

PRICES FOR BOXING CONTESTS SLASHED

Portland and Milwaukie Commissions Make Cut.

REDUCTIONS ARE DRASTIC

Object of Move Is to Draw Better Crowds and Increase General Interest in Fistic Sport.

BY DICK SHARP.

The Portland and Milwaukie boxing commissions have announced drastic reductions in prices for seats at future exhibitions. The Portland commission's new scale will go into effect at tomorrow night's card at the Heilig theater. The ring-side seats, which heretofore have cost the bloods $3.50, will be $2.75. The entire lower floor, which has ranged from $2.50 to $2.75, will go at $2.25 a seat. The balcony, which has been $2.50, will be $1.95, while the gallery will, as usual, sell for $1. Prices include war tax.

The Milwaukie commission may go even further with its reductions and sell all ring-side seats at the standard price of $2.25 and all seats outside the wire netting at $1.15. It is expected that at these prices the arena will be packed. If definitely decided to put this scale into effect, the new prices will start at Milwaukie's November 2 card.

The Portland boxing commission looks for an excellent turnout tomorrow night. Captain Harry Hansen, matchmaker, has arranged one of the best-billed bills in some time.

Several Portland youngsters who aspire to main-event honors will have the opportunity to show. Johnny Trambitas, who tangles with Joe Harraban in the semi-final, and Niel Zimmerman, who boxes Freddie Williams in the six-round special, have the chance of their best to make a good showing.

Trambitas, if he fights his best, may knock over Harraban, but Zimmerman has a job cut out for him to defeat Williams. The Boston featherweight is a tough proposition for any boy. He is a master at inflicting and is liable to cause Niel a lot of trouble.

Willie St. Clair will box Monk Fowler in the main event tonight in Seattle. St. Clair knocked out a tough scrapper named Jordan in Seattle last week and established himself as a drawing card.

Billy Lang, a young Seattle feather who has fought all the boys at his weight in the Puget sound region, is working out at the Olympic gym. He is after a match with Dick Farley, Baby Blue or Mike De Pinto.

Sunshine McClure, a young Boise, light heavy, who fought at the old Rose City club, is back in Portland and working at the London club. McClure appears to be in good condition.

Jack Wagner, boxing instructor at the Armory Athletic association, arranged for Spokane yesterday with his three amateur battlers who fought at the Spokane Athletic club last Friday night. Marion Carson, the northwest lightweight champion, won his match and scored a big hit in Spokane. Gus Crabtree, 145-pounder, also came through a victory. Frank Sierka, a third member of the team, lost a decision to Walter Close.

ART RISSER LEADS IN TRAPS

Averages Just Released by American Traps Shooting Association.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Averages just released by the American trap-shooting association show Art Risser of Parla, Ill., to be the leader in singles shooting and E. F. Woodward of Houston, Tex., to be setting the pace in the doubles.

Risser has an average of 97.86, having broken 215 traps out of 219, while Woodward's mark is 91.77, he having broken 559 of his 610 pairs. The final figures for the 1921 season will be announced in January.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

When Mark A. Mayer, Doc Howe, John Lewis and several others of the boys walked to Oregon City for a magnum of wine that stood on the back bar at the Merchants Exchange saloon, and returned and found the bottle empty? ROSIE R.

When Bert Haney taught commercial law at Armstrong's business college? LAVIGNE.

When it was considered an impossibility for any amateur to win the title in the state to beat Ed Schiller's bunch from Portland? J. D. (Woodburn).

When the late Dr. George Kellogg had seven smallpox patients in his own residence and the best medical aids protested, but the doctor stood his ground, treated his patients and all made a splendid recovery? W. E. H.

When Mrs. Woodcock carried a red, white and blue umbrella, rode on the children's railway at the Oaks and boasted of the "royal" entertainment she had on her trip in the national capital in 1907? MISS W. W. S.

When Ben Thomas delivered the daily Oregonian at 50 cents per week? G.

When we had only one high school, and that occupied part of the old Park school, which stood where the Ladd school is now? Professor Warren, Miss Christina MacConnell, Miss Spaulding and Professor Henderson were the teachers. A. D. T.

When H. M. Hudson and Jim Barry were on the detective force? O. C.

When innocent trespassers on the grounds opposite the Washington-street entrance to the city park were met by a vituperative woman armed with a shotgun and told to "get out"? J. H. H.

When H. C. Bredon and his handsome team of blacks were to be seen daily on the streets of Portland? E. N. W.

When Freddy Gilmore was the leader of Portland society? J. J. J.

When Vin and Jim Cook lived on the southwest corner of First and A streets, and G. Reed crossed the street from them? LONG AGO.

Orpheum matinee today, 15-25-50-Ad.

NATIONAL FLY AND BAIT CASTING CHAMPION DIES AT HIS HOME IN CHICAGO.

C. J. McCarthy, who won the national all-around honors in the fly and bait casting tournament here in August, died Saturday in Chicago of heart failure.

CHAMPION CASTER DIES

HEART FAILURE TAKES C. J. MCCARTHY OF CHICAGO.

Veteran Will Be Remembered For His Great All-Around Work in Tournament Here.

C. J. McCarthy of the Chicago Fly and Bait Casting club, who will be remembered by Portland anglers for his wonderful work with the rod and reel in the international tournament here in August, at which he won the all-around honors, died at his home in Chicago Saturday, according to word received yesterday by Jack Herman, secretary of the Multnomah Anglers club. Heart failure was the cause. McCarthy, who was 46 years old, was a veteran of the casting game. He had been prominent in the sport for 15 years. No other one man has done as much for the scientific angling game as he. As far back as 1912 he began to be a prominent figure in the national casting tournaments.

His specialty was the distance fly and accuracy fly events and when he was at his best there wasn't another angler who could touch him in this department of the game. Wherever McCarthy attended a tournament he left his place on the platform and due to his unselfishness in coaching other casters in the fine points of the game.

Several northwest anglers owe their life showing in the national tournament here to the coaching of McCarthy, who was always willing to lift his place on the platform and lend a helping hand to some beginner in the game. McCarthy owned a fly and tackle shop in Chicago and specialized in making fine fishing tackle. Anglers from all over the country sent him for tackle to use in the tournaments. He spoke highly of the Oregon country after his visit here this summer and declared his intention of selling his business in Chicago and opening a shop in Portland. McCarthy was in poor health while here, but nevertheless managed again to walk off with the all-around championship for the third time. McCarthy first won the all-around title in 1914. In 1918 he regained the title and his work in the tournament here this summer again won for him the highest award in the casting game. National all-around champion in three of the eight years that he has contested in an achievement no other caster has ever attained and is a testimony to McCarthy's accuracy with rod and reel.

SAGE HENS ARE FOUND AGAIN

Bird Thought Almost Extinct Reappears in Semicoe Mountains.

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Oct. 24.—George M. Baker, chairman of the Klickitat county game commission, says that sage hens, which were formerly found in large numbers in the eastern portion of Klickitat county in what is known as the Horse Heaven section but of late years were thought to have become practically extinct, have appeared again in the Simcoe mountains near Bear Springs. The character of the country and the subsistence which nature affords for the birds in their new location is entirely different from their former haunts in the sage brush territory.

THESE Egyptians of 3,000 B. C. were just as proud of their modish headwear as well-dressed men of 1921 are of their Gordon hats—the new models are corking.

Advertisement for Gordon's Lower & Co. featuring a logo and address: 286 Washington Street.

FIVES START NEXT WEEK

B'NAL B'RITH HOOP ACTIVITIES TO GET UNDER WAY.

Three First-Rate Teams and Two of Lighter Caliber Likely to Be Put in Field.

Basketball activities at the B'nal B'rith club will start next week. Indications point to three first-rate teams and about two teams of lighter caliber. The call for the first team will be issued Monday night by Jack Routhledge, physical director of the club. The lineup of this squad is in doubt, but several members of last year's quintet probably will wear the colors of the club again this season.

The B'nal B'rith team that created the sensation of last season was the intermediates. Composed of players practically unknown, it went through the season with only two defeats. It averaged only 124 pounds, but held its own and defeated many heavier and more experienced teams.

The feature game of this season will be with the Multnomah club intermediates. The Multnomah boys won last year by two baskets in one of the best games of the season. Several of the best men of the B'nal B'rith squad will be missed this year, as Midget Holman, forward, Ted Gurlan, Duncan and Leo Seltzer, guards, cannot turn out. Clare Scallion, one of the best forwards in the city, will be back as captain, as also will Butler and Harris, both players of ability. Hal Kramer is manager.

The B'nal B'rith juniors will have a strong squad in their weight, as they will have the same lineup as in 1920. Blank, center, Nemiro and Vidgoff, forwards, Rosenberg and Gumbert will have to fight to make places on the quintet as many new boys will be out for this squad.

The Ramblers, an organization of the young business men of the club, will put a team in the field for the first time. Dave Mattin, who will manage the squad, is lining up material for a formidable team.

The Midgots, composed of boys weighing 100 pounds, will have a team again and are practicing twice a week.

CAR'S COURSE IS ERRATIC

Charles Montgomery Arrested, Accused of Driving While Drunk.

Charles Montgomery, 50, said to be a garage manager, was arrested by police last night at Broadway and Olman streets, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. The arrest was made upon complaint of a person who observed the uncertain course of the machine. Another person observed two alleged inebriates enter an automobile at Sixth and Couch streets. He notified police, who arrested E. E. Dale and Charles C. Sweet. They were charged with being drunk.

Harry R. Gross, 35, was apprehended at East Thirty-ninth street and Sandy boulevard while driving a car. A small quantity of liquor was found in the machine, according to police, who charged Gross with driving while intoxicated and with violating the prohibition laws. Mrs. Jessie Smith, 46, who was in the machine with Smith, was held on $100 bail, charged with violating the prohibition laws.

FOUNDER OF CULT DEAD

Woman Head of Science and Being Movement Dies in Wisconsin.

KENOSHA, Wis., Oct. 24.—Rev. Ursula Newell Gestefeld, the founder of "science and being movement," a lecturer and author, died Saturday at the home of her nurse, Mrs. Adeline Briggs.

Mrs. Gestefeld was born in Augusta, Me. She became a member of the coterie which gathered around Dr. Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science movement.

GOLDENDALE SECONDS WIN

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—The Goldendale high school second string football team defeated the Wasco high eleven at Wasco, Or., last Saturday, 54 to 9. The Goldendale high school mid-Columbia league football team was defeated at Hood River on Friday for the first time this season by a score of 23 to 7. Coach Dakin attributes the defeat to the fact that recruits in his line failed to stand up against the aggressive work of the Hood River team.

Dairy Company Formed

SALEM, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—The Eastern Oregon Dairy Products company, with a capital stock of $100,000, has been incorporated by C. D. Wright, P. M. Smith, B. L. Dillabaugh, T. E. Broyles and R. W. Wadmer. Headquarters will be in Boardman, Morrow county. The Metal

Cup is Offered Orators

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—A silver loving cup to be given to the winning class in inter-mural oratory, has been offered to the inter-class rivalry committee here this week. According to the terms of the donor, who is Miss Nina J. Harding, head of the public speaking department, any class taking the cup for two years in succes-

Girl Hoopers Practicing

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Oct. 24.—Workouts for the girls' basketball team of Goldendale high school have commenced in the high-school gymnasium. A physical examination is required of all girls desiring to play. A schedule of games is being arranged.

Orpheum matinee today, 15-25-50-Ad.

BOXING

HEILIG THEATER

ALL-STAR CARD
Frankie Abe FARREN—MISHKIND (10 rounds)

Johnny Joe TRAMBITAS—HANAHAN (6 rounds)

Freddie Niel WILLIAMS—ZIMMERMAN
2 4-ROUND PRELIMINARIES

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 26

SLAYERS TO DIE DEC. 2

Kirby and Rathie Again Are Sentenced to Hang.

PENDELTON, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—Elvis D. Kirby and John L. Rathie, convicted slayers of the late Sheriff Taylor of Umatilla county, today were sentenced for the second time to hang. Sentence was pronounced by Judge Gilbert W. Phelps of the circuit court. He set December 2 as the date of execution.

The court room was packed when the two men were taken before Judge Phelps at 10 o'clock. When sentence had been passed, guards from the state penitentiary took Kirby and Rathie to the city jail, where they were held until No. 17 arrived, when both men were taken to the station down a back street and placed aboard the opposite side of the train for the return trip to Salem. There was no demonstration on the part of the public.

When held at the city jail the two murderers were prisoners of "Jinks" Taylor, chief of police, a brother of the man whom Kirby and Rathie killed.

FOUNDER OF CULT DEAD

Woman Head of Science and Being Movement Dies in Wisconsin.

KENOSHA, Wis., Oct. 24.—Rev. Ursula Newell Gestefeld, the founder of "science and being movement," a lecturer and author, died Saturday at the home of her nurse, Mrs. Adeline Briggs.

Mrs. Gestefeld was born in Augusta, Me. She became a member of the coterie which gathered around Dr. Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science movement.

GOLDENDALE SECONDS WIN

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—The Goldendale high school second string football team defeated the Wasco high eleven at Wasco, Or., last Saturday, 54 to 9. The Goldendale high school mid-Columbia league football team was defeated at Hood River on Friday for the first time this season by a score of 23 to 7. Coach Dakin attributes the defeat to the fact that recruits in his line failed to stand up against the aggressive work of the Hood River team.

Dairy Company Formed

SALEM, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—The Eastern Oregon Dairy Products company, with a capital stock of $100,000, has been incorporated by C. D. Wright, P. M. Smith, B. L. Dillabaugh, T. E. Broyles and R. W. Wadmer. Headquarters will be in Boardman, Morrow county. The Metal

Cup is Offered Orators

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., Oct. 24.—(Special.)—A silver loving cup to be given to the winning class in inter-mural oratory, has been offered to the inter-class rivalry committee here this week. According to the terms of the donor, who is Miss Nina J. Harding, head of the public speaking department, any class taking the cup for two years in succes-

Girl Hoopers Practicing

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Oct. 24.—Workouts for the girls' basketball team of Goldendale high school have commenced in the high-school gymnasium. A physical examination is required of all girls desiring to play. A schedule of games is being arranged.

Advertisement for Weyenberg Shoes, featuring the text 'Shoes Made of Real Leather' and 'YOU know them by their name, Weyenberg Shoes for Service.' Includes an illustration of a boot and the Weyenberg logo.

Large advertisement for Red Crown Gasoline, featuring the text 'A continuous stream of power' and 'From the first turn of the motor until the end of the trip, Red Crown gasoline delivers steady, dependable power.' Includes an illustration of a car and the Red Crown logo.