

COOLIDGE BELIEVES IN ARMAMENT-MOVE

América Should Lead in Steps to Cut Costs, Is View.

EARLY ACTION EXPECTED

Vice-President Declares Congress Is Awake to Country's Feelings and Will Act Soon.

NEW YORK, June 27.—(Special.)—Calvin Coolidge, vice-president of the United States, came out flatly in favor of world disarmament in the movement, in an interview today.

"Something must be done to lessen the tax burden on the people of the country," Mr. Coolidge said. "The army and navy are two of the greatest burdens of this nature now faced by the people of the United States. The logical step is to reduce armaments in common with the other nations of the world."

Mr. Coolidge came today from Washington to speak at the dinner of New England bankers in the Hotel Commodore. In his speech he made no reference to national problems. With Mrs. Coolidge, who accompanied him from the capital, he returned to Washington on the midnight train.

Lead in Move Favored.
"Do you believe the United States should take the initiative in suggesting a disarmament conference to the other nations?" Mr. Coolidge was asked.

"I understand this is already being done by the president," he continued. "I certainly approve of this country's taking this move of bringing about such a conference."

"Do you believe the United States is the logical nation to take the first step?"

"If you mean by that the advances already made by the president, yes, I do. We should join with Great Britain and Japan in reducing armaments. In this way we can accomplish real economy."

The vice-president said he felt confident the house of representatives would adopt a disarmament resolution similar to the French resolution adopted by the senate. A conference committee of both houses was at work in Washington today framing such a resolution.

"Do you think the resolution decided upon will contain the clause requesting the president to call a conference such as is contained in the French resolution?"

"I cannot say what is in the minds of the members of the conference committee, but I think there is a universal demand for disarmament and that congress recognizes that and will act on it."

The work of the vice-president is much more arduous than he had expected it would be, Mr. Coolidge said.

"I feel somewhat like a trust schoolboy in leaving Washington at this time," he said. "I thought when I went to Washington that I would find much leisure time on my hands. But I find that I have nothing of which to complain on that score."

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge arrived in the Pennsylvania station at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon. They were escorted to the Hotel Commodore in an automobile by Roy S. Hubbard, assistant to George W. Seaman, vice-president of the hotel and by 20 policemen on motorcycles. They remained in their suite on the 15th floor of the hotel until dinner and returned to Washington at its conclusion.

NAVY BALLOON ESCAPES

SAILORS DECLARED DROPPED FROM AIRCRAFT AT SEA.

Runaway Said to Have Grounded in Lompoc Valley After Tearing Down Telegraph Lines.

SANTEE BARBARA, Cal., June 27.—An unoccupied kite balloon, which broke its cable attaching it to the battleship New Mexico at noon today off Cape San Martin, Monterey county, drifted inland and alighted last today on a ranch six miles west of Lompoc, about 80 miles northwest of here. The ranch is about six miles inland. The balloon was badly torn when it alighted in a grove of trees.

An unverified report that two men were lost at sea from the balloon was received here tonight by J. P. Bell, night chief dispatcher of the Southern Pacific company.

Bell's information came from T. J. Foley, trainmaster at San Luis Obispo, who reported the balloon had torn up the telegraph wires of the railroad. This telegram said:

"All our wires about three miles west of Surf were torn down at 3:35 P. M. by a balloon which was out of control of the men on board. Understand balloon captured in Lompoc valley and that two men were lost at sea."

A message picked up here by the naval radio from the New Mexico, which is flagship of the Pacific fleet and was proceeding to the Columbia bar to San Francisco, told of a kite balloon breaking apart and heading southeast. The battleship did not mention presence aboard of passengers.

MAYOR JAILS AUTOISTS

Two Portland Men Are Arrested
by Vancouver Executive.

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 27.—(Special.)—Paul J. McGinlay and William Meyer, both of Portland, were arrested by Mayor Kiggins in front of his home, Tenth and Reserve streets, yesterday and taken to the police station. McGinlay was charged with operating a light truck while intoxicated and Meyer with having possession of intoxicating liquor. McGinlay had smashed into another machine.

McGinlay was fined $75 and costs and Meyer $75 and costs. They were having a hard time to raise the amount of the fines.

JOHN POWELL HEIRS MEET

Annual Reunion at Albany Attended by 191 Persons.

ALBANY, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—One hundred and ninety-one persons from various parts of the Willamette valley attended the annual reunion yesterday of the heirs of John A. Powell and his brothers, pioneers of Linn county, held on the old Powell donation land claim, eight miles east of Albany. The reunion was held

STAR TO RULE TANKS

THELMA PAYNE WILL TEACH
SWIMMING IN PARKS.

Woman Diving Champion and Point Winner at Olympic Games
Begins Duties Saturday.

Thelma Payne, three times national diving champion, point winner on the American Olympic team at Antwerp last year, and holder of many Pacific northwest titles, will take up her work as swimming instructor at the first annual Selkirk park tank July 2. Miss Payne will have supervision over the swimming instruction of women and girls in two tanks from that date until the close of the park season Labor day.

In addition to the work as instructor in swimming, Miss Payne will train teams from both parks for an exhibition contest at the Labor day exercises. Her schedule will keep her at Peninsula park Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday all day, and Sunday morning each week. She will be at Selkirk Wednesday and Friday the entire day and Sunday afternoon each week.

Miss Payne brought the national diving championship to Portland for three consecutive years—1918, 1919 and 1920. In 1918 and 1919 she won both the outdoor and indoor diving championships of the Pacific northwest. She is a life member of Multnomah club and has won the club colors in practically all her important contests. Last year as a member of the victorious American team Miss Payne won fresh honors at the Olympic games. She placed third in the diving final.

LONG LIFE SECRET TOLD

PSYCHOLOGY, NOT MEDICINE,
SUGGESTED AS KEY.

New York Doctor Ridicules Biblical Goal to Live Three-Score
Years and Ten.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 27.—(Special.)—The secret of longevity, according to Dr. A. H. Warner of New York, lies in the secret of psychology, not medicine. He addressed the sessions of the annual medical associations of America today.

"Because the Bible says that a life shall be three-score years and ten, the people expect to die when they reach that age," he asserted.

"It's all wrong. They have just hypnotized themselves into the belief that life is a pound of flesh to be lived to a hundred. If life still looks good to me at that age, I think I shall continue right on the job for another half century."

"Given a sound constitution and a clear record, there is no reason why a man or woman should not reach 150 years of age," he said. "I intend to live to a hundred. If life still looks good to me at that age, I think I shall continue right on the job for another half century."

"It's simply a matter of psychology and good living," he said.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

Dr. Warner's lecture was part of a series of lectures on psychology and good living, given at the Atlantic City hotel.

BEAUVAIS IS TO TESTIFY

Several Other New Witnesses Also Expected From Canada to Refute Intimacy Charges.

Stillman Referee Bars All Doctor's Testimony.

NEW YORK, June 27.—(Special.)—Daniel J. Gleason, referee, who has been presiding at the Stillman divorce hearings, today granted the motion of counsel for Mrs. Anne U. Stillman to strike from the record all testimony given by Dr. Hugh L. Russell, Buffalo osteopath, relating to the legitimacy of baby Guy Stillman.

It was admitted today also that Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide, who was alleged by James A. Stillman to be the father of baby Guy, will be the principal witness on behalf of Mrs. Stillman. It is believed he is now in New York, as he has received a leave of absence from his employer in Montreal.

William J. Wallace, counsel for Mrs. Stillman, has returned from Canada, where he interviewed Beauvais and several other new witnesses who are expected to offset testimony concerning the alleged improper relations of Mrs. Stillman and Beauvais.

Notification Is Sent.
Official notification of the elimination of Dr. Russell's testimony was contained in a letter from Referee Gleason to John F. Brennan of Yonkers, chief counsel for Mrs. Stillman. The letter found by Mary Kelly, ex-maid, on a dressing table at the Stillman place at Pleasantville, N. Y., was also ordered stricken out.

The referee's letter reads: "The motion to strike out all testimony of Dr. Russell is granted. The motion to strike out exhibit 12, is granted. The motion to strike out envelope and letter, exhibits 10-A and 10-B, is held for further proof from the plaintiffs."

The objections taken as against the infant Guy as far as relates to non-access and plaintiff's conduct and actions toward the infant are overruled, but as to any declarations of intent to marry and non-access and Beauvais are sustained.

Elimination of the testimony given against her by Dr. Russell is regarded as a great victory for Mrs. Stillman. Mr. Brennan refused to comment on the letter of Referee Gleason. He admitted that there were parts of the referee's letter that appeared to him a trifle vague. He refused to say just what was vague, but his face was wreathed in smiles.

The referee's decision granting several motions made by Mr. Brennan will, it was believed here, leave the prosecution almost helpless in its main issue, that of proving that Mrs. Stillman is not the father of Guy.

Alleged Confession Barred.
Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

It was supposed to have contained evidence in the form of an admission concerning the parentage of Guy Stillman. The letter said it had been written by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais, who was referred to by Stillman's lawyers as "her Indian lover."

Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

It was supposed to have contained evidence in the form of an admission concerning the parentage of Guy Stillman. The letter said it had been written by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais, who was referred to by Stillman's lawyers as "her Indian lover."

Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

It was supposed to have contained evidence in the form of an admission concerning the parentage of Guy Stillman. The letter said it had been written by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais, who was referred to by Stillman's lawyers as "her Indian lover."

Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

It was supposed to have contained evidence in the form of an admission concerning the parentage of Guy Stillman. The letter said it had been written by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais, who was referred to by Stillman's lawyers as "her Indian lover."

Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

It was supposed to have contained evidence in the form of an admission concerning the parentage of Guy Stillman. The letter said it had been written by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais, who was referred to by Stillman's lawyers as "her Indian lover."

Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

It was supposed to have contained evidence in the form of an admission concerning the parentage of Guy Stillman. The letter said it had been written by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais, who was referred to by Stillman's lawyers as "her Indian lover."

Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

It was supposed to have contained evidence in the form of an admission concerning the parentage of Guy Stillman. The letter said it had been written by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais, who was referred to by Stillman's lawyers as "her Indian lover."

Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

It was supposed to have contained evidence in the form of an admission concerning the parentage of Guy Stillman. The letter said it had been written by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais, who was referred to by Stillman's lawyers as "her Indian lover."

Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

It was supposed to have contained evidence in the form of an admission concerning the parentage of Guy Stillman. The letter said it had been written by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais, who was referred to by Stillman's lawyers as "her Indian lover."

Dr. Russell's testimony, now stricken from the records, was that Mrs. Stillman had confessed to him that Stillman was not the father of her expected child. The father of the then unborn infant, according to Dr. Russell on the witness stand, was Fred Beauvais, the Indian guide.

The letter exhibit 12, which was also stricken from the record, was the document said to have been found by Mrs. Mary Kelly and turned over to her by her husband, Bernard Kelly. This letter was found by Mrs. Kelly, she said, on Mrs. Stillman's dressing table.

DEAD FIRE CHIEF HONORED

ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICES ARE HELD AT GRAVE.

City Officials and Friends of Late
David Campbell Pay Tribute to His Heroic Life.

Memorial services in honor of ex-Fire Chief David Campbell, who was killed June 26, 1911, in the performance of his duty, were held at the grave in Riverside cemetery yesterday afternoon. Friends and admirers of Chief Campbell, trustees of the David Campbell Memorial fund, and members of the city council were in attendance.

Dr. E. H. Pence, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, spoke in praise of Chief Campbell's life and the example of his heroic death. Acting Mayor Bigelow gave a short address on behalf of the trustees of the fund. Many flowers and floral pieces were placed upon the grave.

A life-size statue of Chief Campbell will be erected on a small triangular plot of ground at the intersection of Washington and Nineteenth streets, according to present plans of the trustees. The plot was donated to the fund by the city a few years ago. A. G. G. done, chairman of the board of trustees, left $1000 as a nucleus for the memorial through his will with the provision that it must be utilized in five years. Additional money is available from the memorial fund itself, but not enough to authorize the construction of a statue at present.

Chief Campbell lost his life in the Union Oil company fire, East Water and East Salmon streets, on June 26, 1911, after a record of about 20 years in the department.

INDEPENDENCE, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—Fire here destroyed three barns and several outbuildings last night. The fire originated in the harm of H. B. Fletcher, and had gained considerable headway before it was discovered.

An automobile, buggy, harnesses, farm tools, and a quantity of household goods were burned. The high wind carried the burning brands for some distance, setting fire to an other barn about two blocks away.

15 kinds of Broccoli Tested.
ROSEBURG, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—Fifteen varieties of broccoli were planted today by Professor A. G. Boquet of the Oregon Agricultural college, at the Ray C. Brown place, near this city, on an experimental plant which the college maintains to collect data on broccoli. Although the college has been experimenting with broccoli only a short time, much valuable information has been obtained particularly on seed selection.

ALBANY, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Lyon of Portland, who have owned a "big brother farm" for boys each summer on a tract they own near the Crowfoot schoolhouse, southeast of Lebanon, are preparing to open their farm for this season within a few days. It is the plan of Mr. and Mrs. Lyon to take to the farm Portland boys who would not get a vacation otherwise and have them stay in the country for several days enjoying various features of country life. They expect to have 80 boys at the farm this year in different contingents during the summer months.

Mr. Lyon formerly was a teacher in Linn county schools and later was connected with the work of the juvenile court in Portland.

HOLLIWAY TAKEN IN IDAHO
Escaped Convict Captured by Guard Sent From Prison.

SALEM, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—A telegram was received at the state penitentiary here today from Payette, Idaho, to the effect that Robert Gibson, special agent for the institution, had captured Lee Hollaway, who escaped from the prison on May 22. At the time Hollaway escaped he was employed as a teamster at the prison farm. George Evans, who escaped with Hollaway, was captured recently at Kemmerer, Wyo., and has been returned to prison.

Hollaway was received at the prison from Harney county for larceny of a horse. He is under a two-year sentence.

Read The Oregonian classified ads.

ROSEBURG, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—William H. Levine, prominent Elkton farmer, who was arrested Saturday charged with stabbing Herman Bayne, a neighbor, at a quarrel over a hay fork, was committed to the county jail today without bail. Following his arrest he was held in the city jail until he was granted this morning. After the examination of witnesses, Levine was ordered held for the grand jury and not including the cost of crabs, boxes and incidentals.

Cherries began their heavy run today. Unless relief is forthcoming at once growers predicted today that 25 per cent of the loganberry crop would be lost.

BERRY HARVEST NEAR END
Hood River Expects Average Price to Approximate $2.50 a Crate.

HOOD RIVER, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—The Hood River strawberry harvest will end the latter part of this week. A total of 30 carloads of fruit had been shipped up to last night. It is estimated that 10 additional cars will be harvested.

The marketing problem has been one of the biggest of the Columbia River valley growers have had to confront in many years.

The average will run close to $2.50 a crate. It is anticipated that the association has shipped approximately 50 tons of canning berries to Portland for 6 cents a pound.

The valley's cherry harvest has begun, the first carload, consisting of Royal Anna, having been routed last night. A total of about 10 carloads of cherries is expected.

Record Yield of Apples Forecast
in Douglas County.

ROSEBURG, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—The largest crop of apples ever produced in Douglas county is predicted by County Fruit Inspector Armstrong in a survey of the fruit conditions of the county. Prompt work on the part of the growers in combating diseases prevalent during the prolonged wet and cold weather is largely responsible for this condition, he said.

A large crop of prunes is reported, in the face of the fact that adverse weather conditions were experienced during the blooming season. Pears and cherries are light, while there are not enough peaches to supply the local demand. Mr. Armstrong urges more growers to produce small fruits and berries, particularly strawberries.

HEAVY CROPS PREDICTED
Record Yield of Apples Forecast
in Douglas County.

ROSEBURG, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—The largest crop of apples ever produced in Douglas county is predicted by County Fruit Inspector Armstrong in a survey of the fruit conditions of the county. Prompt work on the part of the growers in combating diseases prevalent during the prolonged wet and cold weather is largely responsible for this condition, he said.

A large crop of prunes is reported, in the face of the fact that adverse weather conditions were experienced during the blooming season. Pears and cherries are light, while there are not enough peaches to supply the local demand. Mr. Armstrong urges more growers to produce small fruits and berries, particularly strawberries.

Travelers' Cheques
The Best Funds for Travelers

Travelers using them are independent of banking hours, free from the annoyance of money exchange and protected from loss. Your counter-signature, written in the presence of the acceptor, automatically identifies and protects you.

Convert your vacation funds into Travelers' Cheques at this bank.

We Also Issue Travelers' Letters of Credit, Payable in All Parts of the World.

LADDE & TILTON BANK
Oldest in the Northwest
WASHINGTON AT THIRD

LABOR LOSSES BILLION, CAPITAL BILLION and Quarrier, Says Speaker.

Losses to labor and industry by reason of the seemingly irrepressible was characterized as cruel and wasteful, all without reasonable excuse, by Dr. World M. Tippy of New York, who spoke before the members' forum of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday on the topic "What the Churches Believe About Labor and Capital."

CONFLICT EXPRESSED IN STRIKES

He urged the day of the golden rule in industry and said the present friction would cease only when the two sides got together on a democratic basis in shop management and applied the principle of taking the other fellow's viewpoint for a time. He suggested the shop owner should be the one to take the first step to bring about the better condition of affairs.

Losses to labor during 1920, he said, because of strikes amounted to one billion dollars and to capital one and one-quarter billions. He said the strike was a blow, also, at morals, as well as sound economics because it destroyed the idea of brotherhood of man faster than the churches can build it up. Dr. Tippy gave his talk last night before the Central Labor council.

Clarence Cooper of the federal board of education for disabled soldiers, said it was proving difficult to obtain employment for men who had been rehabilitated and sent to the chamber members to give them positions wherever possible.

BONUS JOBS ATTRACTIVE
MORE THAN 50 APPLICATIONS RECEIVED IN SALEM.

Attorneys and Appraisers Seek Positions Created Under Legislative Act.

SALEM, Or., June 27.—(Special.)—More than 50 applications have been received by the secretary of state and other officials for positions as attorneys and appraisers in the various counties of Oregon under