

DRAFT OF PARKING LIMITS CONSIDERED

Ordinance Would Place Restrictions Down Town.

HEARING TO BE ARRANGED

Signs to Be Placed so That Motorists Can Tell at Glance How Long They May Remain.

The streets on which traffic is congested will be comparatively free from parked automobiles if the ordinance discussed by the city traffic committee yesterday afternoon is approved by the city council Wednesday, June 23. The ordinance as drafted by L. E. LaTourrette, deputy city attorney, will be reviewed again in about a week for further discussion. A public hearing will be held before the council goes to the council for final action.

Cars without drivers will not be allowed to park on Washington street from First to Tenth or on Morrison from Tenth to Tenth between the hours of 6 A. M. and 6 P. M., according to the proposed ordinance. Cars may be parked on these streets "while loading or unloading passengers or goods, but not longer than 30 minutes."

Three Districts Restricted. Three districts in which automobiles will not be permitted to park for more than two hours between 6 A. M. and 6 P. M. The first district, bounded by Madison, Taylor, Tenth and Front; the second by Oak, Couch, Tenth and Front and the third by Thirteenth, Tenth, Taylor and Burnside.

On Front, First and Second streets from the north side of Taylor street to the south side of Oak street, it shall be unlawful between 6 A. M. and 6 P. M. to park any vehicle for more than one hour.

The committee discussed also the advisability of extending the two-hour parking restriction from Tenth to Nineteenth street on Washington. Reverse turns will be prohibited in the congested streets to be specified later, including the district bounded roughly by Burnside, Taylor, Third and Tenth streets.

Signs Expected to Help. "Sixty per cent will pay attention to the signs," declared Captain Lewis when asked how much good the signs would do. "The other 40 per cent will pay attention to them part of the time."

Four even teaspoonfuls cocoa, 8 teaspoonfuls sugar, 3 cups boiling water, 1 cup Carnation Milk, 1/4 teaspoonful salt. Mix cocoa and sugar in a cup. Heat water boiling. Heat cocoa pot by allowing hot water to stand in it for a few minutes. Heat Carnation Milk by standing cup of Carnation Milk in basin of hot water for five minutes or more. Pour a little boiling water into cup of cocoa and sugar to dissolve them. Pour into cocoa pot, add remainder of water boiling hot, then the hot Carnation Milk and salt. Serve at once. FOR CHOCOLATE use two or three times as much chocolate as the above recipe calls for.

Twice as rich as ordinary milk

CARNATION Milk is pure cows' milk evaporated to the consistency of cream by removing part of the water only. Its volume as whole milk may be restored by diluting with half water. It is hermetically sealed and sterilized to insure its purity for you and always of the same high quality—rich, sweet, and pure. Use it for every milk purpose—it keeps longer and goes farther. When a recipe calls for 1 cup milk use only 1/2 cup Carnation Milk mixed with 1/2 cup water. Your grocer has Carnation in large and "baby" cans.

Make Better Hot Chocolate with Carnation. Have Home-Made Ice Cream This Summer. Keep Carnation Handy for Whipping. Place can of Carnation Milk in water and heat to boiling. Remove promptly, and thoroughly chill by placing can on ice. When cool, open can and pour milk into chilled bowl placed in another bowl filled with cracked ice. After milk has become thoroughly chilled, whip in regular way with ordinary egg beater for about five minutes. Sweeten and flavor if desired. Keep on ice until served. Carnation Milk will whip satisfactorily without heating, but better results are assured when above directions are followed closely. (Flavor if desired.)

Mother's Little Czar. And the Royal Bedtime Rumpus. In this age of democracy, Mrs. Bradford's little Willie, just old enough to have a nickname, was a pronounced autocrat, holding sway over the whole Bradford household. In moments of extreme tenderness Mrs. Bradford had "given way" to baby a little more than necessary, and baby had promptly taken the hint. Right royally he cried for his cuddling and lullabies before each nap; Mrs. Bradford's nerves were quite on edge—every day in the week this same bedtime fidgeting.
