New Questions Laid Before Applicants for Jobs.

ONE IS SOMEWHAT TOUGH

What if You Wanted to Sell to Man With Jealous Wife and Saw Him With Chorus Girl?" Asked.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 .- (Special.)-A delicate problem in applied ethics being set before candidates for jobs in the establishment of Thomas A. Edison, according to a new set of questions attributed to Edison. This

This appears as No. 49 in the series of 41 questions an applicant for an Edison job has made public. The authenticity of the list could not be verified. Mrs. Thomas A. Edison said: "Every applicant who receives a set sworn on his honor not to divuige any part of it. Any applicant who violates this understanding commits an act of dishonor. There is nothing more to be said."

Mrs. Edison would not say whether the problem of the salesman, the manufacturer, the jealous wife and the chorus girl had appeared in any of her husband's questionnaires whereby he tests young men as to their fitness for certain kinds of work. The new list of questions as published here

Who Sell to Minors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 23.—
(Special.)—Judge McAtee Saturday joined hands with the police department and the board of education in attempting to break up the cigarette habit among high school students.

Charles Johnson, a shopkeeper of 775 Frederick street, which is near the John Servetch Street, which is hear the polytechnic school, was fined $25 by Judge McAtes on the charge of Policeman Sweeney that Johnson had sold eigarettes on October 18 to Leslie Hart, a polytechnic student, 16 years

"I'm going to try fines for a while,"
Judge McAtee said, when he found Johnson guilty. "If that falls to stop the selling of cigarettes to minors I shall then begin to inflict jall sen-shall then begin to inflict jall sentences."

The police were moved to take action by the school board, many complaints having been made that shop-keepers near the school were breaking the state law which prohibits the sale of tobacco to minors.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—
Some man, apparently without any official authority, has taken upon himself the burden of compiling a census of cats in Salem. A woman reported to the officers yesterday that a man visited her home, and upon being greeted at the door, pulled out a memorandum hook and asked the woman of the house how cats were on the present. cats were on the premises. "No cats here," said the woman as she closed the door in the stranger's face. seen determined by the officers.
