WOMAN ALLEGING NON-SUPPORT DECLARED WEALTHY

Despite the fact that she had been struck on the farm her husband had died to her, with the result that she was worth $500,000 and had a monthly income of $10,000, Mrs. Regina M. Kaadt sought to have her husband arrested in Portland on a charge of non-support, testified Dr. P. S. Kaadt, who was awarded a decree of divorce by Circuit Judge Tucker yesterday. Cast-off clothing and old shoes replaced the expensive finery usually worn by Mrs. Kaadt when she appeared before the district attorney's office seeking her husband's arrest for failure to support her, said Dr. Kaadt. He had been separated from his wife since November, 1919. The reply of Mrs. Kaadt to the allegation of her husband in the divorce suit was that the oil farm was now in the name of a nephew and niece. The Kaadts were married in Waukegan, Ill., August 10, 1904. They lived in Clinton, Ia., for four years and then went to Oklahoma where Dr. Kaadt bought a 120-acre farm. He testified that he had to give up farming, one of the reasons being that his wife's sharp tongue made it virtually impossible to keep any help. Before coming to Oregon and separating from his wife, Dr. Kaadt said he had been in the oil business in Oklahoma. Discovery of oil on the farm caused it to leap in value to half a million dollars. It was claimed.

I purchased through you at the last auction sale lots 14 and 15 in block 65 Laurelhurst for $1000.00 each. Since that time I have disposed of 25 feet off of one of the lots for a consideration of $1000.00 and about two weeks ago had an offer of $4000.00 cash for the other lot and one half, which I refused. If I had taken that offer it would have given me a net profit of $3000.00 on a $2000.00 investment in a little better than nine months time. Kindly send me said booklet as soon as possible, as I am anxiously waiting for the coming auction. Yours respectfully, Walter H. Barry

SULPHUR CLEARS A PIMPLY SKIN. Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out. Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

INGROWN TOE NAIL. A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail that it cannot penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.
