

HOSPITAL PERMIT VOTED BY COUNCIL

Residents' Protests Defeated Unanimously.

DOCTORS PLAN CENTER

Work on Portland Medical Structure on Nineteenth Street Expected to Begin This Fall.

The permit for the erection of the new Portland Medical hospital on Nineteenth, between Kearney and Lovejoy streets was granted by unanimous vote of the city council yesterday. The vote was taken in crowded council chambers, following full presentation of both sides of the question.

E. R. MacNaughton of Strong & MacNaughton, architects, detailed the benefits that the hospital will bring, both in construction work throughout the winter months and as a hospital and medical center.

The doctors of the city directly interested in the hospital or associated with its backers are preparing to make the Nineteenth and Lovejoy site an office center for outside consultation and treatment, he announced.

Richard W. Montague, A. E. Winfree and William L. Brewster appeared as attorneys for the residents who are protesting against the hospital. They declared that to grant the permit was to allow a gradual encroachment on the residential districts.

The permit for the hospital was granted on condition that the building is located 20 feet back of the street line on Nineteenth street and ten feet back on the Lovejoy and Kearney street sides.

DEADMAN'S ROAD FINISHED

Through Traffic Over Stretch to Be Admitted by Sunday.

PENDLETON, Or., July 20.—(Special.)—The Hill-Deadman Pass road, a stretch of 12.5 miles on the Pendleton-La Grande road, was finished this morning, and through traffic over the stretch will be permitted Sunday.

The road, which is a part of the only highway admitting tourist travel into Oregon over the Columbia River highway, completes the road from Pendleton to Deadman's Pass, a distance of about 20 miles. The eight miles from Pendleton to the foot of Cabbage hill having been finished some time ago. The 20 miles are now graded, but will be paved when the state highway department carries out the plan.

Completion of this stretch leaves but 13 of the 53 miles between Pendleton and La Grande unaccounted for in the road program. Opening of this road marks the end of three years of road construction work, the total cost of which, including grading and surfacing, is approximately $401,000.

DANCE LICENSE RESTORED

PARTIES ON SWAN AFTER MID-NIGHT PROHIBITED.

Manager of Boat Agrees to Employ Special Deputy to Maintain Order on All Excursions.

An agreement reached yesterday between R. J. Belland, manager of the dance boat Swan, Chief of Police Jenkins and Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin, head of the women's protective division, resulted in restoring the dance license, which had been suspended by Mrs. Baldwin as a result of an alleged improper dancing party on the Swan early Sunday morning.

Mr. Belland agreed that he will hold no more dancing parties aboard his boat, and that he will employ a special deputy to maintain order on all his regular and special dancing parties, and that he will notify the dance inspector and Mrs. Baldwin in advance of all reservations made by organizations for special river parties.

This agreement to restore the license was reached as a result of an informal hearing conducted jointly by Mrs. Baldwin and Chief Jenkins yesterday, at which testimony concerning the alleged improper dance of last Sunday morning was submitted.

The hearing disclosed that most of the criticism had resulted from the actions of a married woman of mature years who had become badly intoxicated and who could not be managed. Her conduct was described as disgraceful by Mr. Belland and others aboard the Swan.

Mr. Belland said his boat had been chartered by an organization of musicians and theatrical persons for the Sunday morning dance, and that he did not have police supervision over the persons. He said he had made every effort to maintain order, but because of the lack of proper police authority could not take in charge the woman who made the disturbance.
