To meet her demands it became nec essary for Germany to buy American dollars, the only international money standard today, and having the equal value of gold throughout the world. The demand for dellars sent them to a higher premium.

Allied moneys dropped in conse-cuence, and thus we have the situation that what was gained from Germany was lost in the purchasing power of the franc. England, re-ceiving but little of the money, suf-fered in the monetary decline.

Warnings Are Recalled. And yet, what else could be ex-pected? The allied supreme council was warned time and time again tha

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—Efforts to connect an alieged attempt to dynamite the engine drum equipment used in the construction of the Federal Reserve Bank building, with the present difficulties between building employers and unions, are being made by the police Saturday. There was little to show that the supposed dynamite plot was against the government, according to the police.

Two of the supposed plotters, John Nickerson and Daniel Chickering, are under arrest as a result of charges made by George K. Steele, a watchman on the building, that they tried to hire him to destroy certain building and hay. Vegetables are in line for a heavy yield, gardens everywhere appearing exceptionally good.

Many crops planted late because the low elevation does not permit early seeding are making strong growth. A heavy rain fell this morning.

Fruit crops are badly damaged. Pears are hard hit and the cherry crop will be short. Frunes and plums are almost a minus quantity. The apple crop will be good. The raspberry harvest is near and the yield will be good. Loganberries promise a fine yield. The picking of the strawberry crop is practically at an end.

SEATTLE. Wash., June 26.—(Special.)—Whether the recent conference agreement of the eastern railroads to join with the western lines in maktween Pacific coast points and points east of Chicago will bring about a downward revision in lumber and shingle rates, is a question that Pacific northwest lumbermen are eager to have answered. Their eagerness is shared by railroad traffice of the coast of the coa shared by railroad traffic officials in Scattle.

Meager advices that have reached Scattle concerning the conference agreement leave the local traffic of-ficials of the transcontinental lines, as well as the lumbermen uninformed. but all are more or less hopeful that forest products will share in the rate reductions. Traffic officials have asked their chiefs for definite infor-mation and are expecting to get a line on the situation within the next few generally are aware and as all rail-road traffic men will tell them, oc-cupy a peculiar position in the rail-road world and have never been lumped with other commodities in rate making. Furthermore the railroads have the problem always before them of keeping something of a par-ity between the rates on forest products from the Pacific coast and from the southern states to the common markets of the central west and the east.

Course Is Uncertain Hence it is that there is still uncertainty regarding the course the eastern and western roads will pursue with regard to lumber and shingle
