

UNION LABOR URGED TO DEMAND RIGHTS

Keep Wages Up, Hours Down, Says Leader.

CUTS HELD UNWARRANTED

Head of Metal Trades Department of American Federation Addresses Denver Convention.

DENVER, Colo., June 8.—Co-operation and joint action by all the metal working trade unions in the country to resist either reductions in wages or increases in the hours of labor were urged today by James O'Connell, president of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor, in his annual address to the department's convention.

Both the metal workers were also warned that further wage cuts were not justified by William Spencer, secretary of the building trades department, in his address before the department's convention. He placed responsibility upon the building material dealers of the country and not upon the workers. Despite the deplorable industrial situation, President O'Connell of the metal trades said there was no justification for a second reduction of wages, nor, above all, can I conceive of any reason whereby the hours of labor should be increased, with millions out of employment.

The labor leader asserted that the proposed plan for united action in the metal trades did not involve the "one big union" idea, but that its purpose is to secure closer and more direct co-operation between affiliated organizations. This would also enable the metal trades to act as a unit in opposing employers' attempts to abolish collective bargaining, the nonunion shop and compulsory signing of individual contracts.

Material Dealers Rapped.
"Labor is not responsible for excessive costs of building," said Secretary Spencer, "notwithstanding invidious efforts to reduce costs. Calculating interests whose purposes are best served by attempting to place high costs on the back of labor in order that the building material dealers may through duplicity continue to reap their harvest of inflated prices."

The curtailment of building activity throughout the country is traceable to excessive cost of building materials. The labor official said contractors would also require agreements from building material dealers if they "are sincere in their efforts to reduce building prices and want to be fair with the building public as well as the workers."

While some building materials have temporarily declined in price, Mr. Spencer said there was no guarantee that higher prices would not become immediately effective with the resumption of business.

"When the contractors," added Mr. Spencer, "direct their aim solely at reduction of the workers' wages and suffer material dealers the enjoyment of unlimited latitude they are simply 'taking their' in a monumental game of opera-bouffe for the purpose of duping the prospective home owner or builder."

Membership Increase Shown.
The secretary's report showed that the membership of the building trades department had increased to 866,725, a gain of 62,516 for the year.

J. C. Bulger, secretary of the Colorado State Federation of Labor, in addressing the convention, declared that unscrupulous employers in their efforts to destroy the trades union movement were directing their fight on the building trades—the basic unionized trade in the United States.

Slight wage reductions are necessary in some places, Mr. Bulger said, but this is not true in all communities. In the convention of the metal trade workers, President O'Connell declared that it was unscientific and impossible to base wage reductions accurately on the cost of living and urged that the metal trades organizations discontinue any effort to base wages on the prevailing cost of living and devote its energies toward "deciding on what we believe should be our wages and conditions of employment."

More than 50 per cent of the metal trades unions are employed, said Mr. O'Connell, adding that unemployment at this time is a disease "more rampant, more dangerous and more degrading than any plague that ever affected the human race."

Dangerous Crisis Passed.
"It is surprising and astonishing," he asserted, "that we have not had during the past year an industrial warfare that would have made the government officials, the lawmakers of our country, the professors and the employers lie awake nights and wonder what the outcome might be. That this has not occurred is largely due and creditable to the leaders of the trade-union movement."

Were it not for government work furnished by the navy department, the labor official said the shipping and building industry would be practically at a standstill.

Secretary Berres of the department reported that owing to the treasuries of the international unions being depleted, it was impossible to continue to resist wage reductions in the face of overwhelming numbers out of employment. He urged the convention to make plans at once to raise funds and be ready for a new campaign at the first sign of industrial improvement.

Strike Possibility Cited in Session of Labor Board.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Railroad brotherhood chiefs, giving warning that the acceptance of wage reductions was in the hands of employers, today disclaimed responsibility if the men refused to accept a cut and "a stopping of traffic" resulted. The strike suggestion was made by L. E. Shep-

Compare Marmon Performance

as you compare price

While the Marmon 34, introducing a 1922 price now, means a saving of over 20%, think also of its supremacy in comparative demonstrations.

WE realize this fact: the reduction of the Marmon 34 to $3985 has quadrupled its appeal.

Our new obligation is to extend its acquaintance amongst the many who can now become owners of this quality car but who hitherto have not included it in their considerations.

We have felt a quick response to the price reduction. But we are still as insistent upon presenting the performance of the Marmon 34 as a fundamental superiority as we were when it was $5000.

We ask, therefore, for the opportunity of giving you a comparative demonstration.
