

COUNCIL BARS CUPID FROM DANCEHALLS

Theater Marriages Included in New City Ordinance.

PENALTY IS MADE SEVERE

Commissioners to Probe Ringler Case With View to Revoking Amusement License.

Marriage ceremonies no longer can be staged in any public dance hall or theater licensed by the city of Portland, the council yesterday having passed an ordinance by unanimous vote providing a maximum penalty of $200 fine and ten days' imprisonment for any person participating in such ceremony.

The ordinance was presented to the council by Mrs. Lois G. Baldwin, superintendent of the women's protective division of the police department, who was supported by the presence of 15 or 20 clubwomen in the council chambers.

License May Be Revoked.
With the passage of this ordinance also came an announcement that M. Ringler, proprietor of the Broadway dance hall, would be cited to appear before the council to show cause why his license for this and other dance establishments, be operated in Portland should not be revoked.

It was a recent marriage ceremony staged in the Broadway dance hall that resulted in the passage of the ordinance. In addition, a report covering various alleged infractions of the law by Mr. Ringler, covering a period of two years, was submitted to Mayor Baker, who announced that he would send the report to the council for its consideration.

Evasion of Law Charged.
"Mr. Ringler has gone too far in his attempt to evade the law," declared Mayor Baker. "He has been attempting to do things to get business that have been against the best public policy and he certainly is in bad with the present city administration. I would advise his attorney to inform him to this effect."

City Commissioner Barber stated that he favored the cancellation of Mr. Ringler's license if the allegations brought against him prove to be true.

"I have read from time to time newspaper accounts of arrests of Mr. Ringler in connection with violations of the law in his dance halls," said Commissioner Barber. "I am having license from the city of Portland fall to obey the laws. I feel they should be brought into this council and their license be revoked."

Safety of Youth Jeopardized.
"We are constantly revoking licenses of men who are selling liquor to adults, but here is a case where the safety of our children is concerned. I think it is more important that we clean up a place like this than some bootlegger's den. And in a case of this kind I don't care how much money this man has invested in his establishments. The safety of the morals of our growing children is worth more than money, in my estimation."

Mrs. Baldwin has complained to the council that Mr. Ringler has refused to co-operate with her department in the conduct of his dances and has constantly overstepped his bounds.

Fire Marshal Complains.
Fire Marshal Grenfell has also complained that Mr. Ringler locked doors on the Broadway dance hall to avoid the necessity of having a doorkeeper on the door after the crowds were in the building, and that inspectors from his office had been assured that this practice would be stopped after the attention of Mr. Ringler had been called to this violation. However, the fire marshal states that within a few days after this promise had been given to his department his inspectors again found the doors locked in direct violation of the fire ordinance.

Record to Be Presented.
It is understood that a complete list of arrests, convictions, as well as incidents where the city ordinance was not obeyed, will be presented to the city council as a support of the contention of the women's protective division that the license of this establishment should be revoked.
