DE VALERA INSISTS ON INDEPENDENCE

Secession Right Disputed by Lloyd George.

Autonomy in Finance and Tax Offered by English.

British Proposal Would Give Erin Control of Postal Service and Home Defense.

LONDON, Aug. 14 .- (By the Assoclated Press.) - The correspondence between the British prime minister. Mr. Lloyd George, and Eamonn de Valera, Irish republican leader, made public by the British government tonight, shows that, while there is a deadlock on the question of independence for Ireland, the negotiations still are open. Great Britain offered Ireland complete autonomy in finance and taxa-tion, military forces for home defense. own police, and among other things, control of the Irish postal

In his reply to Mr. Lloyd George, seat of an automobile, Mr. De Valera argued for inde-pendence and offered to sumbit the Ulster questions to arbitration In his final letter Mr. Lloyd George denied Ireland's right to secession, refused foreign arbitration for Irish questions, and expressed the hope that Ireland would accept the British terms, which he declared were the best that could be offered.

British Urge Peace.

The British proposals, which were dated July 20, said:

"The British government is actuated by an earnest desire to end the unhappy divisions between Great Britain and Ireland, which have produced so many conflicts in the past and which have once more shattered the peace and well being of Ireland.
