

DE VALERA CABINET CONSIDER PROPOSALS

Irish Leader Communicates With Lloyd George.

REBEL UNIONISTS PLAYED

Notice Served in House of Lords That Negotiations Promise to Last Many Weeks.

LONDON, July 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—A meeting of all available members of the Irish republican cabinet today gave further prolonged discussion to the British government's proposals relative to an Irish settlement, but apparently reached no decision.

A communication from Eamonn de Valera was reported to have reached the British premier, probably seeking further elucidation on some doubtful points in the proposals.

Another significant incident was the postponement by General Jan C. Smuts of his departure for South Africa until August 5, which was taken to imply the belief that his services as mediator again may be needed.

Slow Negotiations Forecast.

Even more interesting, however, was the speech of Lord Birkenhead, lord high chancellor, in the house of lords, intimating that the government anticipated that the negotiations might last for weeks and inviting the parliament and the country to have patience with the difficulties.

The lord chancellor probably had these unionists in mind when he added that in the event of an Irish settlement being reached and parliament refusing to accept it, the government would consider going to the country for its approval.

There is a growing belief in Dublin that De Valera was waiting for release of the remainder of the members of the Dail Eireann before taking a decisive step.

Four Legislatures Hinted.

The possibility that four legislatures may be established in Ireland—one each in the provinces of Ulster, Munster, Connaught and Leinster—under a central national parliament, was hinted at this morning by Skelton, which said:

"It need not be assumed, as is done in some quarters, that any indication there would be only two governing authorities under a federal Irish parliament. It has been almost overlooked that there are four great provinces in Ireland, each with an historical individuality."

CONFERENCE BASIS NOT FOUND

De Valera Cabinet Said to Await Communication From Ulster.

DUBLIN, July 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Eamonn de Valera, the Irish republican leader, and his colleagues have not yet found a basis for the proposed conference with the British government on the Irish question in London, but were continuing to search for a common ground on which the contending parties could meet, it was stated in a well-informed quarter here today.

JAPAN TO DISCUSS ARMS

"It has been brought to the knowledge of the Japanese government that the government of the United States is willing to proceed with exchanges of opinion regarding the agenda prior to the conference, and that it considers it advisable to adjust in that agenda the nature and scope of the Pacific and far eastern questions to be discussed at the conference. The Japanese government, on that understanding, are happy to be able to inform the American government that it is their intention gladly to accept an invitation for a conference which shall embrace discussion of the Pacific and far eastern questions."
