

3 HURT IN AUTO WRECK; CHAUFFEUR JAILED

Woman, Small Girl and Man Are Injured.

DRINKING PARTY CHARGED

Mrs. Fred Schmyth, Daughter, 12, and Joseph Hanley Cut Up. Daniel Ryan Arrested.

ASHLAND, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—As a finale to what police believe to have been a gay night party in which moonshine whiskey figured, a light car driven by Daniel Ryan, who was locked in jail, overturned at 2 o'clock this morning on the highway about three miles from here between Ashland and Medford, seriously injuring Mrs. Fred Schmyth and Joseph Hanley, Mrs. Schmyth's 12-year-old daughter, Gene, was badly bruised and cut about the face. Mrs. Schmyth was deeply cut on the head and bruised. Hanley was badly bruised and unconscious for several hours.

All three were rushed to the hospital here after being given first aid treatment at a farm house in front of which the accident occurred. The driver, Ryan, was only slightly bruised and was held in the hospital under a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. The other member of the party, W. F. Randolph, was uninjured. He had not been drinking, the police stated. The car, after leaving the left-hand side of the highway and running into a ditch, swerved sideways, turned completely over and landed right side up, throwing all the occupants clear of the car, in spite of the fact that the top was up.

The car was wrecked. The auto belonged to Fred Schmyth, who was in Portland at the time of the accident. The men are truck owners here and are on strike for pay equal to that of last year for state highway work, and it was after a meeting of the striking men at Ashland that the party was made up and left here at 9 o'clock for Medford. They left that place for Ashland at 1 o'clock in the morning. Robert Newlan, truck driver, accompanied the party to Medford, but did not make the return trip. Randolph admitted that members of the party had been drinking and that the bottles had been passed around after leaving Medford. Ryan refused Randolph permission to drive. Police stated that the "aroma of liquor" was very strong about the car. A charge of drunkenness will be brought against Hanley, who was taken to his home here after regaining consciousness at the hospital.

FIRE MENACES HORSES

ONE ANIMAL SUFFERS SINGED EAR IN BLAZE.

Helser Transfer Barn Damaged to Slight Degree by Flames in Horse Manger.

A horse suffered a singed ear, some hair was burned and the woodwork of the manger charred as a result of a fire which broke out in the transfer barn of J. C. Helser at 187 Adams street yesterday at 10:22 A. M. Five horses in the barn were rescued by Josef Meil and F. P. Foster, men who discovered the flames. The men threw water on the flames and prevented the spread of the fire, which was put out by the fire bureau. A cigarette stub was blamed for the fire.

Sparks from a chimney did about $10 damage to a residence at 892 Grand avenue occupied by George Bloom. The operation of a faning mill which was being used to fan smut from wheat at municipal terminal No. 4 yesterday resulted in persons living in the vicinity of the terminal sending in a fire alarm. They saw the smut in the air and took it to be smoke.

CLACKAMAS TEAM WINS

First Honors Taken in Boys' and Girls' Stock Judging Contest.

ALBANY, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—The Clackamas county stock judging team won first honors in a contest between boys' and girls' stock judging teams at the picnic of the Linn County Jersey Cattle club held yesterday at the farm of J. C. Brown & Son, near Fayetteville. The team scored 845 points. The Lakes Creek club of Linn county took second place with 600 points. The Tillamook county club, with 585 points, ranked third. The Shedd Jersey Cattle club of this county took fourth place with 570 points; the Ash Grove club of Linn county scored 540 points and took fifth place and the Multnomah county club, with 495 points, ranked in sixth place. The members of the winning team from Clackamas county are Rudolph Hansen, Mildred Anderson and Vera Anderson.

BRIDGE TO BE COMPLETED

Work on Steel Structure at Albany to Start Soon.

ALBANY, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—The big wooden railroad bridge across the Willamette river at this city, which is rated as being the longest single-span wooden drawbridge in the world, according to railroad statistical reports, is to be replaced within the next few weeks by a steel bridge. Work which began last year looking toward this result will be completed early this summer. The work of establishing the new piers for the steel bridge was completed last summer. The steel for the bridge of the upper structure of the bridge has been received here and the work will now proceed rapidly. The bridge is on the Albany-Yaquina branch of the Southern Pacific railroad.

30 DENTISTS PASS TESTS

Board of Examiners Quizzes Men at North Pacific College.

Thirty new dentists have been admitted to practice in Oregon following successful tests before the Oregon state board of dental examiners at North Pacific dental college. Successful applicants were as follows: J. H. Alexander, S. B. Arthur, Russell Baird, J. R. Bunch, C. S. Baird, H. E. Cate, W. S. Cole, D. D. Cummins, L. J. Cain, George Good-

FATHER IDENTIFIES KIDNAPER'S VICTIM

Body of Italian Boy Drowned by Blackmailers, Viewed.

BRUTALITY IS AMAZING

Murder Marks First Execution of Death Threat for Ransoms in New York, Say Police.

NEW YORK, June 12.—(Special.)—Into a tenement at No. 354 East Thirtieth street yesterday afternoon was brought the body of a little 4-year-old boy who in a manner yet unexplained, while at the mercy of grown men as yet unidentified, was drowned in the Hudson river because his father, Salvatore Varotta, a poor Italian laborer, was mistaken for a kidnaper and was forced to pay money. The unidentified men coveted that money. To obtain it they resorted to kidnapping and blackmail.

They stole the little boy from his home doorstep and wrote his father and mother that if they wished to see their son alive again $2500 must be put where the kidnapers could get it without interference or danger from the police. Father sees dead son. The little boy was stolen three weeks ago tomorrow, Salvatore Varotta did not have $2500 in the world. And little Giuseppe Varotta was never seen alive again by his parents. Today, however, the father saw him dead. With Assistant District Attorney Benedict Dineen of the homicide bureau, Dr. Otto H. Schultz, medical assistant to the district attorney, Salvatore Varotta went across the Hudson to Nyack, N. Y., and in the undertaking establishment of Raymond Bohr looked at the body of a boy which was washed up Saturday morning against a pier jutting out in the river at Piermont, three miles below Nyack. The little boy was sadly disfigured. Dr. Schultz, who had examined the body, said it had been rolling and washing along the bed of the river between a week and a fortnight and that the rocks it had struck account for its disfigurement. There was water in the boy's lungs, so it was manifest he had been drowned. Identification is made. Salvatore Varotta, whose child has been missing for almost three weeks, did not shrink from the authorities' test for him. He made a long and minute examination and a positive identification. It was his son, Giuseppe. The police of New York realize that they are confronted by one of the most brutal challenges to law they have ever been called upon to meet. According to the police, this is the first time a death threat has been carried out in New York when kidnapping was done for ransom. Moreover, according to the police and also according to Salvatore Varotta, this was not only an Italian crime, but a black hand and a Sicilian crime. It would seem to the police that certain band of criminals has grown bolder than it ever was before—bold enough to bid open defiance to the authorities.

HUNT FOR ROBBERS FAILS

PAIR LAST SEEN IN DOWNTOWN DISTRICT.

Men Who Took Automobile and Cash Held Responsible for Number of Robberies.

Efforts of the police yesterday to find the two stolen-up men who relieved three citizens of an automobile and about $300 worth of personal property Saturday night were unsuccessful. The last trace of the two men was when they left the stolen machine on Fourth street near Stark before disappearing in the downtown district. One of the victims of the hold-up was Gordon Laing, chief city health inspector, who was forced to give up his automobile and jewelry and money amounting to $100 in the case of 831 Holly street about 10 o'clock Saturday night. Shortly afterward the same men, it is believed, drove up in front of the home of W. T. Vaux, attorney, just as he and his wife were entering the house at 1141 Mallory street, and robbed Mr. Vaux of his wallet and what money he had on his person. Another hold-up believed to have been by the same pair occurred when R. G. Bailey, 715 Hancock street, was held up at Thirty-first and Hancock streets. He lost a watch and a diamond emblem pin.

CATHOLICS END RETREAT

SESSION CONCLUDED AT MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE.

Knights of Columbus Delegates From Many Parts of Oregon in Attendance. The annual retreat of Catholic laymen of Oregon, held under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, was concluded at Mount Angel college, St. Benedict, Or., yesterday morning with a solemn high mass celebrated by the Benedictine fathers at St. Mary's church. About 100 men from many sections of Oregon attended, under the leadership of the state deputy of Oregon Knights of Columbus, J. H. Peare of La Grande, and the district deputy, P. J. Hanley of Portland, who acted as chairman of the retreat committee. Exercises were opened Friday morning under the direction of Rev. E. Quinan, member of the Paulist missionary band of the Pacific northwest. This was the second annual retreat given under guidance of the Knights of Columbus of Oregon. While the laymen's retreat movement is somewhat new in the northwest, it has been in practice in Europe several years.

GUARD OFFICER NAMED

Louis A. Jones of Albany Appointed Second-Lieutenant.

ALBANY, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Louis A. Jones has been appointed second lieutenant of the Fifth company, Coast Artillery corps, Oregon National Guard, of this city. When this company was organized a few months ago George E. Crawford was named second lieutenant but resigned because of lack of time. The new lieutenant was a member of an old Fifth company in the war. He was in the service during the entire world war. He is active in other local organizations and is now chancellor commander of the local lodge of the Knights of Pythias. The other commissioned officers of the Albany company are Clarence Collins, captain, and Arthur C. Chesney, first lieutenant.

Jewish Feast Ends Today

Concluding services in observance of Shabbath, or the feast of weeks, will be held this morning at Congregation Abshai Sholem at 9:30 o'clock, and at Congregation Novah Zedek Talmud Torah at 9 o'clock. The holiday was observed in morning and evening services yesterday in synagogues of the city.

FATHER IDENTIFIES KIDNAPER'S VICTIM

Body of Italian Boy Drowned by Blackmailers, Viewed.

BRUTALITY IS AMAZING

Murder Marks First Execution of Death Threat for Ransoms in New York, Say Police.

NEW YORK, June 12.—(Special.)—Into a tenement at No. 354 East Thirtieth street yesterday afternoon was brought the body of a little 4-year-old boy who in a manner yet unexplained, while at the mercy of grown men as yet unidentified, was drowned in the Hudson river because his father, Salvatore Varotta, a poor Italian laborer, was mistaken for a kidnaper and was forced to pay money. The unidentified men coveted that money. To obtain it they resorted to kidnapping and blackmail.

They stole the little boy from his home doorstep and wrote his father and mother that if they wished to see their son alive again $2500 must be put where the kidnapers could get it without interference or danger from the police. Father sees dead son. The little boy was stolen three weeks ago tomorrow, Salvatore Varotta did not have $2500 in the world. And little Giuseppe Varotta was never seen alive again by his parents. Today, however, the father saw him dead. With Assistant District Attorney Benedict Dineen of the homicide bureau, Dr. Otto H. Schultz, medical assistant to the district attorney, Salvatore Varotta went across the Hudson to Nyack, N. Y., and in the undertaking establishment of Raymond Bohr looked at the body of a boy which was washed up Saturday morning against a pier jutting out in the river at Piermont, three miles below Nyack. The little boy was sadly disfigured. Dr. Schultz, who had examined the body, said it had been rolling and washing along the bed of the river between a week and a fortnight and that the rocks it had struck account for its disfigurement. There was water in the boy's lungs, so it was manifest he had been drowned. Identification is made. Salvatore Varotta, whose child has been missing for almost three weeks, did not shrink from the authorities' test for him. He made a long and minute examination and a positive identification. It was his son, Giuseppe. The police of New York realize that they are confronted by one of the most brutal challenges to law they have ever been called upon to meet. According to the police, this is the first time a death threat has been carried out in New York when kidnapping was done for ransom. Moreover, according to the police and also according to Salvatore Varotta, this was not only an Italian crime, but a black hand and a Sicilian crime. It would seem to the police that certain band of criminals has grown bolder than it ever was before—bold enough to bid open defiance to the authorities.

HUNT FOR ROBBERS FAILS

PAIR LAST SEEN IN DOWNTOWN DISTRICT.

Men Who Took Automobile and Cash Held Responsible for Number of Robberies.

Efforts of the police yesterday to find the two stolen-up men who relieved three citizens of an automobile and about $300 worth of personal property Saturday night were unsuccessful. The last trace of the two men was when they left the stolen machine on Fourth street near Stark before disappearing in the downtown district. One of the victims of the hold-up was Gordon Laing, chief city health inspector, who was forced to give up his automobile and jewelry and money amounting to $100 in the case of 831 Holly street about 10 o'clock Saturday night. Shortly afterward the same men, it is believed, drove up in front of the home of W. T. Vaux, attorney, just as he and his wife were entering the house at 1141 Mallory street, and robbed Mr. Vaux of his wallet and what money he had on his person. Another hold-up believed to have been by the same pair occurred when R. G. Bailey, 715 Hancock street, was held up at Thirty-first and Hancock streets. He lost a watch and a diamond emblem pin.

CATHOLICS END RETREAT

SESSION CONCLUDED AT MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE.

Knights of Columbus Delegates From Many Parts of Oregon in Attendance. The annual retreat of Catholic laymen of Oregon, held under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, was concluded at Mount Angel college, St. Benedict, Or., yesterday morning with a solemn high mass celebrated by the Benedictine fathers at St. Mary's church. About 100 men from many sections of Oregon attended, under the leadership of the state deputy of Oregon Knights of Columbus, J. H. Peare of La Grande, and the district deputy, P. J. Hanley of Portland, who acted as chairman of the retreat committee. Exercises were opened Friday morning under the direction of Rev. E. Quinan, member of the Paulist missionary band of the Pacific northwest. This was the second annual retreat given under guidance of the Knights of Columbus of Oregon. While the laymen's retreat movement is somewhat new in the northwest, it has been in practice in Europe several years.

GUARD OFFICER NAMED

Louis A. Jones of Albany Appointed Second-Lieutenant.

ALBANY, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Louis A. Jones has been appointed second lieutenant of the Fifth company, Coast Artillery corps, Oregon National Guard, of this city. When this company was organized a few months ago George E. Crawford was named second lieutenant but resigned because of lack of time. The new lieutenant was a member of an old Fifth company in the war. He was in the service during the entire world war. He is active in other local organizations and is now chancellor commander of the local lodge of the Knights of Pythias. The other commissioned officers of the Albany company are Clarence Collins, captain, and Arthur C. Chesney, first lieutenant.

Jewish Feast Ends Today

Concluding services in observance of Shabbath, or the feast of weeks, will be held this morning at Congregation Abshai Sholem at 9:30 o'clock, and at Congregation Novah Zedek Talmud Torah at 9 o'clock. The holiday was observed in morning and evening services yesterday in synagogues of the city.

FATHER IDENTIFIES KIDNAPER'S VICTIM

Body of Italian Boy Drowned by Blackmailers, Viewed.

BRUTALITY IS AMAZING

Murder Marks First Execution of Death Threat for Ransoms in New York, Say Police.

NEW YORK, June 12.—(Special.)—Into a tenement at No. 354 East Thirtieth street yesterday afternoon was brought the body of a little 4-year-old boy who in a manner yet unexplained, while at the mercy of grown men as yet unidentified, was drowned in the Hudson river because his father, Salvatore Varotta, a poor Italian laborer, was mistaken for a kidnaper and was forced to pay money. The unidentified men coveted that money. To obtain it they resorted to kidnapping and blackmail.

They stole the little boy from his home doorstep and wrote his father and mother that if they wished to see their son alive again $2500 must be put where the kidnapers could get it without interference or danger from the police. Father sees dead son. The little boy was stolen three weeks ago tomorrow, Salvatore Varotta did not have $2500 in the world. And little Giuseppe Varotta was never seen alive again by his parents. Today, however, the father saw him dead. With Assistant District Attorney Benedict Dineen of the homicide bureau, Dr. Otto H. Schultz, medical assistant to the district attorney, Salvatore Varotta went across the Hudson to Nyack, N. Y., and in the undertaking establishment of Raymond Bohr looked at the body of a boy which was washed up Saturday morning against a pier jutting out in the river at Piermont, three miles below Nyack. The little boy was sadly disfigured. Dr. Schultz, who had examined the body, said it had been rolling and washing along the bed of the river between a week and a fortnight and that the rocks it had struck account for its disfigurement. There was water in the boy's lungs, so it was manifest he had been drowned. Identification is made. Salvatore Varotta, whose child has been missing for almost three weeks, did not shrink from the authorities' test for him. He made a long and minute examination and a positive identification. It was his son, Giuseppe. The police of New York realize that they are confronted by one of the most brutal challenges to law they have ever been called upon to meet. According to the police, this is the first time a death threat has been carried out in New York when kidnapping was done for ransom. Moreover, according to the police and also according to Salvatore Varotta, this was not only an Italian crime, but a black hand and a Sicilian crime. It would seem to the police that certain band of criminals has grown bolder than it ever was before—bold enough to bid open defiance to the authorities.

HUNT FOR ROBBERS FAILS

PAIR LAST SEEN IN DOWNTOWN DISTRICT.

Men Who Took Automobile and Cash Held Responsible for Number of Robberies.

Efforts of the police yesterday to find the two stolen-up men who relieved three citizens of an automobile and about $300 worth of personal property Saturday night were unsuccessful. The last trace of the two men was when they left the stolen machine on Fourth street near Stark before disappearing in the downtown district. One of the victims of the hold-up was Gordon Laing, chief city health inspector, who was forced to give up his automobile and jewelry and money amounting to $100 in the case of 831 Holly street about 10 o'clock Saturday night. Shortly afterward the same men, it is believed, drove up in front of the home of W. T. Vaux, attorney, just as he and his wife were entering the house at 1141 Mallory street, and robbed Mr. Vaux of his wallet and what money he had on his person. Another hold-up believed to have been by the same pair occurred when R. G. Bailey, 715 Hancock street, was held up at Thirty-first and Hancock streets. He lost a watch and a diamond emblem pin.

CATHOLICS END RETREAT

SESSION CONCLUDED AT MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE.

Knights of Columbus Delegates From Many Parts of Oregon in Attendance. The annual retreat of Catholic laymen of Oregon, held under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, was concluded at Mount Angel college, St. Benedict, Or., yesterday morning with a solemn high mass celebrated by the Benedictine fathers at St. Mary's church. About 100 men from many sections of Oregon attended, under the leadership of the state deputy of Oregon Knights of Columbus, J. H. Peare of La Grande, and the district deputy, P. J. Hanley of Portland, who acted as chairman of the retreat committee. Exercises were opened Friday morning under the direction of Rev. E. Quinan, member of the Paulist missionary band of the Pacific northwest. This was the second annual retreat given under guidance of the Knights of Columbus of Oregon. While the laymen's retreat movement is somewhat new in the northwest, it has been in practice in Europe several years.

GUARD OFFICER NAMED

Louis A. Jones of Albany Appointed Second-Lieutenant.

ALBANY, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Louis A. Jones has been appointed second lieutenant of the Fifth company, Coast Artillery corps, Oregon National Guard, of this city. When this company was organized a few months ago George E. Crawford was named second lieutenant but resigned because of lack of time. The new lieutenant was a member of an old Fifth company in the war. He was in the service during the entire world war. He is active in other local organizations and is now chancellor commander of the local lodge of the Knights of Pythias. The other commissioned officers of the Albany company are Clarence Collins, captain, and Arthur C. Chesney, first lieutenant.

Jewish Feast Ends Today

Concluding services in observance of Shabbath, or the feast of weeks, will be held this morning at Congregation Abshai Sholem at 9:30 o'clock, and at Congregation Novah Zedek Talmud Torah at 9 o'clock. The holiday was observed in morning and evening services yesterday in synagogues of the city.

JAMES F. CALLAHAN DIES AT WALLACE, DA.

Wealthy Mining Man Succumbs to Paralysis.

BOND TRIAL STRAIN TELLS

Stroke Comes Friday and Victim Remains Unconscious Until End—Career Picturesque.

WALLACE, Idaho, June 12.—James F. Callahan, wealthy mining man of the Coeur d'Alene district of Idaho, died here this afternoon at 3 o'clock, having suffered a stroke of paralysis at his home here Friday night.

Since the stroke he was unable to recognize friends or speak, it was said, and he never recovered consciousness until his death. Mr. Callahan was the principal stockholder in the Callahan Lead-Zinc company of the Coeur d'Alene district, formerly the Consolidated Interstate-Callahan. This property paid more than $3,000,000 dividends in one year during the late war. Bonds Losses Suffered. Only recently Mr. Callahan suffered a $400,000 loss through alleged bond forgeries of two Spokane business men, John B. Millholland and Jay E. Hourch, who entered a suicide pact, Millholland killing himself. The Hourch trial was a sensation in the Spokane area. The career of the pioneer mining man was picturesque. Cowboy, buffalo hunter, prospector and a far-sighted business man, he was one of the principal figures in the growth and development of North Idaho. Business Ventures Numerous. He discovered the claims on the Interstate-Callahan in 1885, but did not locate the property until 1887. For 20 years he worked this property, residents of north Idaho proclaiming him a "queer" character. In his later years he made his headquarters with many business ventures in this section in addition to his mining interests. Mr. Callahan was born at Galena, Ill., on August 12, 1858. He is said to have located more mining claims in the Coeur d'Alene district than any other man. He made his home at Wallace during his later years. He was a member of the Elks lodge.

3 HURT IN AUTO WRECK

Car Driven by John Schneider Is Wrecked on East Side.

Three persons were injured, none seriously, when an automobile driven by John Schneider, 1724 East Thirtieth street, collided with a truck driven by Herbert Ripping, 427 1/2 Yukon and Milwaukee avenues yesterday.

EX-LANE RESIDENTS HURT

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hodel Injured in California Auto Mishap.

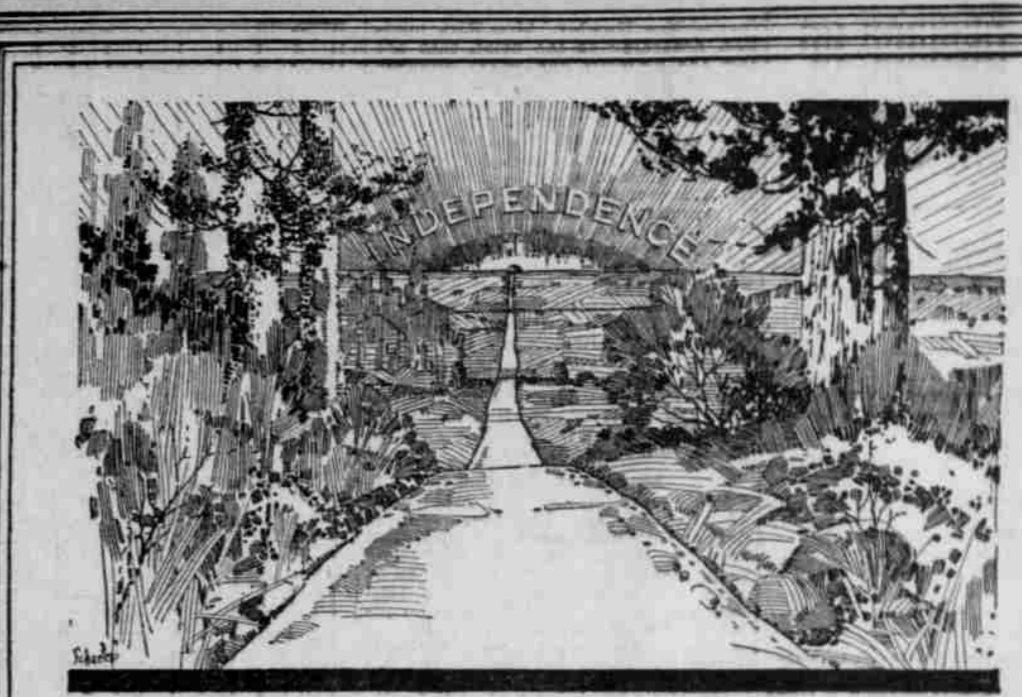

EUGENE, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Eugene Matlock of this city yesterday received a telegram from her sister, Miss Edna Johnson at Oakland, Cal., stating that their sister, Mrs. G. W. Hodel, formerly Miss Blanche Johnson, and her husband probably were fatally injured in an automobile accident at Oakland yesterday. Miss Johnson, who was in the car, was severely bruised, she says in her telegram. Mrs. Hodel and Miss Johnson are former residents of Cottage Grove and are well known in Eugene. They now reside at Turlock, Cal., and had been on a trip to San Francisco when the accident occurred. No details of the accident were sent.

Medford Boys to Camp

MEDFORD, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—The Boy Scouts of Medford will leave early Tuesday morning for their week's camp at Union creek, which is between Prospect and Crater lakes, on the Crater Lake road. Their stay there will be the dedication of the Boy Scouts' big camp ground, which has been set aside by the Crater national forest as a camp ground for the Boy Scouts of all of southern Oregon.

Reunion is Planned

EUGENE, Or., June 12.—(Special.)—The annual reunion of the Soldiers and Sailors' association of southern Oregon will be held in the park at Ashland, September 10. This was decided at the regular meeting of the officers at Gold Hill today.

The Road to Independence

It is well defined, the THRIFT ROAD! It is broad and smooth and ever widening, for it has been trodden by thousands and thousands of contented and successful persons who have reached Independence over it. There are several ways to Independence, but the surest and safest is by way of the SAVINGS ACCOUNT. If you possess one, BUILD IT! Protect it from the drain of thoughtless and impulsive expenditures. If you have not yet learned the satisfaction of a SAVINGS ACCOUNT, open one here TODAY!

Ask for Mr. Hoyt SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

THE NORTHWESTERN NATIONAL BANK

PORTLAND

OREGON

Commander E. K. Hall of Ashland, Lieutenant-Colonel J. E. Peterson of Grants Pass, Major A. J. T. Smith of Gold Hill and J. P. Sayte of Ashland were present.

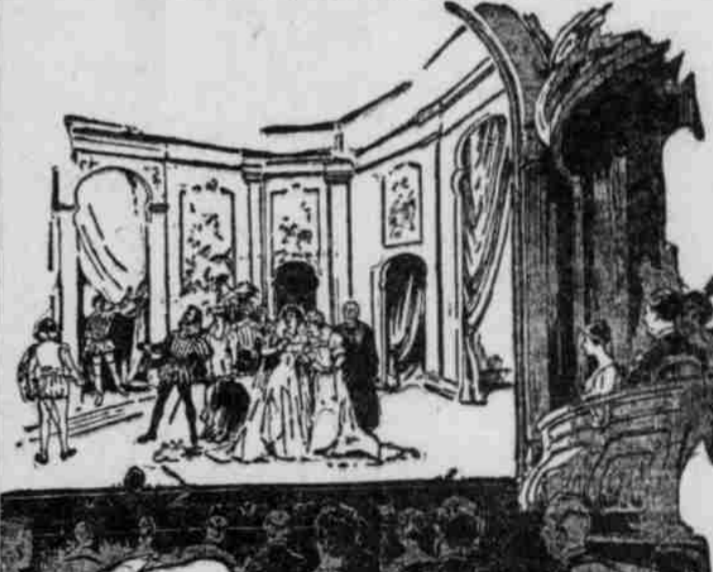

Benson Hotel Has Fire Scare

Someone's porkchop caught fire on one of the boilers in the Benson hotel kitchen about 7:10 o'clock last night, and smoked through the flues until the smoke issued from the roof and make it appear that the hotel was aflame. Although the fire department, with its usual din, responded, chefs in the kitchen continued their labors; diners unconcernedly finished their dinners and business of the hotel went on as usual. Damage was confined to the vent and was minimal, but the porkchop was a total loss.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

THE WILEY B. ALLEN CO. SUPERIOR RECORD SERVICE

Especially Fine Records FOR AN EVENING AT HOME

- Angel's Serenade.....Alma Gluck-Zimbalist 50992
Shadow Song (from "Dinorah").....Barrientos 40596
Vespre Sicilliana.....Rosa Ponselle 40670
Barber of Seville.....Barrientos - Straciar 40612
Last Rose of Summer (violin).....Elman 64958
The Swan (cello).....Pablo Casals 40796
Good - Bye (Tosti).....Evan Williams 74550
Silver Threads Among the Gold.....Julia Culp 74827
Gagliarda (Antique Dance).....La Scala Orchestra 74672
Aida - Grand March.....Metropolitan Opera-House Orchestra 6118
La Gioconda - Dance of the Hours.....Metropolitan Orchestra 8128
Merchant of Venice - Shylock's Speech.....Sothern-Marlowe 74675
Merchant of Venice - The Merch. Speech.....Sothern-Marlowe 74672
The Maid of Cadiz.....Galli-Curci 64885
Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2 (piano).....Cortot 74670
A Perfect Day.....Evan Williams 64366
Carry Me Back to Old Virginia.....Alma Gluck 74420
At Dawning.....John McCormack 64355

Please send me the records marked (X) Name _____ Address _____

MORRISON ST. AT BROADWAY The WILEY B. ALLEN CO. TALKING MACHINES RECORDS PIANOS PLAYERS MUSIC HARMONIA GRAMMOPHONES

THIS ENTIRE WEEK

Unquestionably "The Flame of the Yukon" made Miss Dalton famous—but her latest triumph, "The Idol of the North," magnifies her charm, beauty and ability one hundredfold.

DOROTHY DALTON in "The Idol of the North" A Paramount Picture

LOOK NEXT SATURDAY CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG IN PERSON Afternoons and Evenings—Keates and Our Giant Organ

ROSE AWARDS CORRECTED

Errors Creep in Due to Haste in Compiling List. Corrections in the list of awards of the festival, now show were given yesterday by H. J. Blasing, president of the Portland Rose society. Owing to the haste in which the list was originally compiled errors crept in, for which neither the judges nor the press could be blamed. Mr. Blasing was anxious that all winners should receive proper credit. Portions of the list in which corrections were made follow: Section I, class I—First, Mrs. F. L. Fuller; second, no entry. Section C, class II—First, S. S. Montague; second, Mrs. J. C. Montell. Section I, class I—First, Walter J. Swan; second, Mrs. J. P. Cooke. Section I, class I—First, Mrs. Fred P. Gram; second, Mrs. Jerry Bronson. Section II—First, Mrs. Thomas Gray; second, Mrs. Fredonia Wolf.

Dentistry Without Pain

Assured by My Method. J. E. STEVENSON, D. D. S. C. Smith Long and Stevenson, 312 B. & L. Bldg., Broadway and Alder.

Strawberry Shortcake

The Home-made Kind. They're Luscious. Perkins Grill and Steak Shop 108 Fifth Street.

Cuticura Soap imparts The Velvet Touch

Cool Heads, Clear Eyes Wanted to Guide World, Says Whitman Head. OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, June 12.—(Special.)