ARBUCKLE POLICE COURT TRIAL BEGUN

Condition of Miss Rappé's Body Described.

BLADDER FOUND RUPTURED

External Force Applied to Organ Blamed for Death.

WOMEN JAM COURTROOM

Banky Film Actor Listens Intently to Testimony, His Estranged Wife at His Side.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—The police court examination of Roscoe (Patsy) Arbuckle, which will determine whether the film comedian is to be bound over to the superior court for trial on a charge of the murder of Miss Virginia Rappé, began here today in a courtroom filled almost exclusively with women.

Women, some gray-haired and some with auburn tresses, were packed to points of vantage where they could see the defendant and the chair from where the witnesses spoke.

Three witnesses who saw Miss Rappé's body after her death on September 9, which it is charged resulted from injuries suffered at a drinking party four days before in Arbuckle's suite at the Hotel St. Francis, testified they observed bruises on her limbs and body.

Two of them, the surgeon who performed the post mortem examination and the autopsy surgeon, said death was from a ruptured bladder, caused, in their opinion, by external force.

Other Testimony Expected.
At tomorrow's session of Judge Eytan Lazarus' court it is expected there will be introduced testimony regarding incidents at the hotel party, where, according to the coroner's inquest, Miss Rappé was found moaning and screaming after having been alone in a room with Arbuckle.

District Attorney Brady said it had not yet been determined whether Al Smecher, Miss Rappé's manager, who is reported to have testified before the grand jury at Los Angeles that Arbuckle had made admissions regarding his treatment of Miss Rappé, would be called tomorrow or next.

The bulky film actor listened intently to today's testimony, his face bearing the same serious expression it has worn ever since his arrest nearly two weeks ago. Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle, his wife, from whom he had been separated for five years but who came here with New York Monday, sat at his side with her mother, Mrs. Flora Durfee.

Women Jam Corridors

Women jammed the corridors of the hall of justice for nearly two hours before the court session began, and a dozen six-foot policemen had their hands full keeping them away from the courtroom door. A group of men were gathered in a corner in the hope of being admitted to the court, but were rebuffed by the police. Women who could show no credentials for admission also were ordered to stand on the stairs, to allow movement in the corridor.

The women received the preference because Judge Lazarus' court is largely devoted to women's cases and delegations from the women's vigilance committee, from clubs and civic organizations packed the courtroom to its doors. A few men attached to other courts found refuge behind the steel bars of the prisoners' dock. Arbuckle himself sat at the attorneys' table.

All Present Warned

When Judge Lazarus called the court to order, he made a short statement: "I want to warn all of those present," he said, "that any demonstration either for or against the prisoner will be dealt with summarily. Any noise, shouting, stamping of the feet or other noise, in the nature of approval or disapproval of any action in this court, will be taken as contempt of this court and will be punished accordingly. The offender will be ejected from the room."

The comedian entered the court wearing a blue sack suit. His linen was white. A dark blue tie, with maroon stripes, was the only bit of color. His wife sat on his left. She wore a plain black skirt, dress, black hat and dark gray gloves. Only once or twice during the hearing did they converse.

Hand Clapped in Wit.
Arbuckle betrayed no emotions as the details of Miss Rappé's illness, death and subsequent discovering of the cause of death were unfolded. His seat was next to that of Assistant District Attorney U'Ren, who examined the witnesses for the defense.

Part of the time he sat with his arm on the brass railing back of U'Ren's chair. Part of the time his left hand was clasped by the gloved hands of his wife.

The star followed the interrogation of the witnesses with his eyes. His head would shift slightly and his eyes shift to U'Ren's face as he asked a question. Then he would turn his head and eyes on the witness as the latter testified.

MOST ACUTE STAGE IN BANKING PASSED

Gloomy Forebodings Held No Longer Justified.

Immediate Future Depends on Agricultural Development, Says Federal Reserve Head.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 22.—Gloomy forebodings of last winter with regard to the banking situation are no longer justified and can be dismissed, Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve board declared in an address tonight.

"The banking situation has greatly improved," he said, "and, although readjustment has not been completed, evidences are multiplying that have passed the most acute stage."

Governor Harding said that in the immediate future much would depend on agricultural developments and the manner in which this year's crops were marketed.

"With proper co-operation by merchants and bankers," he said, "those engaged in agriculture have opportunities and prospects which were not anticipated a few months ago and it is of vital importance that this co-operation be given."

Earthquake Hits City

East Side Shaken by Temblor at 11:20 A. M. Yesterday.

The nearest seismograph, according to Mr. Wells, is in the university at Spokane.

200 INDIANS IN PARADE

Regalia This Year Appears to Be More Brilliant Than Ever; Events Follow Fast.

Champions Enter Contests.

Several champions of other years entered the contests and the list of entries was the largest ever recorded. This afternoon's show was featured by the Indian parade. This is a daily event. More Indians are camped this autumn on the Umatilla than in previous years and the coloring in their headpieces and decorations is brighter than usual. More than 200 full bloods, dressed in full regalia, rode today.

Rain Wednesday put the track in excellent condition for the racing program and settled the summer's dust. The track was fast and the infield smooth and dustless.

Thousands of visitors are pouring into Pendleton for the Round-up. The advance sale of tickets has been larger than in years past, the association announces, and a record-breaking crowd is expected Saturday.

Yakima Canutt, holder of the best time in the steer-bulldogging contest, putting his animal on the ground in 27-5 seconds.

Mable Strickland won the initial heat of the cowgirl race. Wilkins Williams won today's steer-tying contest.

Happy Canyon, the frontier village which might life ebbs and flows during the Round-up, has been rejuvenated and many new decorations added. The dance floor has been enlarged and the gambling concessions have been placed under canvas, which adjoins the large frame buildings where the concessions have long been established. The crap game went broke last night, but the dealer obtained more paper bucks from his bankers.

The first heat of the cowboy relay race, run today, was won by Darrell Cannon. Time 4:06-5. Time of other riders: Bob Liehe, 4:09; Paul Landrum, 5:10. Roy Kivett went out.

State Band Provides Music.
Music for the Round-up is being provided by the Oregon State band of Eugene, the Pendleton Round-up band, the La Grande band and the Milton band. The bands are stationed in different sections of the grandstand and bleachers.

All available rooms in town were filled last night, but the committee on accommodations has long been taking care of visitors as being taken care of. More than 500 tents have been pitched at the automobile tourist grounds. The streets are free from concessions, but all available vacant property in the neighborhood of Happy Canyon has been leased for the week by stards and merry-go-rounds. No games of chance have been permitted to set up.

Extra peace officers are here from other towns and they are aiding the Pendleton police in corralling and driving out crooks. There has been but little drunkenness on the streets.

Darrell Cannon Wins Race.

The cowboys' pony race was won by Darrell Cannon. Billy Manders was second and Roy Kivett third. Time, 5:2-5.

"Jim" Roach, well known to Round-up visitors, drove his team of four to victory in the stage-coach race over Gilbert Minthorn. The race was one of the most spectacular events of each day's program. It was without accident this afternoon.

The crowd got its first thrill when the leading horse in the squaw race stumbled and fell and caught its head beneath the low guard railing, throwing its rider into the infield. Neither rider nor horse was seriously injured.

Cowgirl Race Is Held.

Mabel Strickland, riding one of the McCarthy-Landrum strings, took first place in the cowgirl relay race today. This is a three days' event. Time, 3:53-4-5. Lorena Trickey, riding one of the Irwin Walters string, took second place. Time, 4:00. Kitty Canutt, riding for McCarthy & Landrum, was third. Time, 4:12-3-5.
