wylie of Pendleton are visitors in Portland at the Seaward. Miss Wylie is a brilliant singer who studied in Paris and in New York and at present is visiting her sister, Mrs. Forshaw, but is planning to make her home in Portland soon. She is socially prominent as well as being a gifted singer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dundore (Paula Linn) are being congratulated on the arrival of a son, born May 29.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Blauvelt and Mrs. Thomas W. Scott were at the Eyrie for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Steel, Carlton, Or., have received a telegram stating that their daughter, Laetitia R. Steele, was held in Denver, Colo., by the big flood in Pueblo. Miss Steele, who is connected with the music department of an additional institution at Galesburg, Ill., the seat of Knox college, will pass her vacation with her parents in their country residence at Carlton. Miss Steele is an instructor in voice and a talented vocalist, a graduate of the Royal Academy of Music, London, England, also private pupil of Herbert Witherspoon, New York.

The Women's association of the First Presbyterian church will have an all day meeting in room A, third floor of the Parish house Friday for sewing and quilting. The members and their friends are invited.

One of the prettiest of early June weddings took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillan in Irvington, when their daughter, Mildred, became the bride of Stanley Mansfield. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold Leonard Bowman beneath a canopy of roses. Miss Gillan made a beautiful bride in a wedding gown of white satin combined with chantilly lace caught with orange blossoms. A full length veil and a bride bouquet of bride's roses and lily of the valley completed a charming picture. Mrs. H. William Sims, who attended Miss Gillan as matron of honor, was attired in light blue georgette crepe and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Sims attended the bridegroom.

The house was a bower of beauty, Ophelia roses, snapdragons, palms and ferns predominating in the decoration.

Proceeding the ceremony Mrs. Boyd W. Hamilton sang "Al Dawning" and Miss Frances Tallmadge played the wedding march from Lohengrin.

Mrs. Charles Barton cut loaves and Miss Lou Allen presided at the coffee urn. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Ardice Welch and Margaret Westgate. Serving at the table and about the rooms were Mrs. Gordon Prentice, Mrs. Otis Fitch, Melba Peterson, Hazel Young, Frances Steeby and Reba Macklin.

Little Miss Kathryn Mansfield, sister of the bridegroom, distributed the wedding cake. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillan and is popular with the college set. Mr. Mansfield is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mansfield and served two years overseas with the naval aviation and is a member of the Multnomah club.

The young couple will make their home in Portland after a wedding trip to the beaches.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beaver White and their four daughters, from Bryn Mawr, are visiting in Oregon, the guests of Mrs. White's sister, Clara P. Phillips and Mrs. Percy Hetherton. Several social affairs are planned for the visitors. This is Mr. White's first visit to Portland. He is an investment banker with offices in Philadelphia and New York. Mrs. White is a former Portland girl.

Mrs. Archie Conley of La Grande is in Portland for the Rose Festival and will remain until next week to attend the graduation exercises at Hill Military academy. Her son, Royal Conley, is a cadet captain and a member of the June class at Hill.

A reception will be held next Wednesday night at the Hill Military academy, honoring the graduates and welcoming the members of the alumni association, recently organized.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Crisman of Barberton, O., are here enjoying the Rose Festival. Mrs. Crisman was formerly Alberta Cory, physical director of the Y. W. C. A. Mr. and Mrs. Crisman are at the Washington hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Butterfield have returned from a motor trip to Seaside and Cannon beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Marion (Amanda Otto) have returned from a wedding trip through California, a visit to Mr. Marion's parents in Yakima, Wash. and a short stay in Olympia, where they were the guests of Mr. Marion's brother.

Mrs. Walter Dickey will entertain at 11 o'clock breakfast this morning in her home in Irvington for Mrs. Grenville Vernon, who leaves Friday to sail for her home in England and on a three months' visit.

One of the artistic events of next week will be the entertainment to be given at the Heilig theater on Wednesday evening when Miss Katharine Leidlau will interpret music played by Miss Constance Piper at the piano. Miss Marion Ramon Wilson will sing. Miss Wilson and her mother, Mrs. Ramon Wilson, are visiting here for a short time before going to Victoria for the summer. Miss Wilson sang at an informal affair at the Y. W. C. A. on Monday.

Marion Ramon Wilson is an American singer who made her operatic debut in Europe in 1913 and sang grand opera successfully for the following two years, when war conditions interfered and she returned to her native city of San Francisco. Here she gave her first concert in the colonial ballroom of the St. Francis hotel on the evening of February 24, 1916, and won instant recognition as a force in the musical world. Engagements in and about the bay cities were liberally accorded her.

Miss Cornelia Cook, who has been in the east for several months, is expected to arrive home to attend the fourth Thursday in June. The meeting will be held in the Peninsula park clubhouse.

Lodge to Observe Memorial.

HERMISTON, Or., June 8.—(Special)—The local lodge of Oddfellows will hold its annual memorial service Sunday. The churches of the city have united to assist in the services and special music has been provided. The lodges of Stanfield and Echo have been invited. It is likely that the memorial service of the Knights of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Corbett will entertain at a dinner, dance on June 17.

Mrs. Allen Noyes (Greta Butterfield) will be hostess on Saturday at one of the smartest teas of the season. She will entertain for her cousin, Miss Genevieve Butterfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kellogg Plume (Pauline Parke) and their small son are guests of Colonel and Mrs. John S. Parks. They arrived a few days ago from Waterbury, Conn.

Miss Edna Pence was hostess Tuesday at a luncheon for Miss Margaret Versteeg, bride-elect.

The many friends of Mrs. Warren E. Thomas will be grieved to know
