Judge McCredie added another million to his price for the Portland ball club after yesterday's proceedings at the Vaughn-street park. The Beavers played like champions of the world, nothing less. They had the pep and they were hitting, and behind superlative pitching they just walked away with both games of the Sunday double-header from the pennant-chasing Suds, 5 to 3 and 4 to 1.

The largest baseball crowd in months saw the double victory. Most of them went home petrified by the Pennant Aspirations Crimped. These games not only halved the home series for the Beavers, but put an awful crimp into Seattle's pennant aspirations. Instead they dropped them both, and Kenworthy was blue as indigo. To make it 12 out of 15, as the iron duke figured on doing, the Suds must now win every one of the nine games to be played on the Seattle lot this week, beginning today. And that is a big order for any ball team to at-tempt, even against the Beavers.

In the first struggle Plummer hurled fine ball and the Beavers his behind him in the pinches. In the second big Ellison, the University of California kid, was even better than California kid, was even better than Piummer had been. The Suds got to him for only one run, that a homer by Adams.

Though other Seattle players hit the ball hard enough, the Beavers were performing miracles in the field. Once Grantham leaped about three feet into the air on the run and yanked down Kenworthy's terrific line smash with one paw. Hale on third gobbled up several hot grounders and Cox wound up the game with a thrilling one-handed stab of a liner against the fonce.

Incidentally, this game was played in the fast time of one hour and 15 minutes.

"The Boone team sent four representatives to the athletic meet held at Griffith John college. These men were entered in four events, the 400-yard dash, the 440-yard run and 220-yard low hurdles. In the trial heats for the 100 yards Boone placed a man so far it reads like an ordinary athietic meet at an American college. But note the names of the contestants:

"Thomas Ouyang and Wellington Wang each won his heat and Nelson Hang took second place in his. In the finals, which were run in 10 3-5 seconds, our man lost out by only about two feet, Wellington Fang taking second place and Thomas Ouyang third."

In the same issue of the bulletin is an account of the spring home meet at Boone, in which the following participated: 200-yard dash, A. Tsao; 440-yard run, Liu Li, A. Wong; 850-yard dash, W. Wu; 1-mile run, W. Wu, R. Hsiung, N. Ou; pole vault, John Liu, P. Tsen; broad jump, J. Tsen, A. Szteo, Fong Hitong."
