SAILING SHIP CHARTERED

SCHOONER TO CARRY LUMBER ACROSS PACIFIC.

Levi W. Ostrander to Sail With Cargo for Japan - Another

Wind Jammer Coming.

Charter of the American schooner Levi W. Ostrander, 1501 tons net register, to carry a cargo of lumber and logs from Coon bay to Japan was announced yesterday by the Pacific Export Lumber company of this city. She will be the first vessel to load off-shore at the new port terminal of Marshfield and North Bend and will also be the first salling vessel in many years to take a cargo from this section of the Pacific coast to the orient.

The charter for the schooner was closed last Saturday and the vessel is already on her way to her loading berth. She left Winslow, Wash, Tuesday night in tow for Coos bay. Under the terms of the charter-party the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner a lump sum the Pacific Export Lumber company pays the schooner's owner and the vessel is a large to the canceling teach the dry of clock that morning and the work will be performed and the work will be performed and the w

MUCH TIMBER IS SALVAGED

Further Work on Canadian Exporter May Require Dynamite. SOUTH BEND, Wash., Oct. 5,-Special.)—Speculation is rife around Willapa harbor as to whether Captain J. C. Jensen will resort to dyna-mite in an attempt to salvage the inaccessible timbers stowed away in the So far Captain Jensen has succeeded in rescuing 500,000 feet of timber and most of the fittings from the hulk, which is stranded in Shoalwater bay, near the entrance to Wil-

It has been suggested that with a flood tide in good weather the hull could be dynamited in such a way that the remaining timber would be cast adrift. This could be picked up by small boats and towed to Tokeand, inside the harbor.

The wreck has been settling in the sand, and although the weather has been fair on the harbor lately, the sand, and although the weather has been fair on the harbor lately, the ship is so far out from shore and is so exposed that it is questionable whether more work can be done aboard her. The dynamite has been suggested as a last resort to salvage the 1,250,000 feet of Jap squares which remain in the hull.
