

CAPELL PREFERS FIGHTING TO BATTLE

Battler to Meet Pickles Martin on Wednesday.

FIRST WORKOUT IS HELD

Two to Be Main Eventers in Ten-Round Bout at Armory; Jimmy Cole Steps Out.

BY DICK SHARP. The fighter who would rather fight than eat is Willie Capelli, Los Angeles pugilist, who battles Pickles Martin of San Francisco in the ten-round main event of Wednesday night's card at the armory. Willie doesn't have to eat, but he does just because he likes to dig in and swap wallop. He owns a hotel in San Pedro, Cal., is married, has a nice automobile, is guarded, has a nice home, and to top it all has plenty of money in the bank. He has been a busy fighter the last eight years and saved his money. Several fortunate investments availed the proceeds.

While stepped down to San Diego last Wednesday night and gave Chet Neff a terrific lacing in four rounds. He hoped to get up this morning, but he was so sore that he had to be carried to his hotel. He was in bed for three days, but he is now on his feet. He is expected to work at 3 o'clock. His sparring mates will be Johnny Trambias, Mike De Pinto, Cole and Lane. Pickles Martin is expected to arrive here today from San Francisco, accompanied by his manager, Jimmie Stevens. Martin is a former champion of the world, and he is now in the northwest at the present time. Pickles is one of the most sensational fighters developed in San Francisco and has a style of battling all his own.

Keep your eyes on this fellow Jimmy Cole, who boxes Frankie Britt in the special event. Cole paid his own carfare to Portland from Canada just to get a crack at Danny Edwards. He arrived here the same day that Danny left for Los Angeles. Of course Edwards didn't know that Jimmy was on his trail or he might have stayed over a week or two. At any rate, Cole yesterday opened up for the first time since he has been working out here. He showed some of class, Cole, in his bout, but he was boxing along very dry, going five or six rounds, and had sweat as an excellent boxer and fighter, but nothing sensational. However, he stepped out yesterday and he did some stopping. Frankie Britt is a toe-toe battler and knows nothing but fight. He gave Bud Ridley a tough argument and knocked out the Nanny Nunes out in a couple of rounds.

Sergeant Smith may box Billy Mike in Denver, November 17. Mike meets Tony Melchior of Chicago at Columbus, Neb., November 11.

Benny Leonard will pick up a little extra money in New Orleans, November 24, taking on K. O. Loughlin in a 15-round bout. Loughlin is just a fair waterweight.

George Carpenter will swing into action again early next month. At present George is scheduled to box George Cook, the Australian lightweight, in London, December 2, and is likely to go through with the match.

Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, will be a Portland visitor on Christmas. He is billed to play a week's engagement at a local vaudeville theater.

Freddie Anderson will box Charley Dawson ten rounds at Eugene next week. Dawson is boxing instructor at the University of Oregon. His home is Marshfield, Or.

Eddie Landon, young Oakland (Cal.) lightweight who has been coming to the front with rapid strides, is expected to be in the ring with Joe Herrera in Oakland last week. It is his first fight on one of Tommy Simpson's cards.

CASES IN WHEELER UP

Regular Term of Circuit Court Will Convene Today.

FOSSIL, Or. Nov. 6.—(Special).—The regular term of circuit court for Wheeler county will open in Fossil tomorrow. More interest is manifested than in any term of court for some time.

One of the cases which will be watched with much interest is that of Anne Henderson, a teacher in the School District No. 6, at Twickenham, for teacher's wages, under contract.

Another case is the condemnation proceedings in which Wheeler county has brought against Charles Busby to obtain the right of way for the John Day highway. A third case is a damage suit of J. Boyce vs. C. B. McQuinn and Archie Boyce.

The grand jury, consisting of C. D. Burgess, foreman; C. H. Knorwood, J. Devis, Charles Hicks, Fred Haged, W. A. Helms and William E. Reed, was in session yesterday.

EXPRESS CAR IS LOOTED

Burglars Work on Missouri, Kansas & Texas Train.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 6.—An express car on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas train No. 23, southbound from St. Louis to San Antonio, was robbed today, according to officials here.

When the train reached Denison, Texas, it was discovered that the car had been looted.

Though no member of the faculty or student will be able to make the trip, President Williams responded to an invitation to name delegates from the college by appointing Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Jones, graduates of the college in the class of 1914, as the Albany college representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are now living in Chicago, where the former is attending McCormick Theological seminary.

THE RIVOLI THEATRE

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES. Columbia-Pola Negri, "One Arabian Night." Rivoli-William S. Hart, "Three Women." Peoples-Ellis Ferguson, "Footlights." Maceo-Katherine MacDonald, "Her Social Value." Liberty-Anita Stewart, "The Invisible Fear." S. J. Lubin, "The Red Lantern." Hippodrome-Viola Dana, "The March Breaker." Circle-Louis Weber's "The Blot."

KATHERINE MACDONALD is the star of "Her Social Value" now at the Majestic. She is in practically every scene and this picture will be a great delight to her many admirers. The story itself is rather improbable and its dramatic moments seem forced, but the interest is none the less in the fact that MacDonald plays Marian Hoyte, a salesgirl at a glove counter, who falls in love with James Lodge, a young architect. They have never met at the glove counter, but the architect has saved the girl from being accused of stealing. Such a meeting rarely leads to anything in real life, but in motion pictures, much can develop, according to the needs of the story.

In this case, the architect falls in love with Marian and they are married. When his set discovers that he has married a woman who is not a friend, they are determined to get rid of her. She is snubbed and slighted. Then she discovers that her husband is losing all his old friends, because of her, and that he has lost his big business. She is determined to help him get it back. She is introduced to form the center of interest for a time. There is a villain, a meeting place for a new terminal, and a friend and who almost succeeds in setting the plane away from Marian. It is probably not the custom of rival architects to steal plans from one another in such a manner, but in the picture Marian's struggle with the villain gives Miss MacDonald a chance to show her acting talents.

SHIP CLAIMS TO COME UP

SEATTLE EMERGENCY FLEET OFFICIAL CALLED.

H. M. Sheerer Instructed to Go to Washington, D. C., to Help Make Settlement.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 6.—(Special).—H. M. Sheerer of the corporation's claims section in the northwest district was instructed by the home office yesterday to proceed to Washington, D. C., to assist in making a settlement of the claims of the Washington and Oregon shipbuilders against the emergency fleet corporation. He will leave for the national capital at the end of the week. The claims arose out of the cancellation of shipbuilding contracts by the government after the return of peace. The total for Washington and Oregon has not been officially given out, but according to company reports, the shipbuilders claim losses close to $40,000,000. Colonel Joseph Fairbanks, a noted expert in claims against the government, is in charge of the shipbuilding claims in Washington, D. C.

"I hope to be of assistance in getting a speedy settlement of the Washington and Oregon claims," said Mr. Sheerer. "The claims cover both steel and wood ship cancellations in the northwest, and are being taken up by the new commission appointed by President Harding for that purpose." Mr. Sheerer joined the fleet corporation in the Seattle district in August, 1917, as plant engineer, and has been in the claims section since March, 1920. As head of the claims section the entire entire government shipbuilding in Washington and Oregon, he is thoroughly familiar with all the details of construction and other problems in the two states. He is one of the few men who served in the fleet corporation during the war and who have remained with it ever since.

BRITISH STEAMER QUEEN MARGARET GETS AWAY

British Steamer Queen Margaret Gets Away.

3 MORE VESSELS BOOKED

Erivken, Hokkai Maru and Pilar de Larrinaga en Route to Portland for Grain.

A cargo of wheat for Barcelona was taken out on the British steamer Queen Margaret, which dropped down the river yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock. The Queen Margaret was preceded by a few hours by the British steamer Norman Monarch, which got away for the United Kingdom with wheat, leaving Astoria Saturday night.

The large number of grain ships dispatched during the past few weeks from Portland has resulted in cutting down the en route schedule of grain tonnage to but three vessels. These include the Norwegian steamer Erivken, en route here from Danzig; the Japanese steamer Hokkai Maru, which is coming from Swansea, and the British steamer Pilar de Larrinaga, which is coming from Southampton. The first two of the vessels are to be furnished cargo by the Portland Flouring mills and the last by Rosecrans.

New Bookings Expected. It is expected that other vessels will be booked for grain loading here. There is still considerable grain to be loaded on the Pacific coast. The difficulties around the Greek steamer Ioloo, which resulted in a near mutiny among the crew, are expected to be settled so that the vessel, which is now loading grain at the North Bank dock, will be able to get away on schedule early this week. Some of the sailors became dissatisfied with the pay they were receiving and refused to continue to work unless their wages were raised. The difficulties were accentuated by the fact that not all the members of the crew were eligible to land in this country and the immigration authorities had to be consulted. It was finally decided, however, to let them land on condition that they ship out on the first vessel which will take them. The places being filled by local Greeks willing to work for the wages offered.

Japanese Vessel Here. Arrivals yesterday included the Japanese steamer Tsurushima Maru, which got in from Kobe with a general cargo of oriental goods. This is the first of a long line of Japanese vessels which will touch at this port during the month. On the en route list of vessels at the Merchant's Wharf, the majority of which will reach this port in November, the majority of them are operating in the trade between the Pacific coast ports of this country and the orient, although others are doing a general tramp business and one is in the grain trade.

Of the Chinese who bolted Saturday from the Japanese steamer Uralian Maru, 11 are still held in custody by the immigration authorities. They will be returned to the ship when she sails from Portland unless the officials are convinced of their sincerity to prevent further outbreaks and escapes. No court action will be taken unless the ship's owners desire to prosecute the men for mutiny.

Afraid to Smile

Many a woman dare not unmask her smile lest others learn the secret she shares only with her mirror.

Her teeth, once so firm and white and beautiful, are paying the penalty of her own neglect. Pyorrhea, the thief of beauty, is at its work.

Watch your gums! They flash the first sign of warning when Pyorrhea threatens.

If your gums are tender and sore, if they bleed easily when brushed, beware! That is how Pyorrhea starts.

If neglected, Pyorrhea may do its worst. It loosens teeth until they drop out or must be pulled. Its germs seep throughout the system, often causing serious ills and disorders of the body.

At the first hint of trouble see your dentist. Then buy a tube of Forhan's For the Gums and use regularly.

Forhan's For the Gums is the scientific formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S. It will not only check the progress of Pyorrhea, if used in time, but it will prevent the start of this disease.

Use it as a dentifrice whether you have Pyorrhea or not. It keeps the teeth white and clean, the gums firm and healthy. Start using it today.

Brush Your Teeth With Forhan's—How to Use It. Use it twice daily, year in and year out. Wet your brush in cold water, place a half-inch of the refreshing, healing paste on it, then brush your teeth up and down. Use a rolling motion to clean the crevices. Brush the grinding and back surfaces of the teeth. Massage your gums with your Forhan-coated brush—gently at first until the gums harden, then more vigorously. If the gums are very tender, massage with the finger, instead of the brush. If gum shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.
